ADLAI'S CONFIDENCE MOUNTS

Twisters Damage Farms; State Storms Continue

. . . Sutton, Wayne And Odell Areas Are Struck By Storms

High winds, hail and rain gave some eastern, central and southern Nebraska areas a good working over Wednesday — allowing the state no holiday respite from its recent rash of storms.

High winds, described by some as a small tornado, hit in Clay County, south of Sutton, and damaged buildings on four farms in the area.

Meanwhile, two new tornadoes which occurred late on Memorial Day eve were revealed in weather reports. Those were in the Wayne-Wakefield-Winside area in northeast Nebraska and near Odell, in the southwest corner of Gage County.

There were no injuries reported from any of the storms.

Clay County Farmer Lawrence Rath said the storm that hit his area late Wednesday afternoon was a twister. "Nobody saw any funnel," he said, "because we were all too busy mopping up the rain."

"But if it wasn't a tornado, it was a mighty high wind," he added.

The storm brought 2 to 3 inches of moisture from the rain and hail and caused flooding conditions locally. The roads in the area were water-swept, but after the storm the water began to drain.

Damage resulting from the storm included heavy crop injury at a few localized points.

Barn Destroyed

The worst damage was felt at the Bill Sheridan farm 2 miles east and one-half mile south of Sutton. There a large barn was destroyed and parts of it were thrown against the house, occupied at the time only by Mrs. Sheridan. Smaller buildings were damaged.

Three graneries on the Philip Johnson farm were casualties of the storm and a barn, hog shed and other small buildings on the Floyd Schmer farm were damaged.

Rath's farm also had lighter damage, he said. Three miles to the east hail fell so heavily that it remained a "foot deep" five hours after the storm, according to the farmer.

It was there that crops were damaged badly, Rath added.

The storm hit between 4:30 and 5 p.m.

Rain And Hail

In the next county south, Nuckolls, Nelson got .10 of an inch of moisture from a high wind and hailstorm.

Other points reporting rain Wednesday included Fairbury, where the precipitation was measured at .62. Norfolk had .35; Edgar .35, Omaha .26, Chadron .17, Hebron .12, Sidney .07, Beatrice and Lincoln Air Force Base reported a trace.

Extreme southwestern Nebraska was on the edge of a severe weather belt Wednesday night.

Scattered thunderstorms, said the Weather Bureau, were expected to develop in New Mexico and Colorado and then spread eastward during the night.

The edge of the danger area where "a few tornadoes" were termed "possible" was at Phillipsburg, Kan., about 20 miles south of Harlan County, Neb. The warning was to end at midnight. Numerous tornadoes were reported in Kansas, weathermen said.

A small twister in the Wayne area late Tuesday night damaged three farms.

On the farm of Don Lutt, five miles southeast of Wayne, the tornado damaged three buildings and killed a steer. The farms of Vern Carlson, 5½ miles south of Wakefield, and Ed Leonard, a neighbor of Carlson, also were hit with small buildings damaged.

A small tornado was reported to have hit a half dozen farms in the area north and west of Odell about 8:30 p.m. Tuesday. Odell is in the southwest corner of Gage County, 19 miles from Beatrice.

Some rural residents of the area said they had seen the funnel of the twister before it reached the ground.

Heaviest damage was at the Martin Klaus farm, two miles north and one half mile west of Odell. A barn and other outbuildings were damaged considerably and a chimney taken off the house. Torn electrical wires in the barn were believed to have been the cause of a fire which brought out the Odell Fire Department, according to Clair Callan of Odell.

Other farms damaged included the H. M. Sapp farm, two miles north and five miles west of Odell, fences and a windmill; the Jack Armstrong farm, five miles west and two north, outbuildings and a barn; the Frances Masek farm, two miles north and two and a half miles west, barn and outbuildings.

Little Hail

There was little hail reported, and rain measured from one half to three inches. No reports of heavy crop damage were made, although some corn and wheat fields were washed out.

In Odell, residents reported high winds, but damage was confined to trees and television antennaes.

For Thursday, partly cloudy skies were predicted with cooler weather expected in the east and central portions during the day. The cooler temperatures were to spread by Thursday night.

'So Busy We Hardly Knew Tornado Hit,' Says Farmer

Lincoln Star Special

WAYNE, Neb. — "We were so busy mopping up where rain was coming into the house we barely knew a tornado hit the farm."

That was what Don Lutt, who farms near Wayne, said after a twister crashed into his place, destroying three buildings and killing a steer.

"We weren't in any storm cellar," he said, "but I guess we should have been."

3 Inches of Rain

Lutt told of heavy hail, about "marble-sized," and said the rain measured over three inches in less than an hour.

The storm srtuck late Tuesday night.

He estimated that 30 to 40 per cent of the crops in the Wayne-Wakefield-Winside area, hardest hit by the storm, were severely damaged.

"Some alfalfa looked like it had been mowed," he said. Flattened or washed-out fences also added to the damage.

The twister also damaged the farms of Vern Carlson, five and one-half miles south of Wakefield, and that of Carlson's neighbor, Ed Leonard. Both places had small buildings damaged.

Small Town's Holiday Spent Cleaning Up

The little central Nebraska town of Anselmo spent Memorial Day starting cleanup operations after a Tuesday flood.

There was still water running through the business section of the town Wednesday, according to High School Principal Bill Gallagher, but water was gradually running out of the town through ditches dug Tuesday and Tuesday night.

The town was flooded Tuesday morning by water that ran off table land to the southwest, where rains measured up to eight inches.

Dikes, Ditches

"Dikes were put up in the downtown area to keep water from going into stores," he said, "and ditches were dug with bulldozers to get the water out of town."

He said many farmers southwest of Anselmo were flooded out and would have to replant.

T. A. Filipi, director of the Division of Sanitation with the State Health Department, said that Anselmo's city water supply was safe again, following flooding of the well.

Residents were warned not to drink any water until clorinators could be set up, Filipi said. However, he said the water was safe by Wednesday morning.

"There was still 12 to 18 inches of water on main street when I left," he said, "and there was 18 inches of flood water in the pump houses."

He said that there was not a house in town that wasn't flooded to some extent.

U.S. Pilot Rides Red Jet Liner

MOSCOW (INS) — Gari Ketcham, commercial airline pilot from Clifton, N.J., Wednesday became the first American to fly in Russia's new TU-104 jet airliner.

The 27-year-old Air Force veteran spent an hour aboard the sleek jet, including 30 minutes in the air traffic pattern over Moscow's Vnukovo Airport.

The chief pilot of Aeroflot — the Russian state airline—was at the controls. He was taking another Soviet airline pilot through a check flight, including two landing approaches.

Ketcham, who flies a TWA Constellation between New York and Paris, told International News Service that the TU-104 "seems like a very good aircraft to me." He added:

"I had a chance to stand between the captain and the co-pilot while flying in the traffic pattern and on the downwind leg of the approach.

'Smoothly'

"It looked to me like a comfortable plane to fly—from the pilot's point of view—and it seemed to handle very smoothly."

Ketcham reported a minimum of vibration and a noise level "considerably lower" than propeller-driven airliners.

It was the first time Ketcham had been up in any kind of jet. He was accompanied by Aeroflot Capt. Boris Bugaev, airline veteran who has been assigned to show Ketcham around during his two week visit to the Soviet Union.

Ketcham has a date with Bugaev Thursday to visit the Russian pilot's home and meet his wife and ten-year-old daughter.

Ketcham has invited Bugaev and his family to visit him and see how airline pilots operate in the U.S.

Ketcham said Bugaev seemed eager to make the trip to the U.S., but no date has been set.

U.S. Navy Said Deployed On World-Wide Pattern

Admiral Cites Ability To Deter Fringe Wars And Aggression

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — A high-placed naval officer said Wednesday the U.S. Navy now is "deployed on a world-wide pattern" to help "deter fringe wars and aggression by its unprovocative presence in trouble areas."

Speaking before 350 members of the Aviation Writers Association at the organization's San Francisco convention, Rear Adm. William A. Schoech, assistant chief for research and development of the Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics, declared:

"We have to be ready for the localized 'little' war, and we have to be ready for the general war."

In his analysis of the Navy's "global development," the Pentagon admiral explained:

"The tremendous power of the Seventh Fleet in the Far East, and the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean are examples of this.

"Should overseas land bases be lost through political or more overt means, these fleets have to fill the gap."

Seaway Control

Schoech said the Navy fleets would provide the key to the protection of United States "land bases and stockpiles of materials" overseas through "control of the seaways, the Navy's traditional role."

"The same powerful striking capabilities," the admiral said, "that make the Navy a deterrent also make it a retaliation instrument to be reckoned with should the opening fireworks be aimed at the continental United States.

"It is this striking capability that is giving rise to new strategic theories involving nuclear armed mobile forces outside the United States on the high seas, and involving use of the Navy to the hilt.

"For if an enemy decides to start a war with an all-out thermonuclear attack upon the United States, the advantages of our striking forces outside the U.S. are coming into sharper focus every day."

Consumers Bows To New Co-Op For Best Lexington Financing

Consumers Public Power District Wednesday said it was conditionally prepared to step aside and permit the Northeast Nebraska Generation and Transmission Cooperative to complete the construction of Nebraska's 100,000 kv generating plant at Lexington in the event Central Power and Irrigation District is unable to arrange satisfactory financing.

In a letter to Central, Ray Schacht, manager of Consumers, said his district "feels that if the newly organized co-operative can obtain two per cent REA money for the construction of the steam plant . . . and your district cannot secure the same arrangement from the REA then the new group should properly build the plant."

But Consumers added that the co-operative should be prepared to take over construction by July 1.

Consumers agreed to backstop Central's plant project sixty days ago prior to Central's firming up of construction and equipment orders, given before it had final favorable word from the Rural Electrification Administration on its $17 million loan application.

The application is being processed in Washington, but the REA recently said it would not make the loan decision until pending Nebraska Supreme Court litigation involving the state's power districts had terminated.

REA Pledges

Early this week, 18 Nebraska REA's went to Central aid pledging a portion of their $1,200,000 in reserves in short term loans to permit Central to continue through the summer with plant construction.

The REA's acted to expedite the completion of added generation capacity for Nebraska prior to 1958, the year of forecasted power shortage.

Meantime, northeast Nebraska REA groups announced intention to form a co-operative for the construction of generation capacity and expressed criticism of Consumers emergence as a power generation agency should it be required to take over construction at Lexington.

In offering to step aside Consumers said "there apparently is concern among some rurals" that our offer to complete the Lexington plant, "would adversely affect their districts."

Consumers added that its takeover offer was made in the interests of developing low cost power for Nebraska by using the best credit available to finance the new construction.

Schacht said, "We have no information regarding the G and T Co-operative other than that generally appearing in the newspapers, so we are unfamiliar with what legal and contractual problems they may face."

Edward J. Jacobus, Ex-Lincolnite, Dies

OMAHA (AP)—Edward J. Jacobus, 58, Omaha, died Wednesday.

He retired in 1952 as an official of the Refinite Corp., at Ralston and previously had been a branch manager for the Crane Co., at Lincoln.

His widow and a daughter, Mrs. Max R. Bluntschli, Toms River, N.J., survive. Funeral services will be held Friday morning with burial in an Omaha cemetery.

Missing Navy Jet, Dead Pilot Found

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — The wreckage of an F9F6 Cougar Navy jet fighter missing since early Tuesday was found Wednesday in a cornfield in northwestern Illinois, south of Muscatine, Iowa.

Parts of the pilot's body were found in the wreckage which was lodged in a hole about 15 feet deep and nearly 30 feet wide.

A search was started Tuesday after the pilot, Charles Eichenberg, 32, of Irwin, Pa., was reported missing in a flight from Columbus, Ohio to Olathe Naval Air Station in Kansas.

Harold Herfst, a farmer, discovered the plane in a cornfield south of Muscatine. He said he heard a jet go over during a severe thunderstorm Tuesday but did not hear any crash.

Herfst and his two children came across the wreckage during a horseback ride Wednesday.

Rides Rising Tide

Next Big Test Tuesday In California

By JACK BELL

EN ROUTE WITH STEVENSON IN CALIFORNIA (AP) — Beaming Adlai E. Stevenson surged through California's northern coastal valleys Wednesday with new-found confidence that he is riding a rising tide in his drive for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Stevenson built up fresh campaign zest on the strength of what be called "a great victory" over Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee in Tuesday's Florida Democratic primary."

Stevenson

In a narrow margin finish there, Stevenson won 22 of Florida's 28 convention votes. He seemed to have put Kefauver on the ropes in their dramatic battle for top place in contention for the party nomination.

No Blows Barred

If Kefauver was down, Stevenson made it clear he expects his rival to stage a desperate, no-blows-barred rally for California's critical 68 nominating votes in next Tuesday's winner-take-all primary.

Stevenson, who previously has complained about what he called Kefauver's "personal attacks" on him in Florida, revived that issue in his swing through Napa and Sonoma Valleys Wednesday.

Stevenson told a Memorial Day crowd of about 600 veterans and townspeople at the State Veterans Hospital in Yountville that by contrast he had tried to "talk sense" to the voters.

Personalities Avoided

"I tried to avoid personalities and abuse," he said. "And in the light of what happened in Florida I think that is the kind of campaign for the presidency that the people want."

This seemed to provide Stevenson's own answer to those in his camp who have been imploring him to sail into Kefauver and his record in the windup of a campaign in which the decision may be influenced by the candidates' stand on civil rights and old age pension issues.

Dropping the door-to-door handshaking role he had assayed in an effort to offset Kefauver's famed vote - for - me tactics, Stevenson swung back into the type of motorcade campaigning he employed in his unsuccessful race with President Eisenhower in 1952.

Possibly because of the headlines and newscasts telling of his Florida victory, Stevenson drew a surprise crowd of about 500 persons for an appearance on the court house steps at Napa.

ESTES STILL HOPEFUL

By The Associated Press

Adlai Stevenson supporters welcomed his slim victory over Sen. Estes Kefauver in Florida and talked of wrapping up the Democratic presidential nomination with another win in California next Tuesday.

On the other hand, the hard - campaigning senator from Tennessee took the stand that he can win in California and thus pick up the impetus needed to land the nomination for himself.

California's is the last direct primary battle for the two, and the winner will pick up 68 votes in the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in August. That will be the next to the largest bloc, exceeded only by New York's 96 which are largely lined up for Gov. Averell Harriman.

One thing seemed certain: There will be more interest in the California race than the voters showed in Florida. In some Florida precincts more votes were cast for county commissioners than there were in the presidential preference primary.

Six for Kefauver

They divided the state's national convention votes with 22 for Stevenson and six for Kefauver.

Stevenson also was credited with 3½ new votes in Alabama, as a result of supplemental delegate picking on Tuesday.

Road Deaths Mount

Near 110 Expected To Die On U.S. Highways

By The Associated Press

Highway deaths throughout the nation mounted—but at a somewhat slower rate than expected—as the Memorial Day holiday ended.

The National Safety Council said in a guarded statement there might be a "good chance" the toll for the one-day holiday would fall below the 110 traffic fatalities it had predicted.

The normal figure for a non-holiday Wednesday at this time of year is 70.

As the holiday closed, 56 lives had been lost in automobile accidents. There were 7 drownings and 11 deaths from miscellaneous causes for an over-all accident total of 74.

Last year the Memorial Day holiday fell on a weekend and 369 persons were killed in traffic accidents over the three-day period. Total accidental deaths that holiday numbered 596.

Totaled 81

Since World War II there has been only one other one-day Memorial Day holiday. That was in 1951 and traffic deaths totaled 81.

The National Safety Council estimated the traffic toll of 110 for the 30-hour period but expressed hope the toll could be kept down to a normal Wednesday level.

Deaths along the nation's highways have mounted for 14 months in a row.

The Associated Press made a nationwide survey of violent deaths May 16. There were 70 traffic deaths, 8 drownings and 33 deaths from miscellaneous causes for a total of 111.

The record traffic death rate for any one - day holiday was set Christmas, 1946. On that day 253 were killed on the highways.

Terrorists' Bomb Kills 2, Injures 20 British On Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — A terrorist bomb Wednesday spread death and injury among British soldiers preparing to celebrate the Queen's birthday.

Two British soldiers were killed and 20 were wounded, 12 seriously, outside Famagusta, east coast trouble spot.

The British soldiers were jammed into a truck returning to their "Golden Sands" holiday camp on the beaches outside of Famagusta. The bomb landed in the middle of them.

Rehearsed Parade

The soldiers had just rehearsed a parade in honor of the official birthday of Queen Elizabeth II, which is Thursday.

British authorities blamed the bombing on EOKA, the Greek Cypriot underground organization demanding union of Cyprus with Greece.

Seaway Control

Schoech said the Navy fleets would provide the key to the protection of United States "land bases and stockpiles of materials" overseas through "control of the seaways, the Navy's traditional role."

"The same powerful striking capabilities," the admiral said, "that make the Navy a deterrent also make it a retaliation instrument to be reckoned with should the opening fireworks be aimed at the continental United States.

"It is this striking capability that is giving rise to new strategic theories involving nuclear armed mobile forces outside the United States on the high seas, and involving use of the Navy to the hilt.

"For if an enemy decides to start a war with an all-out thermonuclear attack upon the United States, the advantages of our striking forces outside the U.S. are coming into sharper focus every day."

Consumers Bows To New Co-Op For Best Lexington Financing

Consumers Public Power District Wednesday said it was conditionally prepared to step aside and permit the Northeast Nebraska Generation and Transmission Cooperative to complete the construction of Nebraska's 100,000 kv generating plant at Lexington in the event Central Power and Irrigation District is unable to arrange satisfactory financing.

In a letter to Central, Ray Schacht, manager of Consumers, said his district "feels that if the newly organized co-operative can obtain two per cent REA money for the construction of the steam plant . . . and your district cannot secure the same arrangement from the REA then the new group should properly build the plant."

But Consumers added that the co-operative should be prepared to take over construction by July 1.

Consumers agreed to backstop Central's plant project sixty days ago prior to Central's firming up of construction and equipment orders, given before it had final favorable word from the Rural Electrification Administration on its $17 million loan application.

The application is being processed in Washington, but the REA recently said it would not make the loan decision until pending Nebraska Supreme Court litigation involving the state's power districts had terminated.

REA Pledges

Early this week, 18 Nebraska REA's went to Central aid pledging a portion of their $1,200,000 in reserves in short term loans to permit Central to continue through the summer with plant construction.

The REA's acted to expedite the completion of added generation capacity for Nebraska prior to 1958, the year of forecasted power shortage.

Meantime, northeast Nebraska REA groups announced intention to form a co-operative for the construction of generation capacity and expressed criticism of Consumers emergence as a power generation agency should it be required to take over construction at Lexington.

In offering to step aside Consumers said "there apparently is concern among some rurals" that our offer to complete the Lexington plant, "would adversely affect their districts."

Consumers added that its takeover offer was made in the interests of developing low cost power for Nebraska by using the best credit available to finance the new construction.

Schacht said, "We have no information regarding the G and T Co-operative other than that generally appearing in the newspapers, so we are unfamiliar with what legal and contractual problems they may face."

-Holiday- Road Deaths Mount

Near 110 Expected To Die On U.S. Highways

By The Associated Press

Highway deaths throughout the nation mounted—but at a somewhat slower rate than expected—as the Memorial Day holiday ended.

The National Safety Council said in a guarded statement there might be a "good chance" the toll for the one-day holiday would fall below the 110 traffic fatalities it had predicted.

The normal figure for a non-holiday Wednesday at this time of year is 70.

As the holiday closed, 56 lives had been lost in automobile accidents. There were 7 drownings and 11 deaths from miscellaneous causes for an over-all accident total of 74.

Last year the Memorial Day holiday fell on a weekend and 369 persons were killed in traffic accidents over the three-day period. Total accidental deaths that holiday numbered 596.

Totaled 81

Since World War II there has been only one other one-day Memorial Day holiday. That was in 1951 and traffic deaths totaled 81.

The National Safety Council estimated the traffic toll of 110 for the 30-hour period but expressed hope the toll could be kept down to a normal Wednesday level.

Deaths along the nation's highways have mounted for 14 months in a row.

The Associated Press made a nationwide survey of violent deaths May 16. There were 70 traffic deaths, 8 drownings and 33 deaths from miscellaneous causes for a total of 111.

The record traffic death rate for any one - day holiday was set Christmas, 1946. On that day 253 were killed on the highways.

Missing Navy Jet, Dead Pilot Found

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — The wreckage of an F9F6 Cougar Navy jet fighter missing since early Tuesday was found Wednesday in a cornfield in northwestern Illinois, south of Muscatine, Iowa.

Parts of the pilot's body were found in the wreckage which was lodged in a hole about 15 feet deep and nearly 30 feet wide.

A search was started Tuesday after the pilot, Charles Eichenberg, 32, of Irwin, Pa., was reported missing in a flight from Columbus, Ohio to Olathe Naval Air Station in Kansas.

Harold Harfst, a farmer, discovered the plane in a cornfield south of Muscatine. He said he heard a jet go over during a severe thunderstorm Tuesday but did not hear any crash.

Harfst and his two children came across the wreckage during a horseback ride Wednesday.

Terrorists' Bomb Kills 2, Injures 20 British On Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — A terrorist bomb Wednesday spread death and injury among British soldiers preparing to celebrate the Queen's birthday.

Two British soldiers were killed and 20 were wounded, 12 seriously, outside Famagusta, east coast trouble spot.

The British soldiers were jammed into a truck returning to their "Golden Sands" holiday camp on the beaches outside of Famagusta. The bomb landed in the middle of them.

Rehearsed Parade

The soldiers had just rehearsed a parade in honor of the official birthday of Queen Elizabeth II, which is Thursday.

U.S. Pilot Rides Red Jet Liner

MOSCOW (INS) — Gari Ketcham, commercial airline pilot from Clifton, N.J., Wednesday became the first American to fly in Russia's new TU-104 jet airliner.

The 27-year-old Air Force veteran spent an hour aboard the sleek jet, including 30 minutes in the air traffic pattern over Moscow's Vnukovo Airport.

The chief pilot of Aeroflot — the Russian state airline—was at the controls. He was taking another Soviet airline pilot through a check flight, including two landing approaches.

Ketcham, who flies a TWA Constellation between New York and Paris, told International News Service that the TU-104 "seems like a very good aircraft to me." He added:

"I had a chance to stand between the captain and the co-pilot while flying in the traffic pattern and on the downwind leg of the approach.

'Smoothly'

"It looked to me like a comfortable plane to fly—from the pilot's point of view—and it seemed to handle very smoothly."

Ketcham reported a minimum of vibration and a noise level "considerably lower" than propeller-driven airliners.

It was the first time Ketcham had been up in any kind of jet. He was accompanied by Aeroflot Capt. Boris Bugaev, airline veteran who has been assigned to show Ketcham around during his two week visit to the Soviet Union.

Ketcham has a date with Bugaev Thursday to visit the Russian pilot's home and meet his wife and ten-year-old daughter.

Ketcham has invited Bugaev and his family to visit him and see how airline pilots operate in the U.S.

Ketcham said Bugaev seemed eager to make the trip to the U.S., but no date has been set.

'So Busy We Hardly Knew Tornado Hit,' Says Farmer

Lincoln Star Special

WAYNE, Neb. — "We were so busy mopping up where rain was coming into the house we barely knew a tornado hit the farm."

That was what Don Lutt, who farms near Wayne, said after a twister crashed into his place, destroying three buildings and killing a steer.

"We weren't in any storm cellar," he said, "but I guess we should have been."

3 Inches of Rain

Lutt told of heavy hail, about "marble-sized," and said the rain measured over three inches in less than an hour.

The storm srtuck late Tuesday night.

He estimated that 30 to 40 per cent of the crops in the Wayne-Wakefield-Winside area, hardest hit by the storm, were severely damaged.

"Some alfalfa looked like it had been mowed," he said. Flattened or washed-out fences also added to the damage.

The twister also damaged the farms of Vern Carlson, five and one-half miles south of Wakefield, and that of Carlson's neighbor, Ed Leonard. Both places had small buildings damaged.

Small Town's Holiday Spent Cleaning Up

The little central Nebraska town of Anselmo spent Memorial Day starting cleanup operations after a Tuesday flood.

There was still water running through the business section of the town Wednesday, according to High School Principal Bill Gallagher, but water was gradually running out of the town through ditches dug Tuesday and Tuesday night.

The town was flooded Tuesday morning by water that ran off table land to the southwest, where rains measured up to eight inches.

Dikes, Ditches

"Dikes were put up in the downtown area to keep water from going into stores," he said, "and ditches were dug with bulldozers to get the water out of town."

He said many farmers southwest of Anselmo were flooded out and would have to replant.

T. A. Filipi, director of the Division of Sanitation with the State Health Department, said that Anselmo's city water supply was safe again, following flooding of the well.

Residents were warned not to drink any water until clorinators could be set up, Filipi said. However, he said the water was safe by Wednesday morning.

"There was still 12 to 18 inches of water on main street when I left," he said, "and there was 18 inches of flood water in the pump houses."

He said that there was not a house in town that wasn't flooded to some extent.

The Weather

NEBRASKA: Partly cloudy through Thursday night; cooler east and central Thursday and over state Thursday night; highs Thursday generally in 70s.

Early Compromise Likely On Big Highway Bill

Legislation Handed To Conferees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House agreement on the multibillion dollar highway bill is just around the corner, several key senators predicted Wednesday.

The Senate passed the measure shortly after midnight, approving plans for a 40,000-mile network of modern roads connecting almost every big city in the United States.

Now the legislation goes to a Senate-House Conference Committee for adjustment of differences between the Senate version and that passed by the House April 27.

This was not expected to be too hard a job, since both branches of Congress recognize the need for highway modernization and are agreed generally on how to go about it and how to pay for it.

A compromise must be worked out, however, on how to divide among the participating states the 25 billion dollars in federal funds authorized for the interstate system.

The Senate proposes to follow the present law and distribute the money under a formula giving two - thirds weight to the population of a state, one-sixth to its area and one-sixth to its rural road mileage.

Under the House plan the money would be allotted according to the needs of the states as already reported to the Federal Bureau of Public Roads.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn), sponsor of the Senate bill, said he was certain the conferees would agree to launch the program under the Senate formula.

How Nebraskans Voted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators Curtis and Hruska were on the losing side as the Senate voted 42 to 37 to amend its version of the highway bill to approve a federal prevailing wage provision.

Hruska and Curtis were with the 35-27 majority which defeated the amendment of Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) to write into the bill the apportionment formula for the interstate system used by the House.

Lions Present Check To Field Service

Lincoln Lions Give Student Fund $1,950

The Lincoln Lions Club Wednesday presented a check for $1,950 to the American Field Service Scholarship Exchange program.

The money will enable three European students to attend Lincoln high schools this fall.

R Morgan Batten, president of the Lions Club, presented the check to Gary Cadwallader, chairman of Lincoln student returnees, who attended school in New Zealand two years ago with the aid of contributions made by foreign civic leaders interested in promoting international understanding.

May Eaton of Paris, France, has attended Lincoln High School this year. She is one of five foreign students enrolled in Lincoln schools with the help of local contributions to the program.

John R Baylor of Lincoln, American Field Service representative, said the Lions Club gift will increase the exchange funds sufficiently to permit a total of seven students to come to Lincoln next year.

Services Pay Hike Is Urged

Mansfield Asks Prod For Lag In Air Arm

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), proposed Wednesday that Congress raise the pay of pilots, technicians and mechanics in the armed forces to boost 'lagging" U S air power.

Mansfield charged that the administration 'refuses to face up" to the fact that America's air might is slipping in comparison to that of Russia. He said it is up to Congress "to rectify the situation."

The Senate Foreign Relations committeeman told an interviewer it would be "good business" for the government to pay the specialists enough to keep them after they have been trained at startling high costs.

Mansfield said: "It costs $14,755 to train an ordinary enlisted man in the Air Force over a four-year enlistment period. It costs up to $75,000 to train an electronics expert over the same length of time. To train a triple-rated pilot of an atomic bomber, the costs jump to more than $600,000.

"With all that investment, it would be good business for the government to pay these men enough to retain them rather than lose them to private industry."

Mansfield said he will try also to increase the funds the administration has asked for the military so that development of missiles can be speeded. He indicated he will take this step as the result of testimony by Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, head of the Strategic Air Command, that Russia will have the air strength to "destroy" the U. S. in 1959 or 1960.

The senator said that Lemay "had done the country a service in informing Congress and through it the American people on the precarious state in which our air strength both defensively and offensively finds itself."

Peggy Hopkins Joyce Marries Husband No. 6

NEW YORK (AP)—Peggy Hopkins Joyce, showgirl darling of the 1920s, revealed Wednesday she had married her sixth husband — in 1953.

Peggy

"We kept it a secret," she told a reporter as she and her husband, Andrew C Meyer sailed aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth.

She said she and Meyer were wed in Switzerland in 1953. Meyer said he had formerly been associated with the Bankers Trust Co here, and that it was his first marriage.

The couple planned to go to Cannes, France, for an indefinite stay at their villa there.

Life Insurance Death Benefits Down Slightly

NEW YORK (AP)—Nebraska families received $4,036,000 in life insurance death benefit payments under 1,998 policies during the first three months of this year, the Institute of Life Insurance reported Wednesday.

The January through March figure for this year compares with $4,069,000 under 2,050 policies in the corresponding period last year.

"This first quarter total compares with $2,283,000 under 1,664 policies in the corresponding period 10 years ago," the Institute said. It constitutes a rise of 77 per cent.

Of the aggregate first quarter payments in Nebraska this year, $3,024,000 was under 1,121 ordinary policies; $843,000 under 296 group life insurance certificates, and $169,000 under 581 industrial insurance policies.

Stevenson Strengthens His Florida Margin Of Victory

MIAMI, Fla (AP) — Laggard returns from the Florida Democratic presidential primary strengthened Adlai E Stevenson's margin of victory over Sen Estes Kefauver.

Each new batch served to emphasize that neither the former Illinois governor nor the Tennessee senator was a standout favorite in a Southern state that President Eisenhower carried four years ago—and might again.

With Sen William F. Knowland of California in the Republican primary in name only, Eisenhower took the GOP popularity contest and 26 national convention votes without lifting a hand. He already had more than enough votes to assure his renomination.

As the count on Tuesday's balloting neared completion, the Democratic scorecard read this way in returns from 1,741 of 1,778 precincts:

Stevenson 220,426 or 51 per cent.
Kefauver 208,641 or 49 per cent.
Republican standings in 1,427 of 1,778 precincts.
Eisenhower 38,015 or 95 per cent.
Knowland 1,899 or 5 per cent.
Absentee votes are still to be tabulated this week.

The late tally cemented Stevenson's grip on 22 of the state's votes at the Democratic National Convention.

Stevenson gathered in 12 of them by besting Kefauver in a statewide "popularity" contest that left some doubts as to just how popular either man is in the Sunshine State. He picked up the other 10 by taking five of the eight congressional districts and their two convention votes apiece.

That left Kefauver with wins in three congressional districts, six convention votes, and what he termed "a moral victory" because of the closeness of the results.

There wasn't any doubt about the closeness—all through the ballot counting Tuesday night and into Wednesday.

Although Stevenson came out on top, he fell short of getting all the prestige and psychological lift he had hoped to carry over into the nation's important, final primary in California next Tuesday.

WU Strike Would Affect 25 Locally

Approximately 25 Western Union employees in Lincoln will be affected if a nationwide strike is called, according to Mrs Howard Brandon, secretary of the local union.

Strike instructions have been received, but will not be used unless the strike is called. Negotiations between the company and the union recessed until Thursday in parleys over wage increases and other benefits, according to the Associated Press.

Labor contracts with the 30,000 employees expire at midnight Thursday. The Lincoln Union covers a five-state area.

The union, representing all employees except those in New York, is seeking a 16 cent across the board wage increase plus an additional seven cents in job classification adjustments. Also asked is five cents in fringe benefits, including longer vacations and increased allowances for motor vehicles of messengers.

A tour of the hospital will follow the luncheon.

The gathering is open to the public. Reservations should be made with the civilian defense office by Thursday noon.

HST Bumps Into Europe Top Officials

VENICE, Italy (AP) — Harry S Truman bumped accidentally into some of Europe's top foreign ministry officials Wednesday on a small Venetian isle.

The chance encounter came after foreign ministers of Western Europe's steel-coal pool nations agreed at a conference here to go ahead with plans for closer economic unity.

They agreed to draw up treaties for a joint atomic development pool (Euratom) and for a common market which will mean a customs union. The treaty writers will go to work June 26 at Brussels.

Quiet Lunch

Truman is on vacation and had nothing to do with all this. The former President, Mrs Truman and their traveling companions, Mr. and Mrs Stanley Woodward, had gone to the island of Torcello for a quiet luncheon. The island is ten miles from central Venice.

Unknown to them, the Italian government was playing host to 60 diplomats, plus newsmen and others here for the Euratom conference. The state luncheon was at the same restaurant.

Driver Fined $100 On Reduced Charge

Don M. James, 35, of 3844 St Paul was fined $100 in Lancaster District Court after pleading guilty to a charge amended to reckless driving on Sept 19.

James had pleaded innocent to a drunk-driving charge appealed from Municipal Coort, where he was fined $100 and his driver's license suspended for six months.

The charge was reduced to reckless driving by the city prosecutor.

Each new batch served to emphasize that neither the former Illinois governor nor the Tennessee senator was a standout favorite in a Southern state that President Eisenhower carried four years ago—and might again.

With Sen. William F. Knowland of California in the Republican primary in name only, Eisenhower took the GOP popularity contest and 26 national convention votes without lifting a hand. He already had more than enough votes to assure his renomination.

As the count on Tuesday's balloting neared completion, the Democratic scorecard read this way in returns from 1,741 of 1,778 precincts:

Stevenson 220,426 or 51 per cent.
Kefauver 208,641 or 49 per cent.
Republican standings in 1,427 of 1,778 precincts.

Eisenhower 38,015 or 95 per cent.
Knowland 1,899 or 5 per cent.
Absentee votes are still to be tabulated this week.

The late tally cemented Stevenson's grip on 22 of the state's votes at the Democratic National Convention.

Stevenson gathered in 12 of them by besting Kefauver in a statewide "popularity" contest that left some doubts as to just how popular either man is in the Sunshine State. He picked up the other 10 by taking five of the eight congressional districts and their two convention votes apiece.

That left Kefauver with wins in three congressional districts, six convention votes, and what he termed "a moral victory" because of the closeness of the results.

There wasn't any doubt about the closeness—all through the ballot counting Tuesday night and into Wednesday.

Although Stevenson came out on top, he fell short of getting all the prestige and psychological lift he had hoped to carry over into the nation's important, final primary in California next Tuesday.

WU Strike Would Affect 25 Locally

Approximately 25 Western Union employees in Lincoln will be affected if a nationwide strike is called, according to Mrs. Howard Brandon, secretary of the local union.

Strike instructions have been received, but will not be used unless the strike is called. Negotiations between the company and the union recessed until Thursday in parleys over wage increases and other benefits, according to the Associated Press.

Labor contracts with the 30,000 employees expire at midnight Thursday. The Lincoln Union covers a five-state area.

The union, representing all employees except those in New York, is seeking a 16 cent across the board wage increase plus an additional seven cents in job classification adjustments. Also asked is five cents in fringe benefits, including longer vacations and increased allowances for motor behicles of messengers.

Guest speakers will be Dr. Janet Palmer, Lincoln psychologist, who will interpret, "The Psychological Reactions of Disaster Sufferers," and Richard Vestecka, local civilian defense director, who will report on civilian defense mobilization.

A tour of the hospital will follow the luncheon.

The gathering is open to the public. Reservations should be made with the civilian defense office by Thursday noon.

Lincoln Lions Give Student Fund $1,950

The Lincoln Lions Club Wednesday presented a check for $1,950 to the American Field Service Scholarship Exchange program.

The money will enable three European students to attend Lincoln high schools this fall.

R. Morgan Batten, president of the Lions Club, presented the check to Gary Cadwallader, chairman of Lincoln student returnees, who attended school in New Zealand two years ago with the aid of contributions made by foreign civic leaders interested in promoting international understanding.

May Eaton of Paris, France, has attended Lincoln High School this year. She is one of five foreign students enrolled in Lincoln schools with the help of local contributions to the program.

John R. Baylor of Lincoln, American Field Service representative, said the Lions Club gift will increase the exchange funds sufficiently to permit a total of seven students to come to Lincoln next year.

HST Bumps Into Europe Top Officials

VENICE, Italy (AP) — Harry S. Truman bumped accidentally into some of Europe's top foreign ministry officials Wednesday on a small Venetian isle.

The chance encounter came after foreign ministers of Western Europe's steel-coal pool nations agreed at a conference here to go ahead with plans for closer economic unity.

They agreed to draw up treaties for a joint atomic development pool (Euratom) and for a common market which will mean a customs union. The treaty writers will go to work June 26 at Brussels.

Quiet Lunch

Truman is on vacation and had nothing to do with all this. The former President, Mrs. Truman and their traveling companions, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Woodward, had gone to the island of Torcello for a quiet luncheon. The island is ten miles from central Venice.

Unknown to them, the Italian government was playing host to 60 diplomats, plus newsmen and others here for the Euratom conference. The state luncheon was at the same restaurant.

Driver Fined $100 On Reduced Charge

Don M. James, 35, of 3844 St. Paul was fined $100 in Lancaster District Court after pleading guilty to a charge amended to reckless driving on Sept. 19.

James had pleaded innocent to a drunk-driving charge appealed from Municipal Coort, where he was fined $100 and his driver's license suspended for six months.

The charge was reduced to reckless driving by the city prosecutor.

Royal Ankle Twisted

LONDON (AP) — Queen Mother Elizabeth went about her engagements with her right ankle bandaged. Aids said she twisted it in a slight fall at Clarence House, her home.

Services Pay Hike Is Urged

Mansfield Asks Prod For Lag In Air Arm

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), proposed Wednesday that Congress raise the pay of pilots, technicians and mechanics in the armed forces to boost "lagging" U.S. air power.

Mansfield charged that the administration "refuses to face up" to the fact that America's air might is slipping in comparison to that of Russia. He said it is up to Congress "to rectify the situation."

The Senate Foreign Relations committeeman told an interviewer it would be "good business" for the government to pay the specialists enough to keep them after they have been trained at startling high costs.

Mansfield said: "It costs $14,755 to train an ordinary enlisted man in the Air Force over a four-year enlistment period. It costs up to $75,000 to train an electronics expert over the same length of time. To train a triple-rated pilot of an atomic bomber, the costs jump to more than $600,000.

"With all that investment, it would be good business for the government to pay these men enough to retain them rather than lose them to private industry."

Mansfield said he will try also to increase the funds the administration has asked for the military so that development of missiles can be speeded. He indicated he will take this step as the result of testimony by Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, head of the Strategic Air Command, that Russia will have the air strength to "destroy" the U.S. in 1959 or 1960.

The senator said that Lemay "had done the country a service in informing Congress and through it the American people on the precarious state in which our air strength both defensively and offensively finds itself."

Peggy Hopkins Joyce Marries Husband No. 6

NEW YORK (AP)—Peggy Hopkins Joyce, showgirl darling of the 1920s, revealed Wednesday she had married her sixth husband — in 1953.

Peggy

"We kept it a secret," she told a reporter as she and her husband, Andrew C. Meyer, sailed aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth.

She said she and Meyer were wed in Switzerland in 1953. Meyer said he had formerly been associated with the Bankers Trust Co. here, and that it was his first marriage.

The couple planned to go to Cannes, France, for an indefinite stay at their villa there.

Life Insurance Death Benefits Down Slightly

NEW YORK (AP)—Nebraska families received $4,036,000 in life insurance death benefit payments under 1,998 policies during the first three months of this year, the Institute of Life Insurance reported Wednesday.

The January through March figure for this year compares with $4,069,000 under 2,050 policies in the corresponding period last year.

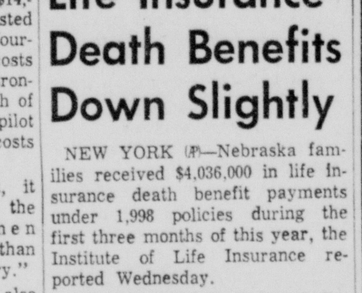

"This first quarter total compares with $2,283,000 under 1,664 policies in the corresponding period 10 years ago," the Institute said. It constitutes a rise of 77 per cent.

Of the aggregate first quarter payments in Nebraska this year, $3,024,000 was under 1,121 ordinary policies; $843,000 under 296 group life insurance certificates, and $169,000 under 581 industrial insurance policies.

Seaton Appointment Couldn't Interrupt Family's Summer Move Home

AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Packing for a Nebraska vacation went right ahead in the Fred Seaton home after a telephone call from the White House saying Seaton had been appointed secretary of the interior.

Every summer, since Seaton came here in late 1951, the family has returned to its farm near Hastings for the summer.

Mrs. Seaton was filling packing boxes when the call came from the White House.

"The news wasn't exactly a surprise," Mrs. Seaton explained. "The matter had been discussed and I had talked to Fred just a few hours before."

Giving Up Home

The Seatons are giving up their house in the fashionable Foxhall Rd. section of Washington. They'll hunt for a new house in the fall.

Everything in the house has to be packed—including the personal belongings of four children. These include Donald, 15, away at St. James Episcopal School near Hagerstown, Md., and Christine, 13, completing her sixth term at Maret school here.

The family also includes Alfred, 8, and Monica, 9, German war orphans adopted by the Seatons in the fall of 1952. They've been in school here.

Mrs. Seaton was in Nebraska last weekend to take Monica to the farm.

Gardener

A green-thumb gardener, specializing in roses and flowering shrubs, Mrs. Seaton can hardly wait to get back to rural life and "just turn the children loose for the summer."

At the same time she's delighted to become a full-fledged cabinet wife. Gladys Dowd Seaton has the same family name — Dowd — as Mamie Eisenhower. But, there is no relationship, even way back. Mrs. Seaton's parents hail from Kansas. Seaton's mother, Mrs. Fay Seaton, also lives in Kansas.

The new cabinet member is publisher of the Hastings (Neb.) Tribune. He is one of two sons of the late Fay Seaton. The family now owns eight midwestern newspapers, three radio stations, a television station and Western Farm Life magazine.

Newspaper Work

Mrs. Seaton says few people seem to remember that her husband is a newspaperman.

And she's done newspaper work herself. Formerly she wrote a food page column for her husband's Kansas papers. They met when she was majoring in Journalism at Kansas State College, Manhattan.

Seaton was appointed to the Senate late in 1951 by then Gov. Val Peterson to succeed the late Kenneth Wherry. He did not seek election to the remainder of Wherry's term but returned home to his newspaper interests.

He returned to Washington later as assistant secretary of defense and then was called to the White House as a deputy assistant to the President.

Part At Cabin

The Seaton's have to give up the house they have been renting on June 14. She plans to return to Nebraska and next fall they will look for another house.

Mrs. Seaton and the children will spend part of the summer in Hastings and part of the summer at their cabin in Spearfish Canyon in South Dakota.

Mrs. Seaton was uncertain just when they would leave for Nebraska.

She also was uncertain how Seaton's new job would affect the time he was able to spend with them on vacations. She was uncertain as to whether he would take a lesser role in the political campaign this fall as secretary of the interior than he would have at his former post as deputy assistant to the President at the White House.

Donald A Page

The oldest member of the family, Donald, 15, has lined up a job as a page in the U. S. Senate. He will report there after his school year ends on June 3 and will remain there until after Congress adjourns, probably July 15 or later.

After that he will join the family in either Nebraska or South Dakota.

Mrs. Seaton said she had found a small apartment here in Washington for husband and Donald to occupy during her absence.

Seaton, she said, was to be chief cook and bottle washer of the bachelor establishment.

"He's a pretty good cook when he has to," she added. "But that's only when I'm not around to do it."

The present Seaton household includes an Irish Setter named Pat and two long-haired white cats, named Silver Shadow and Silver Dignity. The cats which Seaton gave her in January rate as somewhat of a hobby for Mrs. Seaton now. Her other hobby is collecting jade pieces.

Pilot Spotted

TORONTO (INS) — The Royal Canadian Air Force reported that search planes had spotted C. C. Crossley, Toronto bush pilot, missing for twelve days on an Arctic flight from a secret radar base to Churchill, Man.

Following a weak radio signal picked up at Corabl Harbor, Southampton Island, search planes located Crossley drifting near shore on an ice span. He had erected a small survival tent on the ice and was seen, apparently unharmed, waving frantically to his rescuers.

City Pauses While Memories Recalled, Honors Shown Dead

Many Lincolnites paused Wednesday to attend Memorial Day observances and visit cemeteries with flowers in honor of those who served their country.

Jet formations flew over Lincoln during the morning hours and a parade of uniformed service men and patriotic organizations honored the dead.

Col. William G. Gillespie, base commander of the Lincoln Air Force Base, said, "We must keep the faith with those who served before."

Col. Gillespie, who spoke at the GAR Circle in Wyuka Cemetery, said that all Americans, including servicemen, must keep faith.

Judge Herbert A. Ronin delivered Gen. John A. Logan's Memorial Day proclamation.

Sarah D. Gillespie, Tent No. 7, of the Daughters of Union Veterans, sponsored services for the sailor dead at Wyuka.

The Very Rev. John Flynn, pastor of St. Mary's Cathedral, said, "We are proud as we rejoice that the great heroes of recent wars, following the example of their forefathers, have given everything to help keep open the doors of opportunity for us and to preserve the priceless gift of freedom."

"We are filled with the sorrow that tenderly suggests comfort and kindly care for those loved ones who are with us only in memory," he said.

Fr. Flynn spoke at Calvary Cemetery, where high Mass was celebrated by Msgr. Francis O'Brien. Mass was sung by the Catholic boys in Lincoln, under the direction of Fr. Zigmund Rydz.

Benson Said Now Ready To Leave On Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson plans to leave Thursday for a twice-postponed tour of farming sections of southwestern Iowa and eastern Nebraska which have been affected by adverse weather conditions.

The tour was called off twice previously.

Benson is scheduled to arrive at Des Moines by plane Thursday at 8:25 p.m. Friday he will tour the Iowa area and Saturday the Nebraska area. Monday night he will address a farm-city week program meeting at Beaver Dam, Wis.

In Lincoln, George Round of the University of Nebraska said original plans had been for Benson to arrive in Nebraska City Friday night, stay overnight there, and the next day visit farms in Otoe, Lancaster and Seward Counties.

Round said the schedule called for Benson to leave from Lincoln by air late Saturday afternoon.

The University of Nebraska extension division is co-operating on arranging Benson's schedule in the state.

Time Flies

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Ever wonder what happened to Baby Leroy, the cuddlesome infant actor of the 1930s?

The onetime film moppet, who retired from the screen at the ripe old age of 4, turned up on a television show and announced that he is about to become a father.

Now 24, Ronald LeRoy Overacker and his wife, Patricia, appeared on ventriloquist Edgar Bergen's "Do You Trust Your Wife" show and said they expect their first child around July 15.

Detour Forced

ROTHBURY, Mich. (INS) — A Michigan couple enroute to Oregon on horseback has been forced to make a 500-mile detour because a carferry won't carry their mounts and dog across Lake Michigan.

The ruling against livestock was made by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, which operates the ferry. It scuttled the plans of Kenneth King, 30, and his wife, Joanne, 29, to cross the lake at Ludington, Mich., and proceed overland from Wisconsin.

Syracuse Woman Hurt In Collision

A Syracuse, Neb., woman was treated for a sore neck at St. Elizabeth's Hospital and released following an auto collision on O at 21st Wednesday.

Mrs. Ernest Stack of Syracuse was riding in a car driven by her husband. The Stack car was stopped at the intersection, police said, when another car ran into its rear end. The second car was driven by Marvin D. Steinback, 17, of 4850 Cornhusker.

8 Firemen Hurt

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Eight firemen were burned, one seriously, when an explosion demolished a gasoline station where they were putting out a minor fire.

Three young children in a crowd of spectators were cut by flying sand and glass. They were treated at hospitals and discharged.

The fire, preceded by two small explosions, started in a service pit. The firemen thought the fire was out when the next explosion came.

Girl, 9, At Play Is Bitten By Dog

A nine-year-old Lincoln girl suffered lacerations of the left arm Wednesday when bitten by a dog, it was reported to police.

J. J. McCuiston of 3545 L said his daughter, Martha, suffered the bite while playing with some other children in a neighbor's yard.

The dog will be held in quarantine for ten days at the Humane Society.

Following a weak radio signal picked up at Corabl Harbor, Southhampton Island, search planes located Crossley drifting near shore on an ice span. He had erected a small survival tent on the ice and was seen, apparently unharmed, waving frantically to his rescuers.

Time Flies

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Ever wonder what happened to Baby Leroy, the cuddlesome infant actor of the 1930s?

The onetime film moppet, who retired from the screen at the ripe old age of 4, turned up on a television show and announced that he is about to become a father.

Now 24, Ronald LeRoy Overacker and his wife, Patricia, appeared on ventriloquist Edgar Bergen's "Do You Trust Your Wife" show and said they expect their first child around July 15.

Detour Forced

ROTHBURY, Mich. (INS) — A Michigan couple enroute to Oregon on horseback has been forced to make a 500-mile detour because a carferry won't carry their mounts and dog across Lake Michigan.

The ruling against livestock was made by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, which operates the ferry. It scuttled the plans of Kenneth King, 30, and his wife, Joanne, 29, to cross the lake at Ludington, Mich., and proceed overland from Wisconsin.

Syracuse Woman Hurt In Collision

A Syracuse, Neb., woman was treated for a sore neck at St. Elizabeth's Hospital and released following an auto collision on O at 21st Wednesday.

Mrs. Ernest Stack of Syracuse was riding in a car driven by her husband. The Stack car was stopped at the intersection, police said, when another car ran into its rear end. The second car was driven by Marvin D. Steinback, 17, of 4850 Cornhusker.

8 Firemen Hurt

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Eight firemen were burned, one seriously, when an explosion demolished a gasoline station where they were putting out a minor fire.

Three young children in a crowd of spectators were cut by flying sand and glass. They were treated at hospitals and discharged.

The fire, preceded by two small explosions, started in a service pit. The firemen thought the fire was out when the next explosion came.

Girl, 9, At Play Is Bitten By Dog

A nine-year-old Lincoln girl suffered lacerations of the left arm Wednesday when bitten by a dog, it was reported to police.

J. J. McCuiston of 3545 L said his daughter, Martha, suffered the bite while playing with some other children in a neighbor's yard.

The dog will be held in quarantine for ten days at the Humane Society.

Visit Not Appeasement

It is hard to go along with Senator Knowland in his opposition to any visit by Russia's top men, especially military men. There is an implacability about it that would foreclose out any tolerance and to that extent impair proper efforts toward peace.

His spoken dissent was untimely, too, in the light of the fact that it came at a moment when other American officials were angling for an invitation to Russia for a group of top military men—an expansion of the Russian invitation that has already included General Nathan Twining in a forthcoming visit to Moscow.

It is not to be expected that either country would expose its deepest military secrets and it is beyond the realm of reason that any one mind could comprehend the details of all that he might see.

The value of exchange visits would be rather in the form of broad military intelligence—an appraisal of the character and direction of the other nation's military efforts and a basis of judgment in respect to the progress being made. A value of second importance is that to be derived always from a cordial meeting of rivals. That is a stepping stone toward more realistic and more successful negotiation.

It has to be conceded now that Russia and the United States are both moving massively and successfully with their development of military defense. Refusing to look or to permit the other from seeing the fact does not alter the fact and where the fact promises to put an end to nervous speculation it is better to have it.

The Good And The Bad

Along about the middle of next October in the cold light of a harvest moon, the American farmer will have a better notion than he now has of how well this 84th Congress served him in drafting farm legislation.

After weeks of delay, the farm bill has been passed and the President has signed it.

"The good," Mr. Eisenhower was quoted as saying, "excells the bad features of the bill." Which may establish that the President is making progress in his understanding of agriculture at his Gettysburg farm.

There is one constant reference, however, to which both Mr. Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson return. The President in signing the bill expressed regret that delay made it difficult if not impossible to get the soil bank program fully operating in this year of 1956. Fact is that if Mr. Eisenhower wanted the soil bank in practical operation, then it would have been necessary to have had its procedures set up and legislation adopted in 1955. For instance, in the wheat-growing states —and wheat is one of the crops in heavy surplus—the seed was put into the ground last fall, a good three months before Congress was called upon to approve the soil bank. If the proof of the pudding is in the eating, then it will be a year hence before the soil bank program could possibly prove itself.

More And More Immunity

It is the opinion of Dr. E. A. Rogers, state health director, that expanded deliveries of Salk vaccine will permit immunization of Nebraska's young people up to the age of 18 by July 1.

Thus far the state service has been permitted up to the age of 14.

It is gratifying news—this announcement that speaks of the steadily greater supply of vaccine. It speaks of the time, certainly not far away now, when polio immunization can be taken for granted by all ages.

Certainly the crusade against polio has not ended nor will it ever fully end. But infections can be expected to be held at a minimum and care of the ill and rehabilitation of the post illness cases will occupy primary consideration.

Perhaps it is already significant to contemplate the lower incidence of cases in Nebraska. In 1956 thus far the state has recorded but 10 cases of polio. Half of them resulted in paralysis to some degree. Over the same period a year ago the total was 26. There were years before the advent of the Salk vaccine when the incidence of polio ran to impressive figures and post-illness rehabilitation was naturally a greater task.

The vaccine has ceased to be a novelty and there is a tendency to relieve the mind of concern against an ailment which only a short time ago was an ever present worry. But lest the memory of the great discovery fade it is well to review the great gains that are being made.

An Editor's Suggestion

While Washington is pondering what to do about Russia's announced cut in its military force, the St. Louis Post Dispatch is offering a suggestion entitled to more thoughtful consideration than it will probably get.

It observed that a navy carrier of the Forrestal class costs $200,000,000. It further commented that that is the precise amount estimated to rid the world of the plague of malaria. And it noted that the World Health Organization working in 70 nations is trying to do the job with an inadequate $75,000,000.

Why not, asks the Post Dispatch, build one fewer airplane carrier and eliminate malaria with the money. As a service to humankind that would be far more effective than one warship. And as a gesture of real peacemaking neighborliness it would be far more convincing that any momentary diminution of a military force.

Dr. Jeffrey's Gift

The townspeople of Osceola have good reason to hold the name of Dr. Charles Jeffrey in deepest gratitude.

Dr. Jeffrey, a Rawlings, Wyo., physician and surgeon for 37 years, was graduated from the Osceola high school two years after the turn of the century. Thanks to his inspired spirit of philanthropy Dr. Jeffrey remembered the community of his boyhood by financing a splendid memorial hospital dedicated to the memory of Annie Jeffrey.

When bonds in the amount of $200,000 were issued for the construction of a new grade school at Osceola, Dr. Jeffrey bought the entire issue. Returning to the high school alumni banquet this generous, warm-hearted former Polk county medical man told the assembled audience that he would cancel the last 14 years of the $200,000 bond issue. It was a gift, including one half of the principal plus interest, amounting to $140,700.

Keep It Clean

We have it from a Columbia University professor that suburban communities in the United States are here to stay. He remarked that "Whether the particular form be characterized as stellate, constellate, isthmian or geminically nucleated perithalassic cornubation," it can be considered permanent. We are rather sorry we got into all of that. We though suburbs were good because they weren't complicated. Now we are in a real riddle.

Old Reliable

It will be interesting to learn what will be in the political platforms this year and there may be some surprises. But we all know there will be one old reliable back. It will be an unequivocal statement in behalf of statehood for Alaska and Hawaii. That's a standby. A party can play around with some speculative planks. But it has to have at least one promise that it doesn't intend to carry out.

Of Men And Things

In all the excitement of the appointment of Fred Seaton to a cabinet post as secretary of the interior, former Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska becomes the forgotten man of the Eisenhower administration for the time being. Val had a longing eye upon that particular job when President Eisenhower took office. Trouble was that the late Sen. Hugh Butler had other ideas about it, reputedly a result of the hangover of Sen. Butler's last campaign for the Senate seat he occupied.

★

When Secretary McKay suddenly resigned to enter the Oregon primary, the talk about the possibility of Peterson's landing the cabinet post was revived. Politics does produce strange bedfellows. And it was the former Nebraska governor who put a finger upon Mr. Seaton, appointing the Hastings publisher to a seat in the Senate.

On The Outside Looking In

And while Seaton had been active in the presidential primary of 1948 as Stassen's Nebraska manager, and four years later more so as a member of the Eisenhower board of strategy, there was a strong parallel between the course of Mr. Seaton and former Gov. Peterson. All of that was blotted out from public view when it appeared that Undersecretary of the Interior Clarence Davis had the inside track for McKay's job. Mr. Davis may be disappointed, but former Gov. Peterson for the second time must gulp down a bitter pill.

★

The acid test is ahead for Mr. Seaton. His acceptance of administration policy based upon the belief that Uncle Sam should enter into a partnership with private enterprise and with the local communities and the states in river basin development will depend in a very large sense upon the manner in which application is made. The public has gone along with Mr. Eisenhower thus far. It did not devote a great deal of time to thought and study of the Eisenhower partnership plan, but the signs along the horizon suggest there are stormier days ahead. It will take every ounce of Mr. Seaton's recognized ability to avoid controversy.

★

No Nebraska newspaper which in the beginning gave support to the Nebraska Unicameral Legislature has changed position either in respect to making the legislative body a partisan group or enlarging its membership. There were only two Nebraska newspapers which supported the unicameral program back in the 30's. This newspaper was one of them—Mr. Seaton's Hastings Tribune was the other. And with equal force it can be said that no newspaper in Nebraska, of which there were many, opposing the unicameral legislature when it was first proposed has been converted and now is against any change. The late Sen. Norris on several occasions indicated that he had no strong feeling when it came to enlarging the legislature's membership. There was no sacred cow in the number, 43, the present membership of the unicameral. The one conflict of opinion which found Sen. Norris unyielding came on the question of electing members of the legislature on the basis of partisanship. He could have had the support of most of the politicians for his amendment, and also could have been sure that some of the newspapers opposing him would have been glad to support him if he had been willing to yield on partisanship. The veteran senator, Earl Lee of Fremont, is the latest to publicly announce that in his judgment Nebraska's unicameral legislature should be left unchanged.

Modifying The Unicameral

That is pretty high testimony coming from one of the more capable members serving in recent unicameral sessions.

Scientists Assert Reds Out In Front

WASHINGTON — American scientists and military men have made some shocking admissions lately. Their statements have appeared in separate, scattered parts of the newspapers or behind the closed doors of hearings. If you add them together, however, they show an alarming state of our national defense.

Here is a compilatio. of recent admissions by U.S. scientists, military men, and intelligence agents:

Earth Satellite — U.S. experts admit Russia will launch an earth satellite ahead of us—probably in 1957. This will be one year in advance of the U.S.A.

Guided Missiles—Central Intelligence reports flatly and categorically that Russia is ahead of us in guided missiles. This means Moscow will probably build the dread intercontinental ballistic missle capable of flying from Moscow to Washington before we do.

Nuclear Reactors—CIA representatives testified behind closed doors recently that Russia was ahead of us in building atomic reactors. This means Russia is making faster strides in converting A-energy to industrial uses, probably also including an atomic plane.

Jet Planes—The Defense Department has acknowledged that Russia is building more jets than we are. She is also outproducing us in long-range jet bombers of the type that just dropped the H-bomb in the Pacific. It appears that Russia is building more of all types of jet planes except B-47 medium-range bombers.

Hydrogen Bombs — Intelligence agents have reported that Russia is now only one month behind us in her stockpile of H-Bombs. Hitherto our chief reliance has been on a long lead in the stockpile of H and A-bombs.

Despite this, Secretary of Defense Wilson repeatedly states: "The Russians aren't nine feet tall," and pooh-poohs congressional attempts to increase the national defense.

Military men recall that on March 29, 1950, three months before Communist leaders struck at Korea, General Eisenhower appeared before the Senate Appropriations Committe and assured them that the current defense budget of $15 billion was adequate.

Explaining that he had been asked to co-ordinate the needs of the different armed services, Eisenhower testified:

"I would say that I would add $500 million to the present budget (which had been cut under $14 billion). But I would be determined to stay somewhere below the $15 billion which always in my mind has represented the maximum, and I should be determined to stay well below that."

Senator McKellar of Tennessee asked if he would add some air groups. Ike replied "No."

Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts asked if the Defense Department might not need more than $15 billion.

"I still believe in the over-all $15 billion," replied Eisenhower.

Three months later the United States found itself unprepared to meet war in the Far East and increased the military budget to a high of $38.9 billion in 1952. Of course Eisenhower did not foresee war when he testified in 1950; but military men say no one can predict war or peace today either.

Sen. Dennis Chavez, New Mexico Democrat, has accused President Eisenhower of taking high supports away from American farmers, but granting them a Brazilian coffee growers. In a blistering private letter to farmers, Chavez declares: "Each morning when you drink a cup of coffee, I want you to remember just one thing. While the President is unwilling to agree on any reasonable pegged farm price, he was willing to participate in the agreement signed in Brazil two months ago to fix the support price of coffee at artificial heights to prevent a collapse of the market because of a substantial coffee surplus.

High Court Attack Cause For Concern

WASHINGTON—One of the most curious aspects of the present unusual political scene is the rising fury and intemperance of attacks upon the federal judiciary and particularly the Supreme Court.

It is again curious that these attacks should be so largely led by lawyers and lawyer-politicians who take the most solemn oaths to protect and defend the Constitution.

The Republican President of the United States seems almost immune from anything but the most tentative and polite reproof.

The Democratic Congress maintains with him the most courteous —some would say timid—relations. Nor does he quarrel with it. Furthermore, Congress, by deliberate choice of its Texas leaders, is virtually abstaining from contact with deeply controversial issues.

Congress also has, through the years, developed its investigative powers to the point where it is able to hold its critics pretty much at bay.

It almost seems that domestic politics demands a scapegoat and that this year the courts have been elected.

There are signs that conservative elements in the country are beginning to be alarmed by the fact that they are so largely a part of the assaults upon the courts.

☆ ☆ ☆

The picture, much as outlined above, and a searching review of the true nature of the attack were developed in a recent speech in Dallas by a past president of the Texas Bar Association, Everett L. Looney. Looney's firm represents a large variety of big and conservative corporate interests.

He asserted his conviction that the foundations of the American judicial system were being undermined by this "ugly baying at the heels of the judiciary." It is, he charged, an attempt to persuade the public that the judiciary should be "subject to the popular will and some sort of public vengeance."

Looney called attention to the "aura of eminent respectability" which cloaks the attack. Its language, if made sincerely, would be cause for impeachment proceedings, but since none are brought, he suggested, the intent obviously is blackmail.

Having thus dealt with the Supreme Court's traducers, the Texan examined what the court actually had done and absolves it of doing more than its duty, which is to say what the federal law is. The people, he stressed, still have the right to alter and amend the law by due process.

His profession, he said, had a special duty to combat "this unbridled and uninhibited assault on the Supreme Court which is heresy without equal in our history."

BOB CONSIDINE

Car Casualties Outrun H-Bomb

NEW YORK — The H-bomb, burly as six sticks of TNT each the size of the Washington monument, has killed one man so far in operation Redwing—and then only indirectly. His plane went out of control one day when test "Cherokee"—the H-bomb drop—almost was held.

The nation's automobiles, whose combined power wouldn't cause an H-bomb to sneeze, will kill hundreds of people between now and next Monday morning.

The difference, of course, is the approach. If the Atomic Energy Commission was in charge of the country's highways, and enforced the same precautions as we lived under in the Eniwetok proving ground, the road toll would be but a fraction of what it actually promises to be in the next few days.

☆ ☆ ☆

They took us to the little islet called Runit one day, near Eniwetok, to see the hole dug by and the destruction parceled out by what some of the experts guessed was a peanut-sized H-bomb. About half a mile from what had been the shack where the gizzmo went off, our truck stopped and we were ordered out of it and into a tent. There we were fitted with coveralls, Nehru-like caps to put on under our ordinary headgear if any, thick canvas boots to slip on over our shoes, and adhesive tape to lash the pants legs to the shoes.

Two fountain pen-like devices were stuck in our pockets to record the radioactivity on the ground over which we would then be taken.

The AEC people walked us to within about 75 yards of crater. A huge construction man from California with hands like hams refused to accompany us. "I've had my dosage for the month," he said rather grimly. From the looks of him he didn't seem vulnerable to anything short of a bazooka. The remnants of the test shack littered the ground for a mile around. Two 16-inch steel pipes (half-inch steel) had been crushed, battered and ripped to pieces for half a mile of their length. But that was nothing. The danger was still around and everybody knew it. Men looked at their dosimeters to see what radiation they were picking up. The wreckage was as impersonal as the battered hulk of a car seen along the road as one whips by at 30.

The danger was still on the road at Runit. But here it was known and appreciated. On the U.S. highway—"It can't happen to me."

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

It Was A Long Way Home

By ALLAN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

The four-year-old dachshund was nearly scuffing her stomach on the ground as she trod homeward on her miserable paws.

Suca had foolishly followed her young masters, Scotty and Vince Collins of 741 Eastborough Lane, on an eight-mile hike.

Gasping for breath, she entered the house. With a thud, down on the floor she plopped. As the next day dawned, Suca was sleeping. Then the noonday sun struck the west window of the home. Still Suca was asleep. As the dusk began to gather, Suca stirred, stiff legged. She tried her legs and found they were worthy though wobbly.

Suca is a real watch dog — she watches to see how much meat falls off the plates, her owners say. She loves to eat horsemeat only. Any substitute will not do. The only exception to her monotonous diet is an occasional apple which she enjoys down to the core.

If she is placed near a dish of non-edible food — anything other than horsemeat — Suca will not only refuse to eat it but buries it under her blanket so she wouldn't even have to see it.

The little dachshund is a much traveled dog — riding many miles from Tennessee to Columbus, O., from Tennessee to Nebraska and from Nebraska to New York City.

The two boys and seven-year-old Meme, all children of the Richard Collins family like to play ball with Suca. The fly balls are beyond her reach but she is death on those grounders.

The tan dachshund is quite a bird fancier. While visiting in a home she came upon a caged canary. Fascinated, she stood still as a statue for three hours. Undoubtedly the canine pictured a juicy morsel of meat while looking at the plump bird.

But all she got for her vigil was a mouth full of saliva. The canary chirped as Suca left, a teasing reply to such an unlearned animal.

Editor's Note: Be brief. Limit letters to 200 words or less. Letters signed by a pen name or initials must be accompanied by writer's name and address. Letters represent only contributor's view.

City Government

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: You say you are in no position to pass on Mr. Leo Bartunek's position on the county and city Authority. He does not believe in the chamber of commerce's endorsement of same and the committee's arbitrary powers to cram the site for the new building down the throats of the citizens. Are we going to have the government of the city by appointment of boards?

BEN KECK

Hospital Facilities

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of the Lincoln Star: If the proposed new medical center looks "grand and glorious," it should! For the amount of funds needed, it should not only be functional—as the plans indicate—but should be pleasing to the eye, as well. I, too, agree that the important issue, however, is whether Lincoln can afford such expenditure. What is an absolute necessity for a city? Just streets and drainage improvements, as specified by Mr. Elmen? What is closer to life, health and safety than hospitals?

Citizens of Lincoln cannot afford to live longer with present hospitals facilities because:

(1) One-fifth of Lincoln's population are in a hospital every year and dependent upon their adequacy, facilities and ability to attract doctors to our community for medical care. Every year the records show that there are more persons in Lincoln hospitals than there are children in all the public and parochial schools in Lincoln.

(2) Our town has grown one-third since the war. Based on post-war figures, the ratio of doctors to the Lincoln population has slipped from 14 to 9 per 10,000. We have failed in recent years to attract more doctors to Lincoln than came to us when we were 25,000 persons less. More doctors are going to out-state Nebraska, but Lincoln is the only community showing a decline in doctors.

(3) Adequate hospital facilities are necessary through which modern medical progress can be translated into benefits for Lincoln residents — an absolute necessity if anything is. Adequate provision for long-term care of patients at lower rates is becoming more and more a major requirement in our community. This also is included in the plan.

(4) How many people will have to go elsewhere for medical care and how many doctors must we lose to our community before you will classify Lincoln's hospital improvement "an absolute necessity"?

(5) Since it will take three years to plan and build hospital facilities, when should the community for its own self-interest act on the problem and face its responsibility? When emergency arises in anyone's family, it is then too late to be sorry we were against increased taxes which could have provided the facilities and the skills the emergency demands.

(6) Now is none too soon to invest in personal and community insurance. The odds are that you or someone in your family will be in a hospital in the next three years—hospitals that were provided for us 25, 30 and more years ago.

No, we cannot afford NOT to provide ourselves with the best medical facilities available.

MRS. J. EDMUNDS MILLER.

The Small Farmer

Curtis, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Revolutionary changes are coming and those who do not see what is coming always hold the proverbial bag. I am thinking now of what is happening in agriculture. Family-sized farms are getting fewer and large farms are getting larger and increasing in number. Benson's program will accelerate this movement. He is reported to have said that there is no need to furnish support even at 75 per cent of parity and he thinks the price of land will have to go lower. This can only mean the freezing out of the small farmer and the loss of an equity. Looks as if they will give us "the works" after election.

Estes Kefauver advocates the only farm program that will maintain the small farm. He would give a maximum support of $7,000 for any crop and drop the rate of support for larger amounts.

The coming election is the crossroad for the small farmers. Let them choose what they want, but their eyes should be open. If we continue to force larger numbers into the towns and cities, can they find employment? I believe the only way will be through the government. Is that to be desired?

Visit Not Appeasement

It is hard to go along with Senator Knowland in his opposition to any visit by Russia's top men, especially military men. There is an implacability about it that would foreclose out any tolerance and to that extent impair proper efforts toward peace.

His spoken dissent was untimely, too, in the light of the fact that it came at a moment when other American officials were angling for an invitation to Russia for a group of top military men—an expansion of the Russian invitation that has already included General Nathan Twining in a forthcoming visit to Moscow.

It is not to be expected that either country would expose its deepest military secrets and it is beyond the realm of reason that any one mind could comprehend the details of all that he might see.

The value of exchange visits would be rather in the form of broad military intelligence—an appraisal of the character and direction of the other nation's military efforts and a basis of judgment in respect to the progress being made. A value of second importance is that to be derived always from a cordial meeting of rivals. That is a stepping stone toward more realistic and more successful negotiation.

It has to be conceded now that Russia and the United States are both moving massively and successfully with their development of military defense. Refusing to look or to permit the other from seeing the fact does not alter the fact and where the fact promises to put an end to nervous speculation it is better to have it.

The Good And The Bad

Along about the middle of next October in the cold light of a harvest moon, the American farmer will have a better notion than he now has of how well this 84th Congress served him in drafting farm legislation.

After weeks of delay, the farm bill has been passed and the President has signed it.

"The good," Mr. Eisenhower was quoted as saying, "excells the bad features of the bill." Which may establish that the President is making progress in his understanding of agriculture at his Gettysburg farm.

There is one constant reference, however, to which both Mr. Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson return. The President in signing the bill expressed regret that delay made it difficult if not impossible to get the soil bank program fully operating in this year of 1956. Fact is that if Mr. Eisenhower wanted the soil bank in practical operation, then it would have been necessary to have had its procedures set up and legislation adopted in 1955. For instance, in the wheat-growing states —and wheat is one of the crops in heavy surplus—the seed was put into the ground last fall, a good three months before Congress was called upon to approve the soil bank. If the proof of the pudding is in the eating, then it will be a year hence before the soil bank program could possibly prove itself.

More And More Immunity

It is the opinion of Dr. E. A. Rogers, state health director, that expanded deliveries of Salk vaccine will permit immunization of Nebraska's young people up to the age of 19 by July 1.

Thus far the state service has been permitted up to the age of 14.

It is gratifying news—this announcement that speaks of the steadily greater supply of vaccine. It speaks of the time, certainly not far away now, when polio immunization can be taken for granted by all ages.

Certainly the crusade against polio has not ended nor will it ever fully end. But infections can be expected to be held at a minimum and care of the ill and rehabilitation of the post illness cases will occupy primary consideration.

Perhaps it is already significant to contemplate the lower incidence of cases in Nebraska. In 1956 thus far the state has recorded but 10 cases of polio. Half of them resulted in paralysis to some degree. Over the same period a year ago the total was 26. There were years before the advent of the Salk vaccine when the incidence of polio ran to impressive figures and post-illness rehabilitation was naturally a greater task.

The vaccine has ceased to be a novelty and there is a tendency to relieve the mind of concern against an ailment which only a short time ago was an ever present worry. But lest the memory of the great discovery fade it is well to review the great gains that are being made.

An Editor's Suggestion

While Washington is pondering what to do about Russia's announced cut in its military force, the St. Louis Post Dispatch is offering a suggestion entitled to more thoughtful consideration than it will probably get.

It observed that a navy carrier of the Forrestal class costs $200,000,000. It further commented that that is the precise amount estimated to rid the world of the plague of malaria. And it noted that the World Health Organization working in 70 nations is trying to do the job with an inadequate $75,000,000.

Why not, asks the Post Dispatch, build one fewer airplane carrier and eliminate malaria with the money. As a service to humankind that would be far more effective than one warship. And as a gesture of real peacemaking neighborliness it would be far more convincing that any momentary diminution of a military force.

Dr. Jeffrey's Gift

The townspeople of Osceola have good reason to hold the name of Dr. Charles Jeffrey in deepest gratitude.

Dr. Jeffrey, a Rawlings, Wyo., physician and surgeon for 37 years, was graduated from the Osceola high school two years after the turn of the century. Thanks to his inspired spirit of philanthropy Dr. Jeffrey remembered the community of his boyhood by financing a splendid memorial hospital dedicated to the memory of Annie Jeffrey.

When bonds in the amount of $200,000 were issued for the construction of a new grade school at Osceola, Dr. Jeffrey bought the entire issue. Returning to the high school alumni banquet this generous, warm-hearted former Polk county medical man told the assembled audience that he would cancel the last 14 years of the $200,000 bond issue. It was a gift, including one half of the principal plus interest, amounting to $140,700.

Keep It Clean

We have it from a Columbia University professor that suburban communities in the United States are here to stay. He remarked that "Whether the particular form be characterized as stellate, constellate, isthmian or geminically nucleated perithalassic cornubation," it can be considered permanent. We are rather sorry we got into all of that. We though suburbs were good because they weren't complicated. Now we are in a real riddle.

Old Reliable

It will be interesting to learn what will be in the political platforms this year and there may be some surprises. But we all know there will be one old reliable back. It will be an unequivocal statement in behalf of statehood for Alaska and Hawaii. That's a standby. A party can play around with some speculative planks. But it has to have at least one promise that it doesn't intend to carry out.

Of Men And Things

In all the excitement of the appointment of Fred Seaton to a cabinet post as secretary of the interior, former Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska becomes the forgotten man of the Eisenhower administration for the time being. Val had a longing eye upon that particular job when President Eisenhower took office. Trouble was that the late Sen. Hugh Butler had other ideas about it, reputedly a result of the hangover of Sen. Butler's last campaign for the Senate seat he occupied.

★

When Secretary McKay suddenly resigned to enter the Oregon primary, the talk about the possibility of Peterson's landing the cabinet post was revived. Politics does produce strange bedfellows. And it was the former Nebraska governor who put a finger upon Mr. Seaton, appointing the Hastings publisher to a seat in the Senate.

On The Outside Looking In

And while Seaton had been active in the presidential primary of 1948 as Stassen's Nebraska manager, and four years later more so as a member of the Eisenhower board of strategy, there was a strong parallel between the course of Mr. Seaton and former Gov. Peterson. All of that was blotted out from public view when it appeared that Undersecretary of the Interior Clarence Davis had the inside track for McKay's job. Mr. Davis may be disappointed, but former Gov. Peterson for the second time must gulp down a bitter pill.

★

The acid test is ahead for Mr. Seaton. His acceptance of administration policy based upon the belief that Uncle Sam should enter into a partnership with private enterprise and with the local communities and the states in river basin development will depend in a very large sense upon the manner in which application is made. The public has gone along with Mr. Eisenhower thus far. It did not devote a great deal of time to thought and study of the Eisenhower partnership plan, but the signs along the horizon suggest there are stormier days ahead. It will take every ounce of Mr. Seaton's recognized ability to avoid controversy.

★

No Nebraska newspaper which in the beginning gave support to the Nebraska Unicameral Legislature has changed position either in respect to making the legislative body a partisan group or enlarging its membership. There were only two Nebraska newspapers which supported the unicameral program back in the 30's. This newspaper was one of them—Mr. Seaton's Hastings Tribune was the other. And with equal force it can be said that no newspaper in Nebraska, of which there were many, opposing the unicameral legislature when it was first proposed has been converted and now is against any change. The late Sen. Norris on several occasions indicated that he had no strong feeling when it came to enlarging the legislature's membership. There was no sacred cow in the number, 43, the present membership of the unicameral. The one conflict of opinion which found Sen. Norris unyielding came on the question of electing members of the legislature on the basis of partisanship. He could have had the support of most of the politicians for his amendment, and also could have been sure that some of the newspapers opposing him would have been glad to support him if he had been willing to yield on partisanship. The veteran senator, Earl Lee of Fremont, is the latest to publicly announce that in his judgment Nebraska's unicameral legislature should be left unchanged.

Modifying The Unicameral

That is pretty high testimony coming from one of the more capable members serving in recent unicameral sessions.

Scientists Assert Reds Out In Front

WASHINGTON — American scientists and military men have made some shocking admissions lately. Their statements have appeared in separate, scattered parts of the newspapers or behind the closed doors of hearings. If you add them together, however, they show an alarming state of our national defense.

Here is a compilation of recent admissions by U.S. scientists, military men, and intelligence agents:

Earth Satellite — U.S. experts admit Russia will launch an earth satellite ahead of us—probably in 1957. This will be one year in advance of the U.S.A.

Guided Missiles—Central Intelligence reports flatly and categorically that Russia is ahead of us in guided missiles. This means Moscow will probably build the dread intercontinental ballistic missle capable of flying from Moscow to Washington before we do.

Nuclear Reactors—CIA representatives testified behind closed doors recently that Russia was ahead of us in building atomic reactors. This means Russia is making faster strides in converting A-energy to industrial uses, probably also including an atomic plane.

Jet Planes—The Defense Department has acknowledged that Russia is building more jets than we are. She is also outproducing us in long-range jet bombers of the type that just dropped the H-bomb in the Pacific. It appears that Russia is building more of all types of jet planes except B-47 medium-range bombers.

Hydrogen Bombs — Intelligence agents have reported that Russia is now only one month behind us in her stockpile of H-Bombs. Hitherto our chief reliance has been on a long lead in the stockpile of H and A-bombs.

Despite this, Secretary of Defense Wilson repeatedly states: "The Russians aren't nine feet tall," and pooh-poohs congressional attempts to increase the national defense.

Military men recall that on March 29, 1950, three months before Communist leaders struck at Korea, General Eisenhower appeared before the Senate Appropriations Committe and assured them that the current defense budget of $15 billion was adequate.

Explaining that he had been asked to co-ordinate the needs of the different armed services, Eisenhower testified:

"I would say that I would add $500 million to the present budget (which had been cut under $14 billion). But I would be determined to stay somewhere below the $15 billion which always in my mind has represented the maximum, and I should be determined to stay well below that."

Senator McKellar of Tennessee asked if he would add some air groups. Ike replied "No."

Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts asked if the Defense Department might not need more than $15 billion.

"I still believe in the over-all $15 billion," replied Eisenhower.

Three months later the United States found itself unprepared to meet war in the Far East and increased the military budget to a high of $38.9 billion in 1952. Of course Eisenhower did not foresee war when he testified in 1950; but military men say no one can predict war or peace today either.

Sen. Dennis Chavez, New Mexico Democrat, has accused President Eisenhower of taking high supports away from American farmers, but granting them a Brazilian coffee growers. In a blistering private letter to farmers, Chavez declares: "Each morning when you drink a cup of coffee, I want you to remember just one thing. While the President is unwilling to agree on any reasonable pegged farm price, he was willing to participate in the agreement signed in Brazil two months ago to fix the support price of coffee at artificial heights to prevent a collapse of the market because of a substantial coffee surplus.

High Court Attack Cause For Concern

WASHINGTON—One of the most curious aspects of the present unusual political scene is the rising fury and intemperance of attacks upon the federal judiciary and particularly the Supreme Court.

It is again curious that these attacks should be so largely led by lawyers and lawyer-politicians who take the most solemn oaths to protect and defend the Constitution.

The Republican President of the United States seems almost immune from anything but the most tentative and polite reproof.

The Democratic Congress maintains with him the most courteous —some would say timid—relations. Nor does he quarrel with it. Furthermore, Congress, by deliberate choice of its Texas leaders, is virtually abstaining from contact with deeply controversial issues.

Congress also has, through the years, developed its investigative powers to the point where it is able to hold its critics pretty much at bay.

It almost seems that domestic politics demands a scapegoat and that this year the courts have been elected.

There are signs that conservative elements in the country are beginning to be alarmed by the fact that they are so largely a part of the assaults upon the courts.

☆ ☆ ☆

The picture, much as outlined above, and a searching review of the true nature of the attack were developed in a recent speech in Dallas by a past president of the Texas Bar Association, Everett L. Looney. Looney's firm represents a large variety of big and conservative corporate interests.

He asserted his conviction that the foundations of the American judicial system were being undermined by this "ugly baying at the heels of the judiciary." It is, he charged, an attempt to persuade the public that the judiciary should be "subject to the popular will and some sort of public vengeance."

Looney called attention to the "aura of eminent respectability" which cloaks the attack. Its language, if made sincerely, would be cause for impeachment proceedings, but since none are brought, he suggested, the intent obviously is blackmail.

Having thus dealt with the Supreme Court's traducers, the Texan examined what the court actually had done and absolves it of doing more than its duty, which is to say what the federal law is. The people, he stressed, still have the right to alter and amend the law by due process.

His profession, he said, had a special duty to combat "this unbridled and uninhibited assault on the Supreme Court which is heresy without equal in our history."

BOB CONSIDINE

Car Casualties Outrun H-Bomb

NEW YORK — The H-bomb, burly as six sticks of TNT each the size of the Washington monument, has killed one man so far in operation Redwing—and then only indirectly. His plane went out of control one day when test "Cherokee"—the H-bomb drop—almost was held.

The nation's automobiles, whose combined power wouldn't cause an H-bomb to sneeze, will kill hundreds of people between now and next Monday morning.

The difference, of course, is the approach. If the Atomic Energy Commission was in charge of the country's highways, and enforced the same precautions as we lived under in the Eniwetok proving ground, the road toll would be but a fraction of what it actually promises to be in the next few days.

☆ ☆ ☆

They took us to the little islet called Runit one day, near Eniwetok, to see the hole dug by and the destruction parceled out by what some of the experts guessed was a peanut-sized H-bomb. About half a mile from what had been the shack where the gizzmo went off, our truck stopped and we were ordered out of it and into a tent. There we were fitted with coveralls, Nehru-like caps to put on under our ordinary headgear if any, thick canvas boots to slip on over our shoes, and adhesive tape to lash the pants legs to the shoes.

Two fountain pen-like devices were stuck in our pockets to record the radioactivity on the ground over which we would then be taken.

The AEC people walked us to within about 75 yards of crater. A huge construction man from California with hands like hams refused to accompany us. "I've had my dosage for the month," he said rather grimly. From the looks of him he didn't seem vulnerable to anything short of a bazooka. The remnants of the test shack littered the ground for a mile around. Two 16-inch steel pipes (half-inch steel) had been crushed, battered and ripped to pieces for half a mile of their length. But that was nothing. The danger was still around and everybody knew it. Men looked at their dosimeters to see what radiation they were picking up. The wreckage was as impersonal as the battered hulk of a car seen along the road as one whips by at 80.

The danger was still on the road at Runit. But here it was known and appreciated. On the U.S. highway—"It can't happen to me."

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

It Was A Long Way Home

By ALLAN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

The four-year-old dachshund was nearly scuffing her stomach on the ground as she trod homeward on her miserable paws.

Suca had foolishly followed her young masters, Scotty and Vince Collins of 741 Eastborough Lane, on an eight-mile hike.

Gasping for breath, she entered the house. With a thud, down on the floor she plopped. As the next day dawned, Suca was sleeping. Then the noonday sun struck the west window of the home. Still Suca was asleep. As the dusk began to gather, Suca stirred, stiff legged. She tried her legs and found they were worthy though wobbly.

Suca is a real watch dog — she watches to see how much meat falls off the plates, her owners say. She loves to eat horsemeat only. Any substitute will not do. The only exception to her monotonous diet is an occasional apple which she enjoys down to the core.

If she is placed near a dish of non-edible food — anything other than horsemeat — Suca will not only refuse to eat it but buries it under her blanket so she wouldn't even have to see it.

The little dachshund is a much traveled dog — riding many miles from Tennessee to Columbus, O., from Tennessee to Nebraska and from Nebraska to New York City.

MEME COLLINS AND SUCA
. . . the canary had the last chirp . . .

The two boys and seven-year-old Meme, all children of the Richard Collins family like to play ball with Suca. The fly balls are beyond her reach but she is death on those grounders.

The tan dachshund is quite a bird fancier. While visiting in a home she came upon a caged canary. Fascinated, she stood still as a statue for three hours. Undoubtedly the canine pictured a juicy morsel of meat while looking at the plump bird.

But all she got for her vigil was a mouth full of saliva. The canary chirped as Suca left, a teasing reply to such an unlearned animal.

City Government

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: You say you are in no position to pass on Mr. Leo Bartunek's position on the county and city Authority. He does not believe in the chamber of commerce's endorsement of same and the committee's arbitrary powers to cram the site for the new building down the throats of the citizens. Are we going to have the government of the city by appointment of boards?

BEN KECK

Hospital Facilities

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of the Lincoln Star: If the proposed new medical center looks "grand and glorious," it should! For the amount of funds needed, it should not only be functional—as the plans indicate—but should be pleasing to the eye, as well. I, too, agree that the important issue, however, is whether Lincoln can afford such expenditure. What is an absolute necessity for a city? Just streets and drainage improvements, as specified by Mr. Elmen? What is closer to life, health and safety than hospitals?

Citizens of Lincoln cannot afford to live longer with present hospitals facilities because:

(1) One-fifth of Lincoln's population are in a hospital every year and dependent upon their adequacy, facilities and ability to attract doctors to our community for medical care. Every year the records show that there are more persons in Lincoln hospitals than there are children in all the public and parochial schools in Lincoln.

(2) Our town has grown one-third since the war. Based on post-war figures, the ratio of doctors to the Lincoln population has slipped from 14 to 9 per 10,000. We have failed in recent years to attract more doctors to Lincoln than came to us when we were 25,000 persons less. More doctors are going to out-state Nebraska, but Lincoln is the only community showing a decline in doctors.

(3) Adequate hospital facilities are necessary through which modern medical progress can be translated into benefits for Lincoln residents — an absolute necessity if anything is. Adequate provision for long-term care of patients at lower rates is becoming more and more a major requirement in our community. This also is included in the plan.

(4) How many people will have to go elsewhere for medical care and how many doctors must we lose to our community before you will classify Lincoln's hospital improvement "an absolute necessity"?

(5) Since it will take three years to plan and build hospital facilities, when should the community for its own self-interest act on the problem and face its responsibility? When emergency arises in anyone's family, it is then too late to be sorry we were against increased taxes which could have provided the facilities and the skills the emergency demands.

(6) Now is none too soon to invest in personal and community insurance. The odds are that you or someone in your family will be in a hospital in the next three years—hospitals that were provided for us 25, 30 and more years ago.

No, we cannot afford NOT to provide ourselves with the best medical facilities available.

MRS. J. EDMUNDS MILLER.

The Small Farmer

Curtis, Neb.

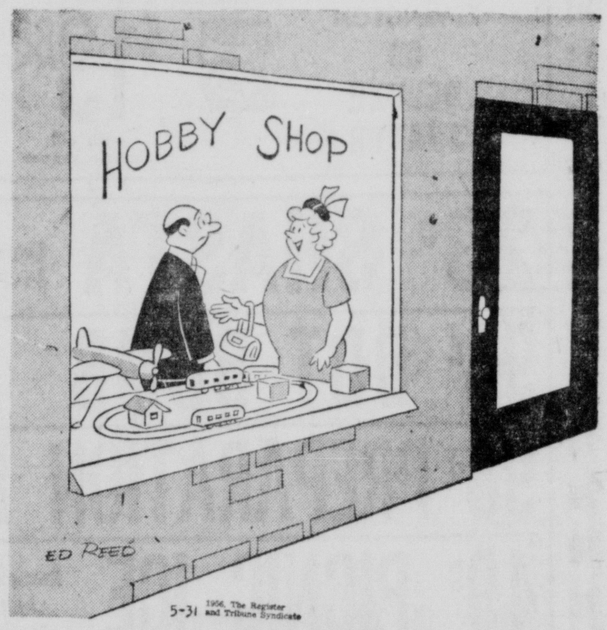

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Revolutionary changes are coming and those who do not see what is coming always hold the proverbial bag. I am thinking now of what is happening in agriculture. Family-sized farms are getting fewer and large farms are getting larger and increasing in number. Benson's program will accelerate this movement. He is reported to have said that there is no need to furnish support even at 75 per cent of parity and he thinks the price of land will have to go lower. This can only mean the freezing out of the small farmer and the loss of an equity. Looks as if they will give us "the works" after election.

Estes Kefauver advocates the the only farm program that will maintain the small farm. He would give a maximum support of $7,000 for any crop and drop the rate of support for larger amounts.

The coming election is the crossroad for the small farmers. Let them choose what they want, but their eyes should be open. If we continue to force larger numbers into the towns and cities, can they find employment? I believe the only way will be through the government. Is that to be desired?

He Gets Away With Telling You Where To Go

If anybody is looking for a sign of the times, they might contact Otto Moeller at Lincoln police headquarters.

Moeller, as superintendent of maintenance, is head man in the signs department. He's got hundreds and thousands of 'em.

Stop signs. Go signs. Left and right turn signs. One-way street signs. No Turn signs. Park signs. No park signs.

In order to put these signs together, Moeller holds forth over a small and compact plant that neatly handles the enterprise.

The latest addition to this plant is a beading machine that gives both road paint and paint on signs a reflectorizing quality. The signs, seen at night under the glare of auto headlights, guide drivers in a safe route through the maze of city streets.

With the aid of two assistants, Moeller has made more than 3,000 signs of all types for the city.

Having its own stamping and painting machine saves the city untold hundreds of dollars a year, Moeller points out. This includes having a pair of painting machines used to line city streets with driving lanes.

Some signs are stamped at the State Reformatory, but only those for which the city has no stamping die.

Moeller says he's been with the city 11 years, all in the same job in the traffic control department.

His one comment, summing up this work, is: "We just don't catch up."

Diagonal Sign Inspected

Otto Moeller, maintenance superintendent with the Lincoln Police Department, examines a sign, one of his products, which will be used on the new southeast diagonal in the city. The sign is one of several thousand made by Moeller and his assistants. (Star Staff Photo.)

He Gets Away With Telling You Where To Go

If anybody is looking for a sign of the times, they might contact Otto Moeller at Lincoln police headquarters.

Moeller, as superintendent of maintenance, is head man in the signs department. He's got hundreds and thousands of 'em.

Stop signs. Go signs. Left and right turn signs. One-way street signs. No Turn signs. Park signs. No park signs.

In order to put these signs together, Moeller holds forth over a small and compact plant that neatly handles the enterprise.

The latest addition to this plant is a beading machine that gives both road paint and paint on signs a reflectorizing quality. The signs, seen at night under the glare of auto headlights, guide drivers in a safe route through the maze of city streets.

With the aid of two assistants, Moeller has made moret han 3,000 signs of all types for the city.

Having its own stamping and painting machine saves the city untold hundreds of dollars a year, Moeller points out. This includes having a pair of painting machines used to line city streets with driving lanes.

Some signs are stamped at the State Reformatory, but only those for which the city has no stamping die.

Moeller says he's been with the city 11 years, all in the same job in the traffic control department.

His one comment, summing up this work, is: "We just don't catch up."

Diagonal Sign Inspected

Otto Moeller, maintenance superintendent with the Lincoln Police Department, examines a sign, one of his products, which will be used on the new southeast diagonal in the city. The sign is one of several thousand made by Moeller and his assistants. (Star Staff Photo.)

Dixie States' Rights Group Pledges Opposition To Both Parties

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A group called Mississippians for States' Rights organized Wednesday in a noisy, cheering meeting and pledged to qualify independent presidential electors to oppose both Republicans and Democrats.

Delegations from Alabama and Louisiana reported on their similar plans.

The movement was created in Mississippi in opposition to both national parties anticipating neither will present candidates nor platforms acceptable to the South.

Backers of the movement hope that by pledging electors to neither major party candidate, enough electoral votes will be diverted to prevent either from gaining a majority. This would throw the election into the House, where a compromise candidate would have a chance, or where the diverted electoral votes could be bargained to force one party to endorse states rights.

Governors Hit

The movements do not have the backing of any of the governors of the states involved. Rather, Govs. J. P. Coleman of Mississippi, James Folsom of Alabama, Earl K. Long of Louisiana and Orval Faubus of Arkansas all were sharply criticized for what was called the lack of leadership against federal encroachment of states' rights.

Machinery was set up at the meeting for the Mississippi organization to form at the county level and a steering committee will be charged with getting the vote of the people for the independent electors.

The movement was reminiscent of the 1948 States' Rights party which broke off from the Southern Democratic party in a third party. The late former Gov. Fielding Wright of Mississippi was a vice presidential candidate on that ticket.

Wednesday, W. B. Fontaine, Jackson, former administrative assistant to Gov. Wright was elected permanent chairman of the new group.

Arkansas was represented by Curt Copeland who is under permanent federal injunction against making inflammatory speeches on the race issue.

The Alabama Delegation reported their electors already qualified and will be on the ballot in November. A Shreveport, La., attorney and Citizens Council official, Robert Chandler, said a slate of independent electors would be qualified for Louisiana.

First Gesture

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa), said that if Russian leaders really want peace their first gesture of sincerity would be to liberate their satellite nations.

Duff told the fourth national convention of the Polish American Congress, representing 6,000,000 Americans of Polish descent, that such a move would "indeed open wide the doors of the whole world to peace."

But the Senator warned that the only peace the Russians want is peace on the basis of their retention of the conquered countries.

Children To Graduate

Commencement exercises for Kiddie Kapers, pre-school children's group at the Malone Community Center, will be held Sunday at 3 p.m. at the Center. Degrees Certificates will be given the 11 graduates, and the center's modern dance class will provide entertainment.

Will your baby be born perfect?

Before your baby was born, you thought, "What if I lose the baby? What if my baby isn't perfect?"

Now doctors have discovered that many tragic defects in newborn babies are not inherited. In the June Ladies' Home Journal you'll read how this revolutionary new theory can help you avoid such heartbreak as miscarriage, stillbirth, a child born mentally or physically deficient.

8 ways to help be sure

You'll read about eight specific steps you can take now before your baby is born—or even conceived . . . see how a few extra precautions before marriage and during childbearing years can help make sure your babies and their children will be born perfect.

You'll read about the risks working mothers-to-be face; the dangers of a change to high altitude while pregnant; the amazing effects lack of vitamins—or too many—can have on mothers and their babies; what illness you should deliberately try to catch before pregnancy; the effects of radiation, X ray and anesthetics.

GOP Claims Farm Policy Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican National Committee Wednesday claimed a "clear-cut victory" for President Eisenhower's farm policy after a "five months battle with the Democratic leadership" in Congress.

The assertion was made in the June issue of the committee's publication, "Straight from the Shoulder." An editorial in the publication attacked the Democrats for what it called "playing politics—and not very smart politics"—with the farm issue.

"They delayed action on the soil bank beyond the time it could help farmers planting spring crops," the editorial said. "Then they loaded the plan down with extraneous, nonworkable and contradictory amendments in a deliberate move to invite the veto which was promptly forthcoming."

Most Eliminated

"In response to the President's request for a new measure—a straight soil bank bill—the Democrat leadership sought again to add provisions that would have brought millions of additional acres under harsh production controls. Most of these objectionable features were eliminated before the new measure was finally approved—an indication that at least some Democrats in Congress had not only been hearing from home but had been studying primary election results as well.

Nebraska Cited

"The President's outstanding show of strength in primaries held in such important farm states as Indiana and Nebraska demonstrated that farmers realize Mr. Eisenhower understands their programs and that his administration is dedicated to the establishment and maintenance of a prosperous, free and expanding agriculture. The imposing Republican vote totals in these states and others reveal also that most farmers recognize and rightfully resent Democrat efforts to make agriculture a political football."

In another article outlining the President's 17-point top priority legislative program, the Journal said:

"With congressional leaders shooting for adjournment in July, the time is running out on the Democrat leadership of the 84th Congress. The first session of the 84th road-blocked most of the President's program. The second session to date has been characterized by 'do nothingness,' although a few signs of life are appearing now."

Estes Pumps New Bitterness Into California Drive

. . . 'Civil Rights, Bossism, Pensions'

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver pumped new bitterness into California's presidential primary Wednesday with a strongly worded offensive against Adlai Stevenson in their final preconvention contest for the Democratic nomination.

Fighting for the state's 68 Democratic delegates in next Tuesday's election, the Tennessee senator pointedly ignored Stevenson's gesture for an intraparty truce in a primary shaping up as hot and close.

He concentrated on three sensitive issues—civil rights, "bossism" and pensions. In quick order he:

1. Blamed the backing of Stevenson by what he termed "Talmadge - type politicians" for his own defeat in the Florida primary Tuesday, with school integration as the key factor.

'Czars'

2. Renewed charges of "bossism" among Stevenson supporters in California, asserting that two of them stand to become party "czars" if Stevenson wins the primary.

3. Said his record was consistently friendly to the old folks—a sizeable segment of the California population — while Stevenson, as governor of Illinois, vetoed a 10 per cent increase in old age assistance.

Stevenson supporters in Florida accused Kefauver's camp of circulating "scurrilous literature" when the 1951 Stevenson pension veto was raised there. They said Stevenson was forced to reject the pension bill because the Republican Legislature provided no money to pay the increase.

Kefauver, flying here from Los Angeles, said he was "very optimistic" over his chances in the California primary. It's a winner-take-all proposition for the 68 national convention votes. President Eisenhower is unopposed on the Republican ticket.

The Tennessean interpreted his Florida defeat by a small margin as a "tremendous" moral victory.

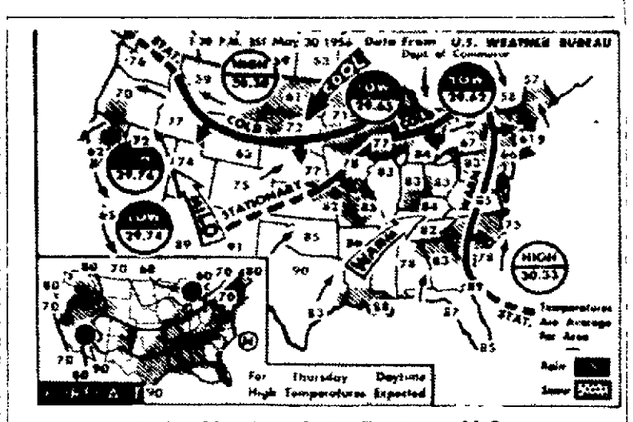

"I feel the main reason I lost in Florida," he said, "was that the Millard Caldwells, certain congressmen and Talmadge - type politicians were for Stevenson and against me on the civil rights issue."

He said Stevenson "not once raised his voice in protest" as former Gov. Caldwell and six Democratic congressmen who had signed the socalled Southern manifesto on school integration pictured Stevenson as a moderate on civil rights and acceptable to the South.

Asked what he meant by "Talmadge-type politicians" he said he referred to prosegregationist former Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia who, he said, wields considerable influence in northern Florida.

Kefauver's comments at two press conferences and in a prepared statement on the "bossism" issue departed from his assurance in Los Angeles that he did not intend to engage in personalities in the California windup.

Stevenson, earlier, deplored the way he said the campaign had "deteriorated" in Florida and said he hoped it wouldn't happen here.

Red Cross Plans Driver Training

A new course to help licensed motorists become safer drivers will be offered to the public by the American Red Cross, according to Lloyd Jenkins, safety services director for Lancaster County.

The course was originally developed by the AAA for women's Motor Service training and is now being extended to the public in an effort to reduce highway accidents.

"The fact that an individual has a driver's license and may have been driving for years, does not necessarily mean he is a skillful and safe driver," Jenkins pointed out. "Some drivers learn improper driving habits and others do not have enough knowledge of how a car operates to understand its power or limitations."

Jenkins said that persons taking the course will be urged to take first aid to help make them more safety conscious and to enable them to give emergency treatment if they encounter a highway accident.

Treasure Vanishes

VIVENNA, Austria (AP)—Austria's National Library reported the loss of one of its most treasured books—a Latin translation of the works of Greek philosopher Aristotle dated 1501.

The book vanished while temporarily stored with other books during redecoration work on the main hall of the library.

The loss was discovered when a request for references from it came from a professor at Queens College, New York.

89-Year-Old Arrives From Germany To Begin Brand New Life In Hampton

Lincoln Star Special

HAMPTON, Neb — The ravages and terror of two wars . . . panic fear of bombings and the loss by death of all her relatives except for one granddaughter has failed to daunt the spirit of Mrs Anna Knaack of Berlin, Germany

Boarding an aircraft for a transcontinental flight to America at age 89 was taken in stride by sprightly Mrs Knack, who speaks not one word of English

"A woman of special prominence," wrote a German newspaperman after witnessing Mrs. Knaack's departure from her homeland amid the flash of camera bulbs.

MRS. ANNA KNAACK

In Lincoln to meet Mrs Knaack was her last surviving relative, a granddaughter, Mrs Paul Franz of near Hampton, the former Ingaborg Doerksen

It was just three years before that Mrs. Knaack stood at the dock waving farewell to Ingaborg who sailed for the states for a visit with the late Mrs. Anna Von Bergen of York, cousin of Mrs Knaack

Mrs Franz is now a full-fledged American citizen, having received her naturalization papers in March of 1955

Her grandmother, gave up her apartment in Berlin, sold her furniture, and over the radio hookup at the airport bid her friends goodbye before boarding the plane which was to bring her to America on a six-months' visa Her first trip in the air was by herself.

Mrs Knack, mother of two daughters, lost both in World War II when Berlin was bombed. The two, along with Ingaborg and 53 other persons, huddled in the basement of an apartment house during a bombing attack; Mrs Knack and Ingaborg's sister were visiting in the country.

Both daughters were killed; Ingaborg was one of four persons who lived through the attack.

Last Of Large Family

Mrs Knack established a home for her two granddaughters Just before Mrs Knack left Berlin, Ingaborg's sister died of cancer. Recently Mrs Knack's surviving brother died in the Russian zone of East Germany, thus she is the last of a family of nine brothers and sisters

Her husband, an active soldier and later a government employee, died in 1924, leaving her with the two girls, Ingaborg's mother and her older sister, a school teacher

"We have arranged one extension for grandmother and hope there will be many more," said the Hampton farm wife, who admitted that the homesickness she has felt for her native land was quickly dispelled when her grandmother arrived.

Midland Gives Four Honoraries

Dr. Paul W. Dieckman (left), president of Midland College at Fremont, congratulates four who received honorary degrees at the college's commencement exercises. The degrees were given (from left to right) to Dr. Fred Wiegman, Akron, O., doctor of laws; Leland Soker, Albuquerque, N. M., doctor of divinity; the Rev. Clemens Zeidler of Fremont, doctor of literature; Willard Alexander, Kansas City, Kan., doctor of divinity. Dr. Zeidler is president of the central states synod of the United Lutheran Churches of America. Graduated at the ceremonies were 59 Midland seniors.

Southern Baptists Warned To Keep Quiet On Segregation

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Southern Baptist Convention (SBC) was urged Wednesday to keep quiet on the racial segregation issue.

Dr. Casper C. Warren of Charlotte, N. C., in a prepared presidential address opening the 4-day meet, reminded the convention that two years ago it approved the United State Supreme Court decision banning segregation in public schools. He warned:

"Open defiance of the Constitutional principle will endanger our foreign mission work throughout 35 areas of the earth and play right into the hands of the Communists, who will welcome the privilege of ridiculing not only our democratic form of government but the type of Christianity which seeks to win the world."

The SBC president, who is scheduled for re-election, told the Baptists if they would "show courage, prudence, patience and understanding called for by the President of the United States, we will find the solution for this question on the local level and will demonstrate to the world that men of every race can live together in peace."

Dr. Warren's appeal was part of a message stressing his desire for harmony and unity in a denomination grown from a regional organization into a nationwide union of 30,000 churches with more than 8 million members. He said because of the size of the convention—each church is entitled to send from one to 10 persons—its unity might be threatened by dispute.

"Divergent viewpoints in such a large group are inevitable," he said, "but let us differ as Christians."

The warning was an obvious reference to sharp floor fights which have marked many SBC meetings.

The convention's executive committee, readying principal business for the full-scale meeting, had already run into one.

The 46-member group debated for more than an hour before tossing out a proposed resolution ordering the SBC to launch a court test of constitutionality of federal aid for construction of church-supported hospitals.

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

I read in the gazettes that Man's Best Friend took a friendly bite out of 5880 of Postmaster General Summerfield's better men this past year.

Mr. Summerfield has sent out an urgent call for ways to curb this annual massacre. If you know a good way for a mail man to bite a dog before the dog bites him, write Mr. Summerfield. He will purely appreciate it.

As the owner of a handsome library of dog training books, I researched this whole problem.

There are chapters on how to keep your dog from biting other dogs. Or other dogs from biting your dog. How to keep your dog from biting auto tires, chasing cats, eating shoe polish or biting fleas.

Nothing on biting the man who brings the bills and the checks.

This is a terrific oversight, Mr. Summerfield's annual casualties now approaching the point of nearly 2 per cent.

☆ ☆ ☆

A number of people already have sent suggestions to Mr. Summerfield. They suggest all mail men wear mesh leggings.

They also suggest the mail men look the dog directly in the eye.

"Don't let him know you are afraid."

As a veteran paper boy, I can tell you this is nonsense.

A biting dog will not look you in the eye. He has his eye on your legs.

When I was delivering the morning journals, I was harried regularly by dachshunds, dobermanns, collies and terriers.

"Don't be afraid," said the circulation manager. "A dog can smell fear."

As near as I could tell, I smelled pretty good. I did not smell like fear. I smelled like hamburger. The dogs on my route lay around waiting to catch a delightful whiff and ambushed me regularly.

had one police dog who made a little game of it. He would let me get the paper slung toward the porch and a five-yard start. Then he would take off after me uttering horrid war cries.

At the time I was riding a country route on a motorcycle. And he was good for about 30 miles per hour on the 50-yard dash. The motorcycle could accelerate to just about 30 miles per hour in that 50 yards.

It was a close thing every day. And when he spilled me, he was justly proud.

It was an interesting life for me, too. When a motorcycle goes out from under you at that speed, it doesn't kill you. But it takes off a lot of skin.

☆ ☆ ☆

My own boxer whose name is Carmichael, has never bitten a postman. Mainly it may be because we have no mail delivery. I get my mail at a post office box down in the village.

It is a little more friendly, I think. We all go down to the post office in the morning and stand around and gab under the "Wanted by the FBI" pictures.

I would like to get hold of the people who stuff my box full of advertising literature addressed to "Occupant, Box 22."

I would encourage my dog to bite that person.

Every time I open the blooming box, it is stuffed with papers stamped "Occupant." I fling these papers in the trash barrel. But usually find important mail has somehow got mixed up in the folds. When this problem ceases I will have more sympathy with the Post Office Department.

☆ ☆ ☆

The first Postmaster General was Benjamin Franklin. The same who flew the kite with a key on it, thus discovering the celestial charge account.

I find nothing in "Poor Richard's Almanack" about dog problems of postmen. However, Ben got out of the business after one year. And who knows what troubles he had.

There is also a matter here of equality for the taxpayer. I buy expensive horsemeat for Mike while 5,880 citizens are feeding their dogs prime postman. Is that fair! I ask you.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

There are the usual social events to be mentioned out in Eastborough this week, but we feel there is one very important phase of Suburbian news which we have been neglecting and that is the large number of people who are constantly moving into these areas. We have learned of only a few of these newcomers by word of mouth on our weekly tours, so we decided it was time we got down to business and pay some real attention to those families we missed along the way. So, beginning now, read slowly and carefully—We may mention someone who has just moved next door to you without your knowing it and you know the saying, "Love thy neighbor." Well, how can you do that if you don't even know them?

Several of our new names are connected with LAFB. For instance, Lt. Leslie Allen came to Lincoln last July and was joined by his wife and son, Charles, 10, in December. Lt. Allen hails from Georgia and Mrs. Allen's original home is in Oklahoma. They are now residing at 316 West Rio Road.

Then there are Capt. and Mrs. William F. Francis who just recently moved into 247 West Rio Road. The Francises and their children, Michele, two, and John, four months, came to Lincoln in January of '55. Mrs. Francis is a Pennsylvanian and Lt. Francis comes from Kansas.

Our third LAFB family is Lt. and Mrs. John W. Hakin and their daughter, Pamela, 13 months, who are now living at 626 E. Eldora Lane. Both Lt. and Mrs. Haken originally came from Michigan.

Lt. and Mrs. Marvin Skappel are living in Lincoln due to the Navy. The Skappels have three daughters, Lynn, eight; Margaret, five; and Nancy, nine months. The fivesome is finding Lincoln quite a change from their previous base in Kodiak, Alaska. Lt. and Mrs. Skappel are natives of Minnesota.

We found a very interesting family now residing at 611 Eldora Lane. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Foster and their two children, Richard, seven, and David, nine, came to Lincoln from Goodwell, Okla., in order that Mr. Foster might take some graduate work at the University of Nebraska Teachers College. Mrs. Foster is kept busy teaching fifth grade at Clinton School and keeping an eye on her two sons who are pupils there. Both Mr. and Mrs. Foster are graduates of Oklahoma A & M and although Mrs. Foster was originally from the Sooner state, Mr. Foster was born and reared in Virgina.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Whybark came last November from Wichita, Kan. and are very happy with their new home at 7121 Eastborough, as they have found so many pleasant people in their neighborhood. Mr. and Mrs. Whybark were originally from Idaho.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth James are the new occupants at 529 Northborough. They have two children, Gary, five years old—and Nancy, 19 months, and have always lived right here in Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Wolfe and their daughter, Catherine, 10, have been in Lincoln since 1954, but they just recently moved to 7040 Eastborough. Mr. Wolfe comes from Cambridge and Mrs. Wolfe from Jackson, Minn.

Tomorrow, June 1, is the day that Mr. and Mrs. Robert Regler will be moving into their new home at 719 E. Eldora Lane. The Reglers always have resided in Lincoln and Mr. Regler is now art director at KOLN/TV. They have two little girls, Terri, eight, and Janet, seven.

If you have time, drop in and see the trophy Mrs. Eugene Davilla so proudly has on display at her home. Mrs. Davilla won it as captain of a bowling team in the Women's Bowling League at LAFB for high team game. The members of her team are Mrs. Don Grimwood, Mrs. James Norris, Mrs. Wilmot Paxton and Mrs. Don Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. Galen Fritchie and their three daughters, Barbara, Marcia and Cindy traveled to Memphis Lake last Sunday for a picnic. Accompanying them were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ritchey, their daughter, Charlene, and Pam Cecan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cecan.

TOWN TALK

THE PICNICS, the jaunts to summer cabins not too far from Lincoln—the flags at half-mast all were a part of yesterday—But Memorial Day has passed and normal procedure in the matter of living began at dawn today —And this morning we have a bit of this and that in the news —and parties, some for a popular bride-elect and some to say goodbye, are predominant.

* * *

BUT THERE also are guests to mention this morning — We heard, for example, that Mrs. M. H. Power of Rochester, Minn., arrived on Tuesday evening to spend a few days as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Larry Becker, and Mr. Becker. In fact Memorial Day was more or less a reunion for members of Mrs. Becker's family—Together for family reminiscing were, in addition to Mrs. Power, her two brothers, Wray Henninger of Kansas City, Kan., and J. Fred Henninger of Lincoln.

* * *

ON TUESDAY, when Mrs. L. A. Webber entertained at luncheon at the Inter-Com Club, it was a surprise farewell courtesy for Mrs Robert Yaw who, with Capt. Yaw, leaves soon for the Air Force officer's new assignment at Larado, Tex The guest list included the members of the staff of Jet Skirts, of which Mrs. Webber is editor, and of which Mrs. Yaw has served as associate editor for the past 11 months. The 12 guests presented the honoree with a going-away gift.

* * *

APROPOS of the Air Force and its activities, there is to be a carnival at the south hangar on the Base Saturday afternoon, June 2—and we are told that quite elaborate plans have been made to make it a success. The carnival is sponsored by the Officers Wives Club, the NCO Wives Club and the Airmen's Wives Club, and the proceeds will be divided among the three groups for their philanthropies.

But back to the carnival—The food booths will open at 1 o'clock and continue until the last carnival spectatator has gone—and the Midway attractions will be open between the hours of 2 o'clock and 7 o'clock —and we hear there will be entertainment for all ages.

Chairman of the carnival arrangements committee is Mrs. Robert Haston, and her co-chairmen are Mrs. Albert Ponsock and Mrs. Glenn Abbott.

* * *

IN CASE you have been wondering whether or not Mr. and Mrs. Norman Shaw have decided upon a name for their brand new son who arrived last Monday, May 28, at Lincoln General Hospital, we can tell you that they have. The young man henceforth shall be known as Cameron Shaw.

With A Flair And A Flourish

The Sanford Porter home is a prime example of how you can decorate your house to give it that prized personal touch and to add warmth to modern furnishings, yet still remain within the family budget.

To set off an open stairwell in her home, and yet to keep the feeling of spaciousness which a solid wall would eliminate, Mrs. Porter devised the clever solution pictured above which adds beauty and a touch of distinction to her living room.

The screen is fashioned of plastic cording, tautly bracketed to the ceiling and the railing, and the "school" of fish are of native Nebraska walnut, hand-carved by Mrs. Porter. The fish definitely took a "flair and a flourish" involving blocks of wood, a saw, drills and a gouge, but the finishing is simply a good rub with linseed oil.

The big secret, of course, is how to make the fish "stay put." The answer: almost invisible nylon fishing line fastened to the ceiling suspends each fish exactly where you want it.

Another clever addition to the Porter living room is the long, low table made to the Porters' specifications from the same walnut tree as the fish.

Coffee Planned For Mrs. Baker

In courtesy to Mrs. Frank Baker of Omaha, the new Red Cross Volunteer Consultant for eastern Nebraska, members of the Lincoln Red Cross chapter will entertain at a coffee on Friday morning between the hours of 10 o'clock and 12 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. W. W. Bartels, assistant Red Cross VAVS representative, with Mrs. Marvin Grimm, Red Cross Location Chairman at Veterans Hospital, assisting.

Presiding at the coffee table during the morning will be Mrs. John Scofield, Mrs. Blanchard Anderson, Mrs. Emily Gardiner and Mrs. Grace Darby.

The guest list will include Red Cross volunteers at Veterans Hospital, board members and hospital staff.

Nebraska Is Well Represented

For the first time since the male-scarce days of World War II, the top positions on the Daily Illini, student newspaper at the University of Illinois, have been taken over by the fair sex—and Nebraska.

Miss Roberta Resnick of Omaha is the new campus editor of the Illini, and elected to the position of activities editor was Miss Marilyn Ebel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Ebel of Lincoln.

In the picture we see Miss Resnick at the typewriter, no doubt suggesting various assignments in which Miss Ebel (standing) might be interested.

Miss Resnick is a junior at the University of Illinois and is majoring in journalism and communications.

Miss Ebel is a sophomore in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Head Havelock Club

A Tailored Tops Club has been organized for the feminine residents in the Havelock YW community who need moral support in their efforts to follow their doctor's reducing diets. The group met Tuesday evening at the center to plan activities for the summer months and to install a group of officers.

Heading the club will be Mrs. Ray Boleschka, leader; Mrs. Alfred Davis, co-leader; Mrs. Jack Lear, secretary; Mrs. Stan Wimmer, treasurer; Mrs. Newell Robison, reporter; and Mrs. Fred Nielsen, the all-important weight recorder.

THE BRIDES' BOOK SAYS:

In pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Jean Rodzielski, who will become the bride of S. Sgt. William H. Schaffhausen early in June, Mrs. T. M. Bockwitz and Mrs. O. N. Sundet will entertain Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Sundet. Twelve guests have been invited for an informal evening and will present a linen shower to the honoree.

The marriage of Miss Rodzielski and Sgt. Schaffhausen will be solemnized on Saturday morning, June 9, at St. Patrick's Church.

A June bride-elect who was honored last Monday evening was Miss Juanalee Oestmann who was presented a china shower at the home of Mrs. Lester Dovel. Co-hostess for the pre-nuptial courtesy were Miss Mary Ann Anderson and Miss Shirley Wilkinson of Lincoln, Miss LaVonne Weston of Gibbon, Miss Janet Fullriede of Nebraska City, and Miss Norma Rogge of Auburn.

Miss Oestmann will become the bride of Richard Alden on Sunday, June 17, at a 4 o'clock afternoon service to be solemnized at St. Paul Lutheran Church near Auburn.

Miss Norma Rogge will attend Miss Oestmann as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss LaVonne Weston of Gibbon, Miss Mary Ann Anderson of Lincoln, and Mrs. Melvin Earnest of Milford. Miss Rita Oestmann will be her sister's junior bridesmaid, and the flower girls will be Miss Irene Bergmann and Miss Irene Rogge, both of Auburn.

Lighting the candles for the service will be Miss Janet Fullriede of Nebraska City, and Miss Shirley Wilkinson of Lincoln.

John C. Alden of Santa Monica, Calif., will serve his brother as best man, and seating the guests will be Paul Bunge, Warren Monson and Mike Gaskins of Lincoln, and Daniel Busse of Bird City, Kan.

This is Thursday and this evening Mr. and Mrs. George Holyoke will be host and hostess at a picnic supper at their home in prenuptial courtesy to Miss Nancy Hemphill whose marriage to Robert Dawson will take place on June 10. The guest list will include only members of the families.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

There are the usual social events to be mentioned out in Eastborough this week, but we feel there is one very important phase of Suburbian news which we have been neglecting and that is the large number of people who are constantly moving into these areas. We have learned of only a few of these newcomers by word of mouth on our weekly tours, so we decided it was time we got down to business and pay some real attention to those families we missed along the way. So, beginning now, read slowly and carefully—We may mention someone who has just moved next door to you without your knowing it and you know the saying, "Love thy neighbor." Well, how can you do that if you don't even know them?

Several of our new names are connected with LAFB. For instance, Lt. Leslie Allen came to Lincoln last July and was joined by his wife and son, Charles, 10, in December. Lt. Allen hails from Georgia and Mrs. Allen's original home is in Oklahoma. They are now residing at 316 West Rio Road.

Then there are Capt. and Mrs. William F. Francis who just recently moved into 247 West Rio Road. The Francises and their children, Michele, two, and John, four months, came to Lincoln in January of '55. Mrs. Francis is a Pennsylvanian and Lt. Francis comes from Kansas.

Our third LAFB family is Lt. and Mrs. John W. Hakin and their daughter, Pamela, 13 months, who are now living at 626 E. Eldora Lane. Both Lt. and Mrs. Haken originally came from Michigan.

Lt. and Mrs. Marvin Skappel are living in Lincoln due to the Navy. The Skappels have three daughters, Lynn, eight; Margaret, five; and Nancy, nine months. The fivesome is finding Lincoln quite a change from their previous base in Kodiak, Alaska. Lt. and Mrs. Skappel are natives of Minnesota.

We found a very interesting family now residing at 611 Eldora Lane. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Foster and their two children, Richard, seven, and David, nine, came to Lincoln from Goodwell, Okla., in order that Mr. Foster might take some graduate work at the University of Nebraska Teachers College. Mrs. Foster is kept busy teaching fifth grade at Clinton School and keeping an eye on her two sons who are pupils there. Both Mr. and Mrs. Foster are graduates of Oklahoma A & M and although Mrs. Foster was originally from the Sooner state, Mr. Foster was born and reared in Virgina.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Whybark came last November from Wichita, Kan. and are very happy with their new home at 7121 Eastborough, as they have found so many pleasant people in their neighborhood. Mr. and Mrs. Whybark were originally from Idaho.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth James are the new occupants at 529 Northborough. They have two children, Gary, five years old—and Nancy, 19 months, and have always lived right here in Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Wolfe and their daughter, Catherine, 10, have been in Lincoln since 1954, but they just recently moved to 7040 Eastborough. Mr. Wolfe comes from Cambridge and Mrs. Wolfe from Jackson, Minn.

Tomorrow, June 1, is the day that Mr. and Mrs. Robert Regler will be moving into their new home at 719 E. Eldora Lane. The Reglers always have resided in Lincoln and Mr. Regler is now art director at KOLNTV. They have two little girls, Terri, eight, and Janet, seven.

If you have time, drop in and see the trophy Mrs. Eugene Davilla so proudly has on display at her home. Mrs. Davilla won it as captain of a bowling team in the Women's Bowling League at LAFB for high team game. The members of her team are Mrs. Don Grimwood, Mrs. James Norris, Mrs. Wilmot Paxton and Mrs. Don Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. Galen Fritchie and their three daughters, Barbara, Marcia and Cindy traveled to Memphis Lake last Sunday for a picnic. Accompanying them were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ritchey, their daughter, Charlene, and Pam Cecan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cecan.

TOWN TALK

THE PICNICS, the jaunts to summer cabins not too far from Lincoln—the flags at half-mast all were a part of yesterday—But Memorial Day has passed and normal procedure in the matter of living began at dawn today—And this morning we have a bit of this and that in the news—and parties, some for a popular bride-elect and some to say goodbye, are predominant.

* * *

BUT THERE also are guests to mention this morning — We heard, for example, that Mrs. M. H. Power of Rochester, Minn., arrived on Tuesday evening to spend a few days as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Larry Becker, and Mr. Becker. In fact Memorial Day was more or less a reunion for members of Mrs. Becker's family—Together for family reminiscing were, in addition to Mrs. Power, her two brothers, Wray Henninger of Kansas City, Kan., and J. Fred Henninger of Lincoln.

* * *

ON TUESDAY, when Mrs. L. A. Webber entertained at luncheon at the Inter-Com Club, it was a surprise farewell courtesy for Mrs. Robert Yaw who, with Capt. Yaw, leaves soon for the Air Force officer's new assignment at Larado, Tex. The guest list included the members of the staff of Jet Skirts, of which Mrs. Webber is editor, and of which Mrs. Yaw has served as associate editor for the past 11 months. The 12 guests presented the honoree with a going-away gift.

* * *

APROPOS of the Air Force and its activities, there is to be a carnival at the south hangar on the Base Saturday afternoon, June 2—and we are told that quite elaborate plans have been made to make it a success. The carnival is sponsored by the Officers Wives Club, the NCO Wives Club and the Airmen's Wives Club, and the proceeds will be divided among the three groups for their philanthropies.

But back to the carnival—The food booths will open at 1 o'clock and continue until the last carnival spectatator has gone—and the Midway attractions will be open between the hours of 2 o'clobck and 7 o'clock—and we hear there will be entertainment for all ages.

Chairman of the carnival arrangements committee is Mrs. Robert Haston, and her co-chairmen are Mrs. Albert Ponsock and Mrs. Glenn Abbott.

* * *

IN CASE you have been wondering whether or not Mr. and Mrs. Norman Shaw have decided upon a name for their brand new son who arrived last Monday, May 28, at Lincoln General Hospital, we can tell you that they have. The young man henceforth shall be known as Cameron Shaw.

With A Flair And A Flourish

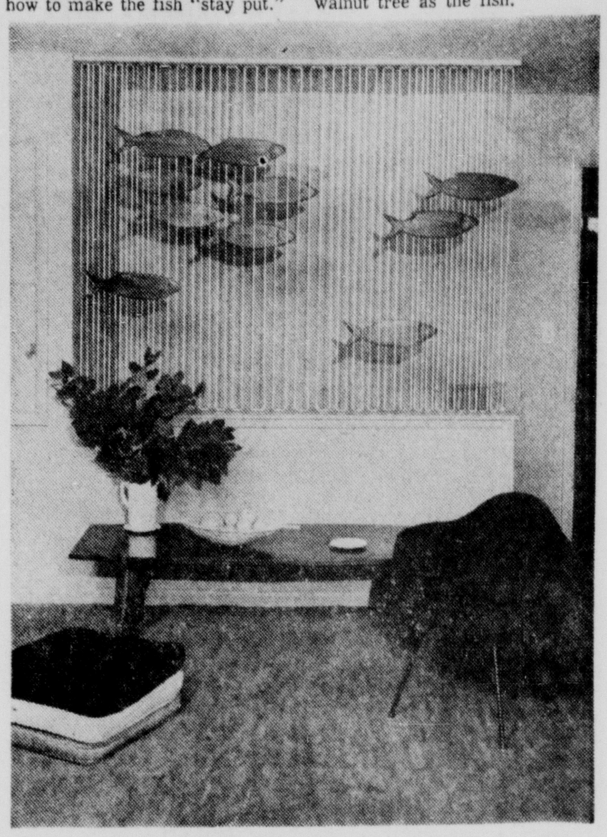

The Sanford Porter home is a prime example of how you can decorate your house to give it that prized personal touch and to add warmth to modern furnishings, yet still remain within the family budget.

To set off an open stairwell in her home, and yet to keep the feeling of spaciousness which a solid wall would eliminate, Mrs. Porter devised the clever solution pictured above which adds beauty and a touch of distinction to her living room.

The screen is fashioned of plastic cording, tautly bracketed to the ceiling and the railing, and the "school" of fish are of native Nebraska walnut, hand-carved by Mrs. Porter. The fish definitely took a "flair and a flourish" involving blocks of wood, a saw, drills and a gouge, but the finishing is simply a good rub with linseed oil.

The big secret, of course, is how to make the fish "stay put." The answer: almost invisible nylon fishing line fastened to the ceiling suspends each fish exactly where you want it.

Another clever addition to the Porter living room is the long, low table made to the Porters' specifications from the same walnut tree as the fish.

Coffee Planned For Mrs. Baker

In courtesy to Mrs. Frank Baker of Omaha, the new Red Cross Volunteer Consultant for eastern Nebraska, members of the Lincoln Red Cross chapter will entertain at a coffee on Friday morning between the hours of 10 o'clock and 12 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. W. W. Bartels, assistant Red Cross VAVS representative, with Mrs. Marvin Grimm, Red Cross Location Chairman at Veterans Hospital, assisting.

Presiding at the coffee table during the morning will be Mrs. John Scofield, Mrs. Blanchard Anderson, Mrs. Emily Gardiner and Mrs. Grace Darby.

The guest list will include Red Cross volunteers at Veterans Hospital, board members and hospital staff.

Nebraska Is Well Represented

For the first time since the male-scarce days of World War II, the top positions on the Daily Illini, student newspaper at the University of Illinois, have been taken over by the fair sex—and Nebraska.

Miss Roberta Resnick of Omaha is the new campus editor of the Illini, and elected to the position of activities editor was Miss Marilyn Ebel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Ebel of Lincoln.

In the picture we see Miss Resnick at the typewriter, no doubt suggesting various assignments in which Miss Ebel (standing) might be interested.

Miss Resnick is a junior at the University of Illinois and is majoring in journalism and communications.

Miss Ebel is a sophomore in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Head Havelock Club

A Tailored Tops Club has been organized for the feminine residents in the Havelock YW community who need moral support in their efforts to follow their doctor's reducing diets. The group met Tuesday evening at the center to plan activities for the summer months and to install a group of officers.

Heading the club will be Mrs. Ray Boleschka, leader; Mrs. Alfred Davis, co-leader; Mrs. Jack Lear, secretary; Mrs. Stan Wimmer, treasurer; Mrs. Newell Robison, reporter; and Mrs. Fred Nielsen, the all-important weight recorder.

THE BRIDES' BOOK SAYS:

In pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Jean Rodzielski, who will become the bride of S. Sgt. William H. Schaffhausen early in June, Mrs. T. M. Bockwitz and Mrs. O. N. Sundet will entertain Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Sundet. Twelve guests have been invited for an informal evening and will present a linen shower to the honoree.

The marriage of Miss Rodzielski and Sgt. Schaffhausen will be solemnized on Saturday morning, June 9, at St. Patrick's Church.

A June bride-elect who was honored last Monday evening was Miss Juanalee Oestmann who was presented a china shower at the home of Mrs. Lester Dovel. Co-hostess for the pre-nuptial courtesy were Miss Mary Ann Anderson and Miss Shirley Wilkinson of Lincoln, Miss LaVonne Weston of Gibbon, Miss Janet Fullriede of Nebraska City, and Miss Norma Rogge of Auburn.

Miss Oestmann will become the bride of Richard Alden on Sunday, June 17, at a 4 o'clock afternoon service to be solemnized at St. Paul Lutheran Church near Auburn.

Miss Norma Rogge will attend Miss Oestmann as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss LaVonne Weston of Gibbon, Miss Mary Ann Anderson of Lincoln, and Mrs. Melvin Earnest of Milford. Miss Rita Oestmann will be her sister's junior bridesmaid, and the flower girls will be Miss Irene Bergmann and Miss Irene Rogge, both of Auburn.

Lighting the candles for the service will be Miss Janet Fullriede of Nebraska City, and Miss Shirley Wilkinson of Lincoln.

John C. Alden of Santa Monica, Calif., will serve his brother as best man, and seating the guests will be Paul Bunge, Warren Monson and Mike Gaskins of Lincoln, and Daniel Busse of Bird City, Kan.

This is Thursday and this evening Mr. and Mrs. George Holyoke will be host and hostess at a picnic supper at their home in prenuptial courtesy to Miss Nancy Hemphill whose marriage to Robert Dawson will take place on June 10. The guest list will include only members of the families.

Gov Victor Anderson was the main speaker before Wednesday evening's premier.

City Council Authorized To Obtain System

GOTHENBURG, Neb. (AP)— Gothenburg citizens voted 747 to 326 to authorize their City Council to demand that Platte Valley Public Power District turn over the city electric distribution system without cost.

Gothenburg interests contended the city is entitled to the distribution system since Platte Valley has enough money on hand to make the system debt free.

The utility, insisting it cannot give up the system until debts are paid off or bonds mature, says that to pay off the debts now would dangerously weaken the financial structure.

Following the election, attorney William Padley said that after a canvass of the votes the council will pass a resolution demanding the distribution system be turned over to the city. If Platte Valley refuses, he said, the matter will be taken to court.

The Gothenburg Development Assn., which has been promoting city ownership of the system, has underwritten the cost of any litigation.

O'Neill Workers Demands Rejected

O'NEILL, Neb. (AP)—The O'Neill city council rejected six demands made by a half dozen city employes who went on strike this week and said the strikers had been "relieved of their jobs."

The six councilmen and the mayor heard the strikers present their demands and then went behind closed doors to make their decisions.

Chief demands of the strikers were that in the future all hiring and firing be done by council vote and that street commissioner J. J Berrigan be dismissed.

Sidney Not Affected By Surplus Crop Halt

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—A presidential order halting surplus crop production on federally-owned lands will have no effect on the Sioux Ordnance Depot farm lease this year. The five-year lease doesn't expire until Dec. 31.

One of the current leaseholders, Pat Heaton Sr. of Sidney, twice a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, says he is not interested in re-leasing. "It has been a headache and a losing proposition," he said.

Early Panhandle Wheat Harvest Forecast

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—While hail has taken heavy toll of wheat in the Nebraska Panhandle, recent rains have given a substantial boost to the crop as a whole in this area.

Observers said Wednesday that with the rains of the last few days—and if June weather is normal—there probably will be an early harvest.

Cutting, which usually doesn't start until the middle of July, may begin by the end of June and be in full swing by Independence Day.

Rains last fall got the crop off to a good start and the Panhandle has benefited from a better supply of moisture this spring than other sections.

The Tuesday night storm however, brought hail damage that was described as the worst in recent years in the Trogmtz and Davison precincts. All together, thousands of acres were hit. Damage ranged from slight to complete.

There were still hailstones on the ground Wednesday morning.

Two twisters were reported in the Panhandle, one of which touched the ground briefly in open country.

Early Panhandle Wheat Harvest Forecast

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—While hail has taken heavy toll of wheat in the Nebraska Panhandle, recent rains have given a substantial boost to the crop as a whole in this area.

Observers said Wednesday that with the rains of the last few days—and if June weather is normal—there probably will be an early harvest.

Cutting, which usually doesn't start until the middle of July, may begin by the end of June and be in full swing by Independence Day.

Rains last fall got the crop off to a good start and the Panhandle has benefited from a better supply of moisture this spring than other sections.

The Tuesday night storm however, brought hail damage that was described as the worst in recent years in the Trognitz and Davison precincts. All together, thousands of acres were hit. Damage ranged from slight to complete.

There were still hailstones on the ground Wednesday morning.

Two twisters were reported in the Panhandle, one of which touched the ground briefly in open country.

Verbal Fireworks Fill Air As Chiefs Win, Lose

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

The Lincoln Chiefs split a day-night Memorial Day doubleheader with the Topeka Hawks, winning the afternoon contest 11-6 and dropping the night affair 11-2. The total attendance for the two games was 3,215.

After five innings of the night game Lincoln trailed 7-2. The Hawks drove Lincoln starter Dewey Williams to the showers in the first inning, scoring seven runs on four hits including a three-run homer by Sammy Taylor.

Williams was guilty of two wild pitches and walked two in the big Topeka frame.

Lincoln tallied single runs in the first and the third on solo home runs by Reggie Grenald and Sam Miley.

Manager Larry Shephard relieved Williams with two out in the first and the bases loaded and shut out the Hawks through the fifth inning. Jack O'Donnell started for Topeka and allowed only three hits, including the two homers, in the first five frames.

In the eigth Topeka stretched the margin to 11-2 by scoring a pair of tallies on a single by Bill Schimchak, sacrifice, a single by Bohlender and an error by Reggie Grenald who dropped a fly ball near the fence.

The Chiefs needed a rally to win the first game.

The two teams meet Thursday in a single game at 8 p.m. Don Rowe (4-1) will pitch for the Chiefs

A big five-run eighth inning broke a 6-6 deadlock to give the Chiefs the hard-earned victory. The game was highlighted by some wierd antics by plate Umpire Max Stone who divided his wrath between Lincoln manager Larry Shepard and the fans.

Stone first irked the fans and Shepard by calling a balk on Lincoln reliefer Don Williams quite some time after Williams stepped off the pitching rubber and only after Topeka claimed the miscue.

Shepard drew a ticket to the showers for protesting the delayed call and then the fans took over. In the middle of the eighth inning Stone stormed out to the rightfield bleachers—in an undignified manner unbecoming an arbiter—and began jawing with the bleacher inhabitants.

Then Stone demanded that Lincoln general manager Dick Wagner give the fans the boot. That prompted a finger-shaking battle between Wagner and Stone.

After several minutes of conversation and rousing choruses of boos from the crowd, action resumed and the Chiefs went on to score their five big tallies. Stone refused a much-needed police escort to his clubhouse quarters following the game.

After Lincoln scored one run on a walk, a sacrifice and Reggie Grenald's single in the eighth, Howie Goss unloaded his second home run of the year—the first in Sherman Field—with two mates aboard to give the Chiefs the cushion they needed.

It was an uphill fight for Lincoln. Topeka scored in the first inning on a pair of singles, a sacrifice and a sacrifice fly by Sammy Taylor, and added another in the third when Bill Bohlender homered.

A double, a single, a sacrifice and an error made it 3-0 for the Hawks in the fourth. In the home fourth the Chiefs began to whittle away at the Hawks lead, scoring two tallies on Dick Stuart's 400-foot home run with Bill Jackson aboard.

It was Stuart's 17th round-tripper of the campaign.

Outduels Hanks, Dodges Wrecks In Slow Victory

By WILL GRIMSLEY

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Pat Flaherty, a red-haired Irishman from Chicago's tough roadster ranks outgunned the veteran Sam Hanks in a stirring two man driving duel Wednesday to win the wreck-spattered 40th 500-mile Speedway race.

Flaherty, 29, barely avoiding a serious accident in the final 30 miles, drove his snub-nosed cream and rose machine across the finish line just 22 seconds ahead of the 41-year old Hanks from Burbank, Calif., making his 11th bid for America's premier auto racing prize.

The winning time was an average of 128.490 m.p.h., which fell well short of an anticipated record because of a series of accidents which kept the yellow caution flag flying for an hour and 11 minutes.

Twelve cars were involved in smashups or accidents of a smaller nature but the drivers walked away with no serious injuries. Two crewmen and two spectators suffered minor injuries.

Flaherty, the fastest qualifier with a record 145.596 mark in the 10 mile trials, himself barely escaped possible serious injuries when he sent his car careening around Jim Rathmann's machine which went into a spin on the northeast turn.

Following Hanks was Don Freeland, Redondo Beach, Calif., who made a strong finishing bid.

Johnnie Parsons, Van Nuys, Calif., who won a shortened race here in 1950, finished fourth, followed by Dick Rathmann, Trenton, N. J., fifth; Bob Sweikert, Indianapolis, the defending champion, sixth; Rodger Ward, Los Angeles, seventh; Bob Veith, Oakland, Calif., eighth, Jimmy Reece, Oklahoma City, ninth, and Cliff Griffith, Indianapolis, 10th.

The record for the 500 mile run around the 2½ mile brick and asphalt track is 130.840 set by the late Bill Vukovich, killed in a four car smashup last year. Sweikert won last year in 128.209.

Flaherty who had suffered crackups in two of his previous attempts, shot into the lead at the 75 mile point and led virtually every lap thereafter. From the 200 mile mark, he never was headed.

Eleven times the yellow flag—calling for hold of positions and reduced speed — went up after crackups and accidents of a smaller nature. Old timers called it the most "caution time" ever used in the race.

Most seriously injured drivers were Jimmy Daywalt, Indianapolis and Tony Bettenhausen, Tinley Park, Ill., who crashed within seconds of each other.

Daywalt suffered burns and abrasions about the head and arms. Bettenhausen suffered a probable fractured collar bone.

Other drivers in accidents were Al Herman, Center Valley, Pa., whose car hit two retaining walls and stopped at the starting line; and Jimmy Bryan, Phoenix, Ariz., whose car spun out from the southeast turn.

Sweikert was a strong contender to repeat — challenging Flaherty until the last 100 miles. He was running second when his car threw a left rear tire on the back straightaway. He straightened his car, drove approximately a mile and a half to the pits and, after a 43-second stop for a new tire, finished the race.

Flaherty, formerly of Glendale, Calif., won more than $75,000. The exact prize money is not established until Thursday night. He won $19,200 alone in lap money, $150 being awarded to the leader of each lap.

Besides Flaherty's fearless driving, quick and expert work of his mechanics in the pits contributed to his triumph. He had only two pit stops and they totaled 81 seconds.

Hanks made two pit stops which required 99 seconds, the difference being just about the space in the finish.

Glamour Girl Kisses Greasy Race Winner

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Bill Fitzgerald, Associated Press sportswriter who wrote the following story, was formerly a sports member of The Star staff.)

By BILL FITZGERALD

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The glamour girl in an immaculate blue dress came out of the $35 seats and kissed the greasy guy who had just won a small fortune. And the $3 ticket holders whistled and whooped their approval.

Brown-haired Virginia Mayo and a red-haired Chicagoan who looks like baseball's Red Schoendienst, provided the speedway's official goodbye to the mob beneath a hot Indiana sun this Memorial Day.

It happened in Victory Lane, where 500-mile kings are crowned. Pat Flaherty had just nudged his superior car into the area and had been pounced upon by his excited crew. Pat was shouting something about their being the greatest in the world, and they were whacking each other on the back when someone suddenly said the ceremonies should go on.

Charms Crowd

The good-looking Hollywood girl played her part well, and then she charmed aside the crowd so that petite Marilyn Flaherty could slip in next to her husband.

The redhead put his arm around his wife and began to answer questions. He was holding a bottle of milk in one hand when he said: "No, I'm not tired—not tired at all." "Any worries?" someone asked.

Flaherty said he was worried only about the car breaking down, adding:

"I just wanted to keep running."

Then he started talking again about "the most wonderful crew in the world."

Two quiet men standing at the edge of the audience seemed to have the biggest smiles in the crowd. Pat waved to them and they edged toward his car. John and Jim Flaherty of Glendale, Calif., put their hands on their brother's shoulder and listened to the freckle-faced redhead say, "Well, we made it at last!"

Pastrano Stops Chuck Spierser

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Willie Pastrano of New Orleans halted Chuck Spieser's invasion of the heavyweight ranks Wednesday night with a split decision over the former Olympic champion from Detroit. Pastrano weighed 182¼, Spieser 172.

The victory was the 37th in 45 fights for Pastrano, ranked sixth for the vacant heavyweight title. It was his second over Spieser in the last 10 months.

Midafternoon Too Early For Millionaire Nashua

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Nashua, the popular Mr. Millions of horse racing, met his Waterloo again Wednesday at Belmont Park when Midafternoon won the 63rd running of the $55,800 Metropolitan Mile before a shocked crowd of 51,389. It was the first stakes victory for the 9-1 outsider.

Nashua, who on May 19 won the Camden Handicap and surpassed Citation as the world's leading money-winning horse, finished fourth — out of the money for only the second time in his spectacular 25-race career.

Instead of the $37,700 which went to the long-shot winner, Nashua collected only $2,500 to make his all-time total $1,102,865.

Thrilling Finish

It was a thrilling finish with five horses in the field of seven battling for the big money in the final strides. The top weight of 130 pounds cost Nashua the race as he failed to duplicate the feats of the last three winners, Tom Fool, Native Dancer and High Gun. The latter three all carried 130 pounds in capturing the Met.

Gerald S. Colelli's Switch On was second, beaten a head, while Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Find ran third, another half-length back. Find finished a neck in front of Nashua in the photo. James Cox Brady's Artismo was also in the picture, beaten three-quarters of a length for the fourth-place piece of the purse.

Midafternoon, a speed demon owned by Mrs. Edward Robbins of New York, flashed the distance in 1:35 flat over a lightning-fast strip for the fastest mile seen hereabouts in many a moon. It equalled the stakes record set in 1930 by George D. Widener's Jack High who carried only 110 pounds.

Bill Boland rode Midafternoon, a 4-year-old son of Billings, out of Mideau by Bull Dog. The winner, who finally took over the lead near the finish, carried only 111 pounds. Switch On had 113 and Find 116.

Midafternoon paid $20.60, $9.80 and $6.90. Switch On returned $9.20 and $8.80. Find was $4.10 to show. Nashua went off as the 13-20 favorite.

The crowd bet $536,190 on the feature and $262,906 was spread across the board on Nashua. In the win pool of $378,737, the Nashua backers contributed $193,667.

15 Homers Aged As Cubs, Braves Divide Doubleheader

CHICAGO (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves and Chicago Cubs set a new major league record of 15 home runs in two games as they divided a doubleheader before 29,113 Wednesday.

There were nine homers, five by the Braves, as the Cubs captured the opener, 10-9. Milwaukee hammered four of six homers in the second game to give the Braves an 11-9 triumph.

The old mark of 14 homers by two teams in a doubleheader was set May 22, 1930, by the New York Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics. The Yankees got nine of this total.

Bobby Thomson hit four of the Milwaukee total, getting two in each game.

The Braves tagged Chicago pitcher Russ Meyer for thres straight homers in the first inning of the opener.

Eddie Mathews, Hank Aaron, and Thomson hit the homers and when Meyer's second pitch hit the protective cap of Billy Bruton, the sixth Milwaukee batter, the affair boiled over into a Donnybrook.

Bruton charged Meyer with bat in hand, but was grounded by Manager Charlie Grimm's flying tackle. After a melee on the ground, both Meyer and Bruton were banished. Meyer had a cut on his neck, and Bruton a bruise on his face.

In the second game, Chicago had a 4-2 lead against Ray Crone, the eventual winner, when the Braves exploded for four runs in the sixth and added five more in the seventh to chase Cub starter Warren Hacker with his fifth consecutive loss.

Verbal Fireworks Fill Air As Chiefs Win, Lose

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

The Lincoln Chiefs split a day-night Memorial Day doubleheader with the Topeka Hawks, winning the afternoon contest 11-6 and dropping the night affair 11-2. The total attendance for the two games was 3,215.

After five innings of the night game Lincoln trailed 7-2. The Hawks drove Lincoln starter Dewey Williams to the showers in the first inning, scoring seven runs on four hits including a three-run homer by Sammy Taylor.

Williams was guilty of two wild pitches and walked two in the big Topeka frame.

Lincoln tallied single runs in the first and the third on solo home runs by Reggie Grenald and Sam Miley.

Manager Larry Shephard relieved Williams with two out in the first and the bases loaded and shut out the Hawks through the fifth inning. Jack O'Donnell started for Topeka and allowed only three hits, including the two homers, in the first five frames.

In the eigth Topeka stretched the margin to 11-2 by scoring a pair of tallies on a single by Bill Schimchak, sacrifice, a single by Bohlender and an error by Reggie Grenald who dropped a fly ball near the fence.

The Chiefs needed a rally to win the first game.

The two teams meet Thursday in a single game at 8 p.m. Don Rowe (4-1) will pitch for the Chiefs

A big five-run eighth inning broke a 6-6 deadlock to give the Chiefs the hard-earned victory. The game was highlighted by some wierd antics by plate Umpire Max Stone who divided his wrath between Lincoln manager Larry Shepard and the fans.

Stone first irked the fans and Shepard by calling a balk on Lincoln reliefer Don Williams quite some time after Williams stepped off the pitching rubber and only after Topeka claimed the miscue.

Shepard drew a ticket to the showers for protesting the delayed call and then the fans took over. In the middle of the eighth inning Stone stormed out to the rightfield bleachers—in an undignified manner unbecoming an arbiter—and began jawing with the bleacher inhabitants.

Then Stone demanded that Lincoln general manager Dick Wagner give the fans the boot. That prompted a finger-shaking battle between Wagner and Stone.

After several minutes of conversation and rousing choruses of boos from the crowd, action resumed and the Chiefs went on to score their five big tallies. Stone refused a much-needed police escort to his clubhouse quarters following the game.

After Lincoln scored one run on a walk, a sacrifice and Reggie Grenald's single in the eighth, Howie Goss unloaded his second home run of the year—the first in Sherman Field—with two mates aboard to give the Chiefs the cushion they needed.

It was an uphill fight for Lincoln. Topeka scored in the first inning on a pair of singles, a sacrifice and a sacrifice fly by Sammy Taylor, and added another in the third when Bill Bohlender homered.

A double, a single, a sacrifice and an error made it 3-0 for the Hawks in the fourth. In the home fourth the Chiefs began to whittle away at the Hawks lead, scoring two tallies on Dick Stuart's 400-foot home run with Bill Jackson aboard.

It was Stuart's 17th round-tripper of the campaign.

Brooklyn, Phils Split

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The riled-up Philadelphia Phillies clubbed the Brooklyn Dodgers 12-3 in the nightcap of a doubleheader Wednesday to avenge a first-game loss of 6-5 before 35,492 at Connie Mack Stadium. Saul Rogovin stymied the Dodgers, giving up eight hits, while five Brooklyn pitchers paraded to the mound in a losing cause in the second game.

The Brooks, trailing 4-0 in the opener, knocked out Robin Roberts in a six-run sixth inning.

The winning time was an average of 128.490 m.p.h., which fell well short of an anticipated record because of a series of accidents which kept the yellow caution flag flying for an hour and 11 minutes.

Twelve cars were involved in smashups or accidents of a smaller nature but the drivers walked away with no serious injuries. Two crewmen and two spectators suffered minor injuries.

Flaherty, the fastest qualifier with a record 145.596 mark in the 10 mile trials, himself barely escaped possible serious injuries when he sent his car careening around Jim Rathmann's machine which went into a spin on the northeast turn.

Following Hanks was Don Freeland, Redondo Beach, Calif., who made a strong finishing bid.

Johnnie Parsons, Van Nuys, Calif., who won a shortened race here in 1950, finished fourth, followed by Dick Rathmann, Trenton, N. J., fifth; Bob Sweikert, Indianapolis, the defending champion, sixth; Rodger Ward, Los Angeles, seventh; Bob Veith, Oakland, Calif., eighth, Jimmy Reece, Oklahoma City, ninth, and Cliff Griffith, Indianapolis, 10th.

The record for the 500 mile run around the 2½ mile brick and asphalt track is 130.840 set by the late Bill Vukovich, killed in a four car smashup last year. Sweikert won last year in 128.209.

Flaherty who had suffered crackups in two of his previous attempts, shot into the lead at the 75 mile point and led virtually every lap thereafter. From the 200 mile mark, he never was headed.

Eleven times the yellow flag—calling for hold of positions and reduced speed — went up after crackups and accidents of a smaller nature. Old timers called it the most "caution time" ever used in the race.

Most seriously injured drivers were Jimmy Daywalt, Indianapolis and Tony Bettenhausen, Tinley Park, Ill., who crashed within seconds of each other.

Daywalt suffered burns and abrasions about the head and arms. Bettenhausen suffered a probable fractured collar bone.

Other drivers in accidents were Al Herman, Center Valley, Pa., whose car hit two retaining walls and stopped at the starting line; and Jimmy Bryan, Phoenix, Ariz., whose car spun out from the southeast turn.

Sweikert was a strong contender to repeat — challenging Flaherty until the last 100 miles. He was running second when his car threw a left rear tire on the back straightaway. He straightened his car, drove approximately a mile and a half to the pits and, after a 43-second stop for a new tire, finished the race.

Flaherty, formerly of Glendale, Calif., won more than $75,000. The exact prize money is not established until Thursday night. He won $19,200 alone in lap money, $150 being awarded to the leader of each lap.

Besides Flaherty's fearless driving, quick and expert work of his mechanics in the pits contributed to his triumph. He had only two pit stops and they totaled 81 seconds.

Hanks made two pit stops which required 99 seconds, the difference being just about the space in the finish.

Glamour Girl Kisses Greasy Race Winner

By BILL FITZGERALD

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The glamour girl in an immaculate blue dress came out of the $35 seats and kissed the greasy guy who had just won a small fortune. And the $3 ticket holders whistled and whooped their approval.

Brown-haired Virginia Mayo and a red-haired Chicagoan who looks like baseball's Red Schoendienst, provided the speedway's official goodbye to the mob beneath a hot Indiana sun this Memorial Day.

It happened in Victory Lane, where 500-mile kings are crowned. Pat Flaherty had just nudged his superior car into the area and had been pounced upon by his excited crew. Pat was shouting something about their being the greatest in the world, and they were whacking each other on the back when someone suddenly said the ceremonies should go on.

Charms Crowd

The good-looking Hollywood girl played her part well, and then she charmed aside the crowd so that petite Marilyn Flaherty could slip in next to her husband.

The redhead put his arm around his wife and began to answer questions. He was holding a bottle of milk in one hand when he said: "No, I'm not tired—not tired at all." "Any worries?" someone asked.

Flaherty said he was worried only about the car breaking down, adding:

"I just wanted to keep running."

Then he started talking again about "the most wonderful crew in the world."

Two quiet men standing at the edge of the audience seemed to have the biggest smiles in the crowd. Pat waved to them and they edged toward his car. John and Jim Flaherty of Glendale, Calif., put their hands on their brother's shoulder and listened to the freckle-faced redhead say, "Well, we made it at last!"

Midafternoon Too Early For Millionaire Nashua

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Nashua, the popular Mr. Millions of horse racing, met his Waterloo again Wednesday at Belmont Park when Midafternoon won the 63rd running of the $55,800 Metropolitan Mile before a shocked crowd of 51,389. It was the first stakes victory for the 9-1 outsider.

Nashua, who on May 19 won the Camden Handicap and surpassed Citation as the world's leading money-winning horse, finished fourth — out of the money for only the second time in his spectacular 25-race career.

Instead of the $37,700 which went to the long-shot winner, Nashua collected only $2,500 to make his all-time total $1,102,865.

Thrilling Finish

It was a thrilling finish with five horses in the field of seven battling for the big money in the final strides. The top weight of 130 pounds cost Nashua the race as he failed to duplicate the feats of the last three winners, Tom Fool, Native Dancer and High Gun. The latter three all carried 130 pounds in capturing the Met.

Gerald S. Colelli's Switch On was second, beaten a head, while Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Find ran third, another half-length back. Find finished a neck in front of Nashua in the photo. James Cox Brady's Artismo was also in the picture, beaten three-quarters of a length for the fourth-place piece of the purse.

Midafternoon, a speed demon owned by Mrs. Edward Robbins of New York, flashed the distance in 1:35 flat over a lightning-fast strip for the fastest mile seen hereabouts in many a moon. It equalled the stakes record set in 1930 by George D. Widener's Jack High who carried only 110 pounds.

Bill Boland rode Midafternoon, a 4-year-old son of Billings, out of Mideau by Bull Dog. The winner, who finally took over the lead near the finish, carried only 111 pounds. Switch On had 113 and Find 116.

Midafternoon paid $20.60, $9.80 and $6.90. Switch On returned $9.20 and $8.80. Find was $4.10 to show. Nashua went off as the 13-20 favorite.

The crowd bet $536,190 on the feature and $262,906 was spread across the board on Nashua. In the win pool of $378,737, the Nashua backers contributed $193,667.

15 Homers Rapped As Cubs, Braves Divide Doubleheader

CHICAGO (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves and Chicago Cubs set a new major league record of 15 home runs in two games as they divided a doubleheader before 29,113 Wednesday.

There were nine homers, five by the Braves, as the Cubs captured the opener, 10-9. Milwaukee hammered four of six homers in the second game to give the Braves an 11-9 triumph.

The old mark of 14 homers by two teams in a doubleheader was set May 22, 1930, by the New York Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics. The Yankees got nine of this total.

Bobby Thomson hit four of the Milwaukee total, getting two in each game.

The Braves tagged Chicago pitcher Russ Meyer for three straight homers in the first inning of the opener.

Eddie Mathews, Hank Aaron, and Thomson hit the homers and when Meyer's second pitch hit the protective cap of Billy Bruton, the sixth Milwaukee batter, the affair boiled over into a Donnybrook.

Bruton charged Meyer with bat in hand, but was grounded by Manager Charlie Grimm's flying tackle. After a melee on the ground, both Meyer and Bruton were banished. Meyer had a cut on his neck, and Bruton a bruise on his face.

In the second game, Chicago had a 4-2 lead against Ray Crone, the eventual winner, when the Braves exploded for four runs in the sixth and added five more in the seventh to chase Cub starter Warren Hacker with his fifth consecutive loss.

Flying Car Wheels Kill Race Spectator

HANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Flying wheels which broke loose from two hardtop racing cars killed Arlan D. Smith, a 24-year-old Las Vegas mechanic, and broke the leg of a spectator during a 500-lap jalopy race.

Smith was hit by a front wheel that whirled off a car and into the pits. He died of a brain concussion. The spectator was struck by a front wheel off another car.

Improving Orioles Dump Boston Red Sox To 4th

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Boston Red Sox were knocked from third to fourth place in the American League Wednesday by the improving Baltimore Orioles who beat them twice 2-1 and 5-4, by scoring the winning run each time in the ninth inning with two outs.

Both games ended on the same script note with singles over the head of shortstop Billy Klaus bringing the Orioles victories before a delighted crowd of 33,791.

Besides displacing Boston from third place, the Orioles moved to within half a game of the Red Sox with a chance to gain the first division by beating them again today.

Bob Hale delivered the winning punch single in the second game to score Bill Gardner who got on base on an infield hit to Klaus. Gardner worked around to third on a sacrifice and infield out.

Errors, three by Boston and one by Baltimore, played a big part in the scoring before that. The Orioles scored four runs to go ahead 4-3 in the sixth on two miscues, a single by George Kell and a double by Gus Triandos.

The Red Sox tied the score in the eighth when Gardner let a double play ball go through his legs.

Des Moines Win Two

DES MOINES (AP) — Des Moines had a pleasant holiday with Sioux City, winning a Memorial Day doubleheader 9-1 and 3-2.

The nine-inning opening session was the fourth straight victory for unbeaten John Hricinak—a 10-hitter backed by three double plays and no bases on balls.

The seven-inning second game went to Dwight Stoddard, his fourth triumph against one loss. Stoddard pitched a five-hitter in which Soo southpaw Hiram Gaston's wildness brought about his undoing.

Mantle's Long Clouts Aid Yanks' Double Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle, the kid with the golden bat, powered a pair of his preposterous home runs—one just short of becoming the first fair ball ever slugged out of huge Yankee Stadium—as New York padded its American League lead with a 4-3 and 12-5 doubleheader sweep over the Washington Senators.

Mantle's first belt-lacking only 18 inches of finding a clear path out of the stadium — brought the Yanks from behind in the opener. His second, cracking the bleacher seats in right-center, broke up a 3-all tie in the nightcap and gave the Oklahoma strong boy 20 for the season—16 of them in a merry month of May.

The Mick, who had four hits in eight trips, to put his AL-leading batting average at .425, now is 11 games ahead of the pace that led Babe Ruth to his record 60-home run total in 1927.

Nobody ever saw the likes of Mantle's first-game blow in the stadium. Old Yankee hands like coaches Bill Dickey and Frank Crosetti, teammates of Ruth and his partner in power, Lou Gehrig, agreed they never had seen a ball travel farther.

The ball bounced against the facade above the third deck in right field—just 11½ feet to the right of the open area between the grandstand and the bleachers. The roof is 118 feet from the playing field and the facade is set back 25 feet from the base of the stands. That put the ball 370 feet from the plate and 117 feet high when it smashed the fancywork.

Mantle's big left-handed swing came with two on base on a 2-2 pitch from Pedro Ramos, who until then had a 1-0 lead.

Redlegs Grab Second With Double Win

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Cincinnati's potent Redlegs moved past the St. Louis Cardinals in the hectic National League race Wednesday with a doubleheader sweep, 6-3 on Ray Jablonski's three-run homer and 6-5 on a six-run outburst in the third inning of the rain-shortened second game.

Jablonski's homer was the lift Johnny Klippstein needed to get his fourth victory on a solid eight-hitter. Loser Murry Dickson was saved from further embarrassment by a rapid-fire, sixth-inning triple play started by Wally Moon's shoe-top catch of Jablonski's liner.

A heavy downpour halted play in the eighth inning of the second game with the Reds ahead 7-5 and the Cardinals batting with one out. A double steal worked by Roy McMillan and pitcher Joe Black in the eighth was washed from the books.

Improving Orioles Dump Boston Red Sox To 4th

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Boston Red Sox were knocked from third to fourth place in the American League Wednesday by the improving Baltimore Orioles who beat them twice 2-1 and 5-4, by scoring the winning run each time in the ninth inning with two outs.

Both games ended on the same script note with singles over the head of shortstop Billy Klaus bringing the Orioles victories before a delighted crowd of 33,791.

Besides displacing Boston from third place, the Orioles moved to within half a game of the Red Sox with a chance to gain the first division by beating them again today.

Bob Hale delivered the winning punch single in the second game to score Bill Gardner who got on base on an infield hit to Klaus. Gardner worked around to third on a sacrifice and infield out.

Errors, three by Boston and one by Baltimore, played a big part in the scoring before that. The Orioles scored four runs to go ahead 4-3 in the sixth on two miscues, a single by George Kell and a double by Gus Triandos.

The Red Sox tied the score in the eighth when Gardner let a double play ball go through his legs.

Des Moines Win Two

DES MOINES (AP) — Des Moines had a pleasant holiday with Sioux City, winning a Memorial Day doubleheader 9-1 and 3-2.

The nine-inning opening session was the fourth straight victory for unbeaten John Hricinak—a 10-hitter backed by three double plays and no bases on balls.

The seven-inning second game went to Dwight Stoddard, his fourth triumph against one loss. Stoddard pitched a five-hitter in which Soo southpaw Hiram Gaston's wildness brought about his undoing.

Mantle's Long Clouts Aid Yanks' Double Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle, the kid with the golden bat, powered a pair of his preposterous home runs—one just short of becoming the first fair ball ever slugged out of huge Yankee Stadium—as New York padded its American League lead with a 4-3 and 12-5 doubleheader sweep over the Washington Senators.

Mantle's first belt-lacking only 18 inches of finding a clear path out of the stadium — brought the Yanks from behind in the opener. His second, cracking the bleacher seats in right-center, broke up a 3-all tie in the nightcap and gave the Oklahoma strong boy 20 for the season—16 of them in a merry month of May.

The Mick, who had four hits in eight trips, to put his AL-leading batting average at .425, now is 11 games ahead of the pace that led Babe Ruth to his record 60-home run total in 1927.

Nobody ever saw the likes of Mantle's first-game blow in the stadium. Old Yankee hands like coaches Bill Dickey and Frank Crosetti, teammates of Ruth and his partner in power, Lou Gehrig, agreed they never had seen a ball travel farther.

The ball bounced against the facade above the third deck in right field—just 1½ feet to the right of the open area between the grandstand and the bleachers. The roof is 118 feet from the playing field and the facade is set back 25 feet from the base of the stands. That put the ball 370 feet from the plate and 117 feet high when it smashed the fancywork.

Mantle's big left-handed swing came with two on base on a 2-2 pitch from Pedro Ramos, who until then had a 1-0 lead.

Redlegs Grab Second With Double Win

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Cincinnati's potent Redlegs moved past the St. Louis Cardinals in the hectic National League race Wednesday with a doubleheader sweep, 6-3 on Ray Jablonski's three-run homer and 6-5 on a six-run outburst in the third inning of the rain-shortened second game.

Jablonski's homer was the lift Johnny Klippstein needed to get his fourth victory on a solid eight-hitter. Loser Murry Dickson was saved from further embarrassment by a rapid-fire, sixth-inning triple play started by Wally Moon's shoe-top catch of Jablonski's liner.

A heavy downpour halted play in the eighth inning of the second game with the Reds ahead 7-5 and the Cardinals batting with one out. A double steal worked by Roy McMillan and pitcher Joe Black in the eighth was washed from the books.

Only U.S. Golfer Left In Tourney

TROON, Scotland (AP) — Texan Joe Conrad squeezed his wa yinto the quarter-finals in defense of his British Open golf championship Wednesday after teetering on the brink of yawning disaster. He was the only American to get into the last eight.

Three of his countrymen—Gene Andrews, Peter Grand and Gene Eyler—got through the morning's fourth round in spanking style and then went down to British opponents in the afternoon fifth round. It was a rather surprising feat for all three to get that far.

Even "Smokey Joe," the grinning Texas carrot-top from San Antonio, needed a champion's luck to gain a one-up decision over Scotland's dour and steady Alan Hall. After disposing of John Mill, 6 and 5 in the morning, Conrad got the benefit of a fluky but winning shot on the decisive 17th hole of the fifth-round match.

From here on, each match will be played over 36 holes instead of 18 on Troon's 6,583-yard length. Conrad, tough as a Texas tumbleweed, should be a difficult man for anyone to take over that distance.

The nervous unraveling of play Wednesday determined at least one thing—there will be a Scot in the final for the first time since 1939. Six were left as the field was narrowed to the last eight.

England, like America, has only one golfer to carry on. He is John Beharrell, who just became 18 and who is considered England's brightest golf prospect.

It was Beharrell, playing with the savvy of one twice his years, who eliminated 42-year-old Andrews this afternoon, 2 and 1. Andrews, 1954 American public links champion from Pacific Palisades, Calif., gave the English lad a hard fight but couldn't pull out the decision even by shooting level fours.

"The boy chipped stiff at least five times," Andrews said. "It must have been wonderful to watch if you weren't playing against him."

Earlier Wednesday, in the fourth round, Andrews had eliminated Phil Scrutton, one of England's finest amateurs, 1-up. Grant, a joyous vacationing driver-in restaurant owner from Phoenix, Ariz., had beaten England's Michael Burgess, also 1-up. And Eyler, an Air Force lieutenant from Olean, N. Y., who is playing here because he's stationed in Britain, pulled out a victory over Hugh Squirrell of Wales on the 19th hole.

This afternoon Eyler ran into the West of Scotland champion, Herbert Thomson, in his native territory and was beaten 3 and 1. Grant, who said he "played some shots like Ben Hogan and others like a 15-handicapper" in his morning victory, yielded to George Henderson, another Scot, 4 and 3.

Tigers Whip Athletics Twice, 5-1, 11-3

KANSAS CICTY (AP)—Al Kaline and Frank House hit home runs to crush the Kansas City Athletics Wednesday 5-1 and give the Detroit Tigers victory in both games of a morning-and-afternoon doubleheader. The Tigers trounced the A's 11-3 in the first game behind Paul Foytack's 6-hit pitching.

Kaline's homer, his sixth, came in the eighth with Earl Torgeson on base, spoiling Art Ditmar's shutout and overcoming the Athletics' 1-0 lead. Harry Simpson had put Kansas City ahead with his second home run of the day in the seventh.

The pitching victory went to Virgil Trucks on a 3-hitter, and evened his record at 1-1. Ditmar suffered his fourth loss against as many victories.

For the second straight season, third-sacker Don Brown of Omaha has set the batting pace for University of Nebraska baseballers.

BROWN

Brown Leads NU Hitters; .446 Average

For the second straight season, third-sacker Don Brown of Omaha has set the batting pace for University of Nebraska baseballers.

BROWN

Brown closed out the regular season with a record of 37 hits in 83 times at bat for a .446 average. The hard hitting senior scored 17 runs and batted in 19 runs during the season.

Seven other Huskers hit better than .300.

Whether the Husker season is over or not won't be known until Oklahoma plays Missouri at Columbia, Mo., Thursday.

If Oklahoma wins, the Sooners take the Big Seven title. If Missouri wins, Oklahoma and Nebraska are tied for the crown and a flip of the coin will determine the team representing the Big Seven in the NCAA playoffs at Bradley University in Galesburg, Ill.

Nebraska already has cinched second place in the loop.

Final batting averages of other Huskers include Rex Ekwall .353, Norman Coufal .338, Larry Lewis .333, Milan Shaw .333, Gary Reimers .333, Willie Greenlaw .311, Al Karle .303, Gene Torczon .294, Dick Geier .278, Roger Bottorff .250, Roger Long .235, Marv Arensdorf .214, Jim Kane .214, Don Erway .156, John Beideck .122, and Charles Ziegenbein .067.

Won-lost records and earned run averages of the Husker pitchers include Greenlaw, 5-4 and 3.27; Geier, 3-2 and 3.60; Torczon, 1-0 and 3.86; Bottorff, 1-1 and 5.93; Ziegenbein, 2-1 and 6.18, and Bruce Fairchild, 0-0 and 8.10.

Fire Control

PORTALES, N.M. (AP) — R. F. Callis, Portales, was filling his tank truck from an 18,000 gallon supply tank at a wholesale depot. A metal lid fell and struck a spark. Flames burst from the gasoline flowing into the truck. Callis jumped to a valve and cut off the flow. Then he climbed into the cab of the flaming truck and drove it a safe distance from the loading dock, jumped out and summoned firemen. They snuffed out the blaze which officials said could have been a major fire. Callis was warm but unhurt.

Bike Parking Problem

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Bicycles, not automobiles, have provided the University of Michigan with a mammoth parking problem. A survey shows the two-wheelers are the most popular form of campus transportation. But students are grumbling because only 1,050 parking spaces are provided on the campus for more than 4,000 bikes.

Bike Parking Problem

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Bicycles, not automobiles, have provided the University of Michigan with a mammoth parking problem. A survey shows the two-wheelers are the most popular form of campus transportation. But students are grumbling because only 1,050 parking spaces are provided on the campus for more than 4,000 bikes.

Presbyterian Assembly Firmly Pushes For Desegregation

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The 168th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. Wednesday took a firm, far-reaching stand on the issue of desegregation.

Adopting a report of its Committee on Social Education and Action at the concluding session of an annual seven-day meeting, the Assembly called on employers, school officials, homeowners and politicians to work toward total elimination of segregation in this country.

The committee report pointed out that few, if any, Americans are untouched by the problem.

"Nowhere in our land," the report said, "can Negroes, and to a lesser extent other minority persons, escape with indignity of segregation or discrimination in one form or another." And the committee added that even those who feel they have no problem because of a lack of outward crisis "may have an especially difficult problem."

In the field of housing, the Assembly recommended specifically that Christians preparing to sell their homes keep uppermost in their minds "the need of minority families for equal housing opportunities and adequate housing, and make their houses available to all qualified purchasers regardless of race."

In business and industry, the Assembly recommended that employers take all necessary steps to "break the pattern of discrimination in employment."

And in politics, all Christians were called upon to "work for the removal of the poll tax and other restrictions which prevent many American citizens from exercising their legal rights at the polls and which affront the dignity of man."

Other Resolves

In giving the committee's report full approval, the General Assembly also recommended that:

1. The U.S. government continue to initiate negotiations for the elimination of weapons of mass destruction.

2. The government press forward its program of economic aid "on a long term basis."

3. Forceful and imaginative action be taken to develop fully nuclear energy for use in the daily life of the nation.

4. Urged an investigation be made of the effect of U.S. hydrogen and atomic bomb tests on the peoples of the Pacific area.

5. Federal aid to education be confined exclusively to tax - supported public schools.

Carl Freeman, 70-year-old Lincolnite who hasn't seen his native Sweden for 52 years, left this week on a two-month vacation to visit relatives in the country of his birth.

Freeman could speak no English when he landed at Boston in 1904 at the age of 18. But he said, "I was so young I didn't realize how hard it was going to be. I just landed and hoped."

After three years in New York, the young man moved to a farm near Hastings. Later he sold farm implements and oil. A resident of Otoe County for twenty years, he moved to Lincoln in 1944.

Freeman will spend his vacation in Sweden with his brother and three sisters.

French Say They Killed 71 Tunisians

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP) — French troops made their first big strike Wednesday in the desert region of southern Tunisia—key route for smuggling arms to Algerian rebels. The French claimed they killed 71 Tunisian guerrillas.

Military dispatches claimed the French force trudging over the Tatahouine Desert area captured 17 Tunisian rebels and many weapons as it battled forward near the Libyan frontier, reputedly the source of the arms traffic. French casualties were put at 3 dead, including an officer, and 14 wounded.

The Tatahouine operation in the extreme southern pocket of Tunisia appeared to be part of the overall French plan to seal off the Algerian nationalists from sympathizers in Tunisia and Morocco.

French officials said the Tunisian guerrillas in the region had rebelled against the authority of the Tunisian government which recently was accorded virtual independence by France.

Talkative TV Commentator Is Speechless

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Talkative television commentator Tom Duggan was left speechless Wednesday when his wife found him hiding in another woman's apartment and "accidentally" fired two bullets into the door.

The wife, Ann Goss—Duggan's true name—was doing little talking either because she was hauled off to jail despite her protests that her gun went off accidentally.

Police gave this version of the incident. Mrs. Goss said her husband stalked out of their West Los Angeles home Wednesday after a family argument.

When she cooled down, Mrs. Goss said, she went searching for him and found his car parked in front of the partment house of Judy Jones, a telephone operator on Duggan's television show.

Frontal Assault

Armed with a hammer and a .38-caliber pistol, Mrs. Goss tried a frontal assault on the apartment. She tried unsuccessfully to batter down the door with the hammer, and when that failed, her pistol went off "accidentally."

Both bullets struck the lock on the door squarely.

About this time, apartment house manager Harry Torrey complained about the noise, and Mrs. Goss fled from the house and called police.

When the officers arrived, Torrey opened the apartment door. There was Duggan hiding sheepishly behind another door in the place. Miss Jones was absent.

Police charged Mrs. Goss with assault with a deadly weapon, although Duggan insisted that he would refuse to sign a complaint against her.

Pope Suffers Slight Voice Weakening

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII, suffered a slight weakening of his voice, underwent a general medical and cardiograph examination Wednesday night.

Doctors said they found no physical disturbances, nor any infection of the pontiff's throat. The Pope has been tired by a heavy work load in May.

Vatican sources said doctors reported the examination "confirmed that there was no reason for preoccupation" over the Pope's condition.

Tiredness

The slight lowering or weakening of the Pope's voice was caused only by a general tiredness after the heavy burden of his work this month, the doctors said.

Vatican sources said the doctors expressed the belief a few days of lightened work would rest the 80-year-old pontiff and allow his voice to return to normal.

His audiences Thursday will be restricted to a regular Thursday morning meeting with Msgr. Angelo Dell'Acqua, his prosecretary of state.

Some Vatican sources said the pontiff had felt the sudden onset of midsummer heat in Rome after a prolonged, unusually severe winter. The pontiff also was said to be disappointed with election results in Rome where Communists and Socialists won 29 of the City Council's 80 seats, largest number they ever held.

West Germans Charge 117,500 Dead Or Missing In Red Camps Since '45

BONN, Germany (AP) — The West German government charged Wednesday that 117,500 East Germans have died or disappeared in Communist concentration camps and jails since 1945.

There are 18,900 others still behind bars for opposing Communist rule, Federal Minister Jakob Kaiser told Parliament.

The arrests for "political offenses" go on, he said, despite the Soviet peace offensive and pledges by East German leaders to safeguard the rights of citizens.

In the last two years, however, 13,428 political prisoners have been released although only 1,145 won their freedom this year, he added.

Kaiser, whose ministry for all German affairs deals exclusively with East German conditions unfolded these statistics to members of the Bundestag.

70,000 East German political prisoners dead in Soviet-style concentration camps or jails since 1945. Of these, 1,000 were youths under 18.

47,500 arrested during this period have disappeared. Their names are known to West German authorities.

Total sentences of 25 years handed out to 55 East Germans since July, 1955.

Kaiser himself a refugee from East Germany, spoke at the start of a special all day debate on conditions in the Soviet part of Germany. The debate was sponsored by all political parties as West Germany's answer to the "new course" proclaimed by East German Reds at their March party Congress.

There party leaders assailed unjustified arrests" and ordered the Justice Ministry to safeguard the rights of citizens."

In an 80 minute recital of 10 years of Communist rule for the 18 million East Germans Kaiser warned against accepting Communists' promises of real reforms there. He said:

The key figure of the pitiless Stalinism on German soil—namely Ulbricht—now as before has the fate of East Germany in his hand. Until now nothing has changed there. Hilde Benjamin has just called for "party justice." That is incompatible with the most primitive necessities of a state of law.

Walter Ulbricht, a favorite of Stalin's, rules East Germany as deputy premier and Communist party boss. Justice Minister Hilde Benjamin is called "Red Hilde" for the severe penalties, including the guillotine, handed down by her courts for "crimes against the state."

Kaiser said East German political prisoners often live under the same wretched conditions as criminals since Nov. 1, 1955, they have not been permitted to receive (food) packages. Their physical condition is worse than that of German war prisoners who returned from the Soviet Union last year after 10 years or more of captivity."

His ministry is considered well-informed on East German conditions. It interrogates thousands of refugees who flee to the West each week. It is understood to finance East German underground groups that feed regular reports to Bonn.

Mario Lanza Is Sued For Alleged Damage To Home

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The widow of a silent screen star has submitted before-and-after photographs in court to support her $40,461 suit against singer Mario Lanza for allegedly damaging her home.

Actress Kay English, widow of silent screen star Norman Kerry, is suing the temperamental tenor on the ground that he and his family damaged her $200,000 Beverly Hills home "beyond ordinary wear and tear" during the 28 months they leased it.

In showing the pictures in Superior Court, Miss English charged that the Lanza's damage to the home included liquor stains on rugs and furniture, cigarette burns, broken furniture and harm to the patio, terrace barbecue and lily pond.

She also argued that silver and glassware was missing from the house.

The Lanzas rented the place for $1250 a month.

TWINING ACCEPTS BID TO MOSCOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — By personal decision of President Eisenhower, the nation's top air general will make an extraordinary journey to Russia to attend the Soviet's Aviation Day celebration June 24.

Gen. Twining

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, accepted the Soviet invitation Wednesday. Several other Air Force officers will accompany Twining on this rare high level visit, during which they will catch at least some glimpses of part of Russia's military might.

In directing Twining to accept Eisenhower apparently overruled a military recommendation that the United States should hold off while trying to get the invitation broadened to include other members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and a look at other Soviet forces in addition to the air force. Administration officials have been angling for such a wider invitation but so far in vain.

It was learned that a message from Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen in Moscow, dispatched here over last weekend, helped to bring the discussion over the Soviet invitation to a head. The Bohlen message made clear that the United States was confronted with a firm invitation to send an Air Force delegation to Moscow and left little ground for belief that the Russians would be inclined to broaden the bid.

Walnut Creek SCS Plans Call For Landowner Roles

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — The schedule of conservation practices for the Nebraska section of the Walnut creek watershed has been determined by soil conservation specialists and calls for landowner participation only.

The program does not contemplate a request for federal funds other than already available through soil conservation service program and the agricultural conservation payments setup.

The Nebraska segment will be integrated with an over-all plan for the entire Walnut creek watershed, of which approximately 120 square miles lies in Brown County, Kan. Walnut creek empties into the Nemaha River southeast of Falls City.

The Nebraska land treatment will include 131 miles of terraces; 24 miles of grassed waterways; 16 grade control dams; 14,300 feet of drainage ditches and a mile of diversions. Some of the work already has been completed by landowners and operators. Over 11 miles of terraces and four miles of grassed outlets now are on the land and about 12,600 feet of drainage ditches have been built, according to Cecil Reafs, SCS work unit conservationist here.

Adlai Holds Alabama Edge

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) —Adlai Stevenson retained a slim one-vote majority of the Alabama delegation to the Democratic National Convention as tabulations of the state party runoff primary neared completion.

Twenty-seven of 52 delegates already named or leading in the runoff have expressed a leaning toward the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate. Each member of the delegation will have one-half vote.

Preferences of other candidates were scattered.

The Alabama delegation will go to the party convention in Chicago officially unpledged, however so delegates could change their minds by convention time.

Twenty of the 41 delegates chosen in the first primary May 1 favored Stevenson. Seven of the leaders in runoff races for 11 convention seats said they were for him.

BOSTON (AP) — A spokesman for Indian Health Minister Rajkumari (princess) Amrit Kaur quoted Red China Premier Chou En Lai as expressing "high regard" for President Eisenhower as a "force for peace."

Miss Edith Wall, Princess Amrit's traveling companion, said Chou made the comment to the princess in the form of a "factual statement" in October, 1955, while Eisenhower was recovering from a heart attack.

See Grand Canal

VENICE, Italy (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Truman looked out over Venice's moonlit Grand Canal from the same hotel where their daughter Margaret vacationed last summer.

The Truman party came here from Florence.

Truman told a news conference he wanted to see the things written about in the "history of this great Venetian republic."

STALIN AGAIN IS TARGET

. . . Of Moscow Attack

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP) — A leading Moscow historical magazine unleased Wednesday a double-barreled attack on Stalin.

It assailed as untrue, important prerevolutionary roles previously attributed to the dead Soviet leader, and accused him of advocating Communist cooperation with middle class revolutionaries before the Red revolution was finally accomplished.

The magazine Questions of History printed two articles.

One said that contrary to published accounts Stalin was not the leader of an underground Communist movement in the Caucasus under the czars. It said it was not true that Stalin led a strike in the oil city of Baku in 1905, and declared he had nothing to do with a secret revolutionary printing plant in Tiflis.

Cherished Items

These have been three of the most cherished items in the story of Stalin's life as printed here.

In another article, the magazine said Stalin ran against the policy of Lenin and followed a policy of cooperation with middle class revolutionaries during the time between the overthrow of the Czar and triumph of the Red revolution.

Kamenev was executed for treason and counterrevolutionary activities in 1936.

The Moscow magazine charged further that in order to maintain a policy of cooperation with middle-class revolutionaries, Stalin ousted V. M. Molotov as editor of the underground journal Pravda and Stalin personally took over the reins in order to pursue it. Molotov is now foreign minister.

MARKET HOLIDAY

The nation's financial and commodity exchanges were closed Wednesday in observance of Memorial Day.

Invalid Woman Hurt In Crash

A 50 year-old woman, almost completely paralyzed for many years, was injured in a two-car collision at 9th and South Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Delia Porter of 1720 M received lacerations and contusions while riding in a car driven by her husband, George. He was not injured.

Mrs. Porter was treated at St. Elizabeth's Hospital for cuts on her right hand, mouth, right leg and right arm.

The Porter auto was in collision with one driven by Sandra C. Sillasen, 18, of 1245 E. Miss Sillasen and the other two occupants of her car were not injured.

Police said the collision occurred when the Sillasen car headed north on 9th started across South. The Porter car was moving west on South.

Miss Sillasen was given a ticket for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Adlai Backed

ATLANTA (AP)—Gov. Marvin Griffin indicated that Georgia's 32 votes in the Democratic National Convention will be cast for Adlai Stevenson of Illinois on the first ballot.

Griffin, who is favorable toward the former governor of Illinois, declined to say flatly what the delegation would do. But he told a news conference "I am satisfied the Georgia delegation will not vote for Gov. Averell Harriman or Sen. Estes Kefauver."

The Georgia delegation is uninstructed and will vote as a unit.

Higher Flood Levels Pose Coast Threat

PORTLAND, Ore. (INS)—Warnings of higher flood levels to come in the Columbia River from northern Idaho to its lower reaches in Oregon and Washington were sounded Wednesday by river forecasters.

While the river was far above flood level it was still well under the crest of 1948's Memorial Day peak when the Columbia broke through dikes at Portland and washed out the defense housing city of Vanport, causing 13 deaths.

Elmer Fisher, Weather Bureau forecaster for the lower Columbia system, said the Willamette River at Portland will reach the 25 foot mark Monday while the Columbia is expected to climb to 25.4 feet at Vancouver Wash., 10.4 feet above normal flood stage and 4.5 feet below the disatrous 1948 flood peak.

Temperatures ranging between 80 and 90 degrees in the Canadian headwaters of the Columbia and in northern Idaho tributary snow fields prompted Fisher to revise his flood crest upward a half foot. The rise on the lower Columbia will get underway Saturday.

The Corps of Engineers at Bonners Ferry, Idaho, where dikes remained under heavy pressure said melting snow is expected to keep the Kootenia River at a dangerous level indefinitely. The Weather Bureau there reported the snowpack was melting fast under the above normal heat.

Tallahassee Bus Boycott Now Citywide

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (INS) — City officials declined Wednesday to prosecute two Negro coeds for insisting on seats toward the front of a bus, but a boycott launched in protest over their arrest spread throughout Tallahassee.

Students at Florida A & M University began boycotting buses through the campus Monday. Leaders of the Tallahassee Negro community met and issued a call for a city-wide Negro protest.

Twenty-one private automobiles worked from 12 cents, answering more than 200 calls from Tallahassee Negroes joining in the bus boycott movement. Leaders say only half as many Negroes were riding city buses in the Florida capital city.

A similar boycott has continued in Montgomery, Ala., for more than six months. The Montgomery protest began with the arrest of a Negro woman who refused to move to the rear of a bus but has since broadened into a protest against segregated seating.

Tallahassee Negro community leaders, backed by an official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, made three demands upon city and bus lines officials. They asked for the right to be seated on a first-come, first-served basis. For more courteous treatment by bus drivers, and for assignment of Negro bus drivers on runs where passengers are predominantly Negro.

The city decided not to prosecute the two coeds—Wilhemina Jakes, 26, and Carrie Patterson, 20, charged with placing themselves in a position to incite a riot.

Police Chief Frank Stoutamire said the cases were turned over to university officials for action, in the same manner as other minor police cases against students of the all-white Florida State College at Tallahassee.

Laborer Tells Cops Of '53 Clark Slaying

CHICAGO (AP) — An itinerant laborer from West Virginia was held for questioning Wednesday after he walked into a police station and related he killed Mrs. Juliet Staunton Clark, 59, wealthy owner of the Charleston, W. V., Daily Mail Aug. 22, 1953.

Police quoted Erwin Shipley, 31, Nitro, W. Va., as saying he bludgeoned the woman to death with a hammer at her home in an exclusive residential district in Charleston.

"I want to get this thing off my mind," police quoted him as saying.

Shipley was taken to Cook County Psychopathic Hospital. Police said he will be held for questioning by Charleston police.

No Weapon

Shipley, a laborer, said he had been in Chicago a week.

Police never have established the exact nature of the death weapon.

Charleston police notified Chicago police they had been seeking a man and that some information related by Shipley corresponded with known facts of the slaying.

In the house when Mrs. Clark was slain was her grandson, Arch J. Alexander III, 2, sleeping in a nearby room. A maid and houseman found her fully clothed body face down on a rug the next morning.

Shipley was held without charge.

Modest Alimony

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A Moslem court awarded ex-Queen Narriman $300 monthly alimony from her estranged husband Dr. Adham el Nakib of Alexandria. But the attorney for the onetime wife of deposed King Farouk of Egypt complained it was "not enough for the expenses of an ex-Queen" and said he will appeal. Narriman filed a suit in January asking for unspecified alimony to continue medical treatment in Lebanon.

Foreign Aid Bill Facing New Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Bow (R-Ohio) served notice he will push for an amendment to the foreign aid bill aimed at freeing GIs overseas from foreign judicial control.

Bow's proposal last year won tentative House approval by a 3-1 margin but later was shelved. Its revival posed a fresh hurdle for President Eisenhower's foreign aid program slated for House action next week.

In its strongest form, the amendment would bar U.S. aid to any country which exercises criminal jurisdiction over American troops there—as many now do.

Split Decision

The Foreign Affairs Committee already has voted to chop $1,109,000,000 off Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 foreign aid request. But in a split decision in closed session, it turned down Bow's proposal as an amendment to the bill.

With administration backing, the committee said the amendment had no place in the foreign aid program and might lead to the loss of strategic U.S. bases abroad.

Bow told a newsman he plans a House speech telling why he will seek to amend the foreign aid bill when it comes to the floor on June 6 or 7.

"I think the committee has gone completely wrong," he said. "I don't mean it as an attack on the mutual security program as such or on military operations."

55 Junior Leaders Will Attend 2-Day 4-H Session Here

Junior leaders of 4-H clubs from 11 counties will be in Lincoln June 1 and 2, for their district conference.

State 4-H Club Leader W. M. Antes explains that junior leaders are older 4-H club members whose project is to help leaders in local club programs.

The conference, on the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture campus, is one of eight being held around the state. About 55 junior leaders are expected to attend from the following counties: Seward, Saline, Jefferson, Gage, Lancaster, Cass, Otoe, Johnson, Pawnee, Richardson and Nemaha.

The district Timely Topic Speaking contest will open the meeting. Winners of the contest will compete in the state contest, June 5, during 4-H Club Week at Lincoln.

Most of the two-day conference will be devoted to special interest groups. These groups will include: developing interesting club meetings, developing an interesting recreation program, helping other club members, planning demonstrations, records and awards, and plaining the club program.

Antes says these sessions are designed to give junior leaders help in the club activities they are most likely to be doing.

A highlight of the meeting will be a talk by Dr. Kenneth Cannon, associate professor of family relations and child development at the University of Nebraska. His topic will be "Understanding Ourselves and Others."

Pilger Dedicates Swimming Pool

PILGER, Neb. (AP) — A $30,000 swimming pool, donated by Omaha Cattle Feeder Bob C. Cooper, was dedicated here Wednesday.

More than 500 persons attended the ceremonies. And more than 250 children were splashing around in the pool within 30 minutes of opening time.

Cooper is a former resident of Pilger and is a major stockholder in the local bank. The bank donated food for a community picnic.

Don Cunningham, secretary of the Sioux City livestock exchange and a former auctioneer in this area, accepted the pool on behalf of the town of Pilger.

TWINING ACCEPTS BID TO MOSCOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — By personal decision of President Eisenhower, the nation's top air general will make an extraordinary journey to Russia to attend the Soviet's Aviation Day celebration June 24.

Gen. Twining

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, accepted the Soviet invitation Wednesday. Several other Air Force officers will accompany Twining on this rare high level visit, during which they will catch at least some glimpses of part of Russia's military might.

In directing Twining to accept Eisenhower apparently overruled a military recommendation that the United States should hold off while trying to get the invitation broadened to include other members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and a look at other Soviet forces in addition to the air force. Administration officials have been angling for such a wider invitation but so far in vain.

It was learned that a message from Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen in Moscow, dispatched here over last weekend, helped to bring the discussion over the Soviet invitation to a head. The Bohlen message made clear that the United States was confronted with a firm invitation to send an Air Force delegation to Moscow and left little ground for belief that the Russians would be inclined to broaden the bid.

Walnut Creek SCS Plans Call For Landowner Roles

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — The schedule of conservation practices for the Nebraska section of the Walnut creek watershed has been determined by soil conservation specialists and calls for landowner participation only.

The program does not contemplate a request for federal funds other than already available through soil conservation service program and the agricultural conservation payments setup.

The Nebraska segment will be integrated with an over-all plan for the entire Walnut creek watershed, of which approximately 120 square miles lies in Brown County, Kan. Walnut creek empties into the Nemaha River southeast of Falls City.

The Nebraska land treatment will include 131 miles of terraces; 24 miles of grassed waterways; 16 grade control dams; 14,300 feet of drainage ditches and a mile of diversions. Some of the work already has been completed by landowners and operators. Over 11 miles of terraces and four miles of grassed outlets now are on the land and about 12,600 feet of drainage ditches have been built, according to Cecil Reafs, SCS work unit conservationist here.

Adlai Holds Alabama Edge

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) —Adlai Stevenson retained a slim one-vote majority of the Alabama delegation to the Democratic National Convention as tabulations of the state party runoff primary neared completion.

Twenty-seven of 52 delegates already named or leading in the runoff have expressed a leaning toward the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate. Each member of the delegation will have one-half vote.

Preferences of other candidates were scattered.

The Alabama delegation will go to the party convention in Chicago officially unpledged, however, so delegates could change their minds by convention time.

Twenty of the 41 delegates chosen in the first primary May 1 favored Stevenson. Seven of the leaders in runoff races for 11 convention seats said they were for him.

STALIN AGAIN IS TARGET

. . . Of Moscow Attack

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP) — A leading Moscow historical magazine unleased Wednesday a double-barreled attack on Stalin.

It assailed as untrue important prerevolutionary roles previously attributed to the dead Soviet leader, and accused him of advocating Communist cooperation with middle class revolutionaries before the Red revolution was finally accomplished.

The magazine Questions of History printed two articles.

One said that contrary to published accounts Stalin was not the leader of an underground Communist movement in the Caucasus under the czars. It said it was not true that Stalin led a strike in the oil city of Baku in 1905, and declared he had nothing to do with a secret revolutionary printing plant in Tiflis.

Cherished Items

These have been three of the most cherished items in the story of Stalin's life as printed here.

In another article, the magazine said Stalin ran against the policy of Lenin and followed a policy of cooperation with middle class revolutionaries during the time between the overthrow of the Czar and triumph of the Red revolution.

The magazine said Stalin supported Lev Kamanev, who urged such cooperation.

Kamenev was executed for treason and counterrevolutionary activities in 1936.

The Moscow magazine charged further that in order to maintain a policy of cooperation with middle-class revolutionaries, Stalin ousted V. M. Molotov as editor of the underground journal Pravda and Stalin personally took over the reins in order to pursue it. Molotov is now foreign minister.

MARKET HOLIDAY

The nation's financial and commodity exchanges were closed Wednesday in observance of Memorial Day.

Invalid Woman Hurt In Crash

A 50-year-old woman, almost completely paralyzed for many years, was injured in a two-car collision at 9th and South Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Delia Porter of 1720 M received lacerations and contusions while riding in a car driven by her husband, George. He was not injured.

Mrs. Porter was treated at St. Elizabeth's Hospital for cuts on her right hand, mouth, right leg and right arm.

The Porter auto was in collision with one driven by Sandra C. Sillasen, 18, of 1245 E. Miss Sillasen and the other two occupants of her car were not injured.

Police said the collision occurred when the Sillasen car, headed north on 9th, started across South. The Porter car was moving west on South.

Miss Sillasen was given a ticket for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Adlai Backed

ATLANTA (AP)—Gov. Marvin Griffin indicated that Georgia's 32 votes in the Democratic National Convention will be cast for Adlai Stevenson of Illinois on the first ballot.

Griffin, who is favorable toward the former governor of Illinois, declined to say flatly what the delegation would do. But he told a news conference "I am satisfied the Georgia delegation will not vote for Gov. Averell Harriman or Sen. Estes Kefauver."

The Georgia delegation is uninstructed and will vote as a unit.

Higher Flood Levels Pose Coast Threat

PORTLAND, Ore. (INS)—Warnings of higher flood levels to come in the Columbia River from northern Idaho to its lower reaches in Oregon and Washington were sounded Wednesday by river forecasters.

While the river was far above flood level, it was still well under the crest of 1948's Memorial Day peak when the Columbia broke through dikes at Portland and washed out the defense housing city of Vanport, causing 13 deaths.

Elmer Fisher, Weather Bureau forecaster for the lower Columbia system, said the Willamette River at Portland will reach the 25-foot mark Monday while the Columbia is expected to climb to 25.4 feet at Vancouver, Wash., 10.4 feet above normal flood stage and 4.5 feet below the disatrous 1948 flood peak.

Temperatures ranging between 80 and 90 degrees in the Canadian headwaters of the Columbia and in northern Idaho tributary snowfields prompted Fisher to revise his flood crest upward a half-foot. The rise on the lower Columbia will get underway Saturday.

The Corps of Engineers at Bonners Ferry, Idaho, where dikes remained under heavy pressure said melting snow is expected to keep the Kootenia River at a dangerous level indefinitely. The Weather Bureau there reported the snowpack was melting fast under the above normal heat.

Tallahassee Bus Boycott Now Citywide

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (INS) — City officials declined Wednesday to prosecute two Negro coeds for insisting on seats toward the front of a bus, but a boycott launched in protest over their arrest spread throughout Tallahassee.

Students at Florida A & M University began boycotting buses through the campus Monday. Leaders of the Tallahassee Negro community met and issued a call for a city-wide Negro protest.

Twenty-one private automobiles worked from 12 cents, answering more than 200 calls from Tallahassee Negroes joining in the bus boycott movement. Leaders say only half as many Negroes were riding city buses in the Florida capital city.

A similar boycott has continued in Montgomery, Ala., for more than six months. The Montgomery protest began with the arrest of a Negro woman who refused to move to the rear of a bus but has since broadened into a protest against segregated seating.

Tallahassee Negro community leaders, backed by an official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, made three demands upon city and bus lines officials. They asked for the right to be seated on a first-come, first-served basis. For more courteous treatment by bus drivers, and for assignment of Negro bus drivers on runs where passengers are predominantly Negro.

The city decided not to prosecute the two coeds—Wilhemina Jakes, 26, and Carrie Patterson, 20, charged with placing themselves in a position to incite a riot.

Police Chief Frank Stoutamire said the cases were turned over to university officials for action, in the same manner as other minor police cases against students of the all-white Florida State College at Tallahassee.

Laborer Tells Cops Of '53 Clark Slaying

CHICAGO (AP) — An itinerant laborer from West Virginia was held for questioning Wednesday after he walked into a police station and related he killed Mrs. Juliet Staunton Clark, 59, wealthy owner of the Charleston, W. V., Daily Mail Aug. 22, 1953.

Police quoted Erwin Shipley, 31, Nitro, W. Va., as saying he bludgeoned the woman to death with a hammer at her home in an exclusive residential district in Charleston.

"I want to get this thing off my mind," police quoted him as saying.

Shipley was taken to Cook County Psychopathic Hospital. Police said he will be held for questioning by Charleston police.

No Weapon

Shipley, a laborer, said he had been in Chicago a week.

Police never have established the exact nature of the death weapon.

Charleston police notified Chicago police they had been seeking a man and that some information related by Shipley corresponded with known facts of the slaying.

In the house when Mrs. Clark was slain was her grandson, Arch J. Alexander III, 2, sleeping in a nearby room. A maid and houseman found her fully clothed body face down on a rug the next morning.

Shipley was held without charge.

Modest Alimony

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A Moslem court awarded ex-Queen Narriman $300 monthly alimony from her estranged husband Dr. Adham el Nakib of Alexandria. But the attorney for the onetime wife of deposed King Farouk of Egypt complained it was "not enough for the expenses of an ex-Queen" and said he will appeal. Narriman filed a suit in January asking for unspecified alimony to continue medical treatment in Lebanon.

Vacation Reading Club Sets Start Date At June 4

The Lincoln City Libraries will offer its Vacation Reading Club activities beginning June 4th.

Jointly sponsored by the Lincoln Council of PTA, the Nebraska Public Library Commission and the Nebraska State Historical Society, the program for young readers will continue through Aug. 11th and members may earn certificates by reading 10 books.

Efficiency credits will be given to certificate holders who will attend, or have been attending Irving or Everett Junior High Schools.

Books may be obtained at the main library, any of the seven branches or from the bookmobile, loaned by the Nebraska Public Library Commission. The bookmobile will stop at Meadow Lane School, Belmont Community Center, Hayward School, Southwest Community Center, Merle Beattie School, Cooper Park and Willard School.

Foreign Aid Bill Facing New Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Bow (R-Ohio) served notice he will push for an amendment to the foreign aid bill aimed at freeing GIs overseas from foreign judicial control.

Bow's proposal last year won tentative House approval by a 3-1 margin but later was shelved. Its revival posed a fresh hurdle for President Eisenhower's foreign aid program slated for House action next week.

In its strongest form, the amendment would bar U.S. aid to any country which exercises criminal jurisdiction over American troops there—as many now do.

Split Decision

The Foreign Affairs Committee already has voted to chop $1,109,000,000 off Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 foreign aid request. But in a split decision in closed session, it turned down Bow's proposal as an amendment to the bill.

With administration backing, the committee said the amendment had no place in the foreign aid program and might lead to the loss of strategic U.S. bases abroad.

Bow told a newsman he plans a House speech telling why he will seek to amend the foreign aid bill when it comes to the floor on June 6-7.

"I think the committee has gone completely wrong," he said. "I don't mean it as an attack on the mutual security program as such or on military operations."

55 Junior Leaders Will Attend 2-Day 4-H Session Here

Junior leaders of 4-H clubs from 11 counties will be in Lincoln June 1 and 2, for their district conference.

State 4-H Club Leader W. M. Antes explaine that junior leaders are older 4-H club members whose project is to help leaders in local club programs.

The conference, on the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture campus, is one of eight being held around the state. About 55 junior leaders are expected to attend from the following counties: Seward, Saline, Jefferson, Gage, Lancaster, Cass, Otoe, Johnson, Pawnee, Richardson and Nemaha.

The district Timely Topic Speaking contest will open the meeting. Winners of the contest will compete in the state contest, June 5, during 4-H Club Week at Lincoln.

Most of the two-day conference will be devoted to special interest groups. These groups will include: developing interesting club meetings, developing an interesting recreation program, helping other club members, planning demonstrations, records and awards, and plaining the club program.

Antes says these sessions are designed to give junior leaders help in the club activities they are most likely to be doing.

A highlight of the meeting will be a talk by Dr. Kenneth Cannon, associate professor of family relations and child development at the University of Nebraska. His topic will be "Understanding Ourselves and Others."

Pilger Dedicates Swimming Pool

PILGER, Neb. (AP) — A $30,000 swimming pool, donated by Omaha Cattle Feeder Bob C. Cooper, was dedicated here Wednesday.

More than 500 persons attended the ceremonies. And more than 250 children were splashing around in the pool within 30 minutes of opening time.

Cooper is a former resident of Pilger and is a major stockholder in the local bank. The bank donated food for a community picnic.

Don Cunningham, secretary of the Sioux City livestock exchange and a former auctioneer in this area, accepted the pool on behalf of the town of Pilger.

Dag Warns U.S., Reds Against Using Economic Aid As A Weapon

MONTREAL (INS)—U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold urged Wednesday night that economic and technical assistance to underdeveloped countries be channeled through the United Nations rather than on a bilateral basis.

At the same time Hammarskjold in effect warned the U. S. and Russia against using economic aid as a weapon in the cold war.

The globe-trotting U. N. chief, who took advantage of the U. S. Memorial Day holiday to fly to Montreal to receive an honorary degree from McGill University, said that competition between states regarding aid in the long run would be disadvantageous to donating countries.

Hammarskjold said that while bilateral aid gave the assisting country the "advantage to fly its flag," it was a disadvantage when the assistance "leads to a competition with other countries that only too easily takes on strong political overtones."

Hammarskjold stressed that bilateral aid "puts a strain on the relationship between the giving and receiving countries." He added:

"We should not forget that it may be more difficult to live on the dole than to pay it. Few friendships survive a long drawn-out economic dependency of one upon the other.

"Gratitude is a good link only when it can be given and received without an overtone of humiliation."

Hammarskjold pointed out that in U.N. assistance on the other hand all members share responsibility for the aid programs. He added that bilateral and multilateral aid programs should not be "permitted to compete."

The U.N. chief praised the work done by the Colombo plan and the U.S. Point Four program.

He declared that these programs were "pioneer work deserving of the highest praise" which had also "laid the foundation on which all further efforts must build

The secretary general, who visited Asia and the Middle East last winter, warned that poverty in underdeveloped countries as contrasted to the wealth of the industrial nations could lead to serious international unrest.

Hammarskjold supported the suggestion of Canada's Foreign Minister Lester Pearson that the U.N. create an international professional and technical civil service of experts to work in the Asian and African underdeveloped nations.

He also backed the proposal of French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau for the establishment of a special U.N. agency for world economic development.

Great Problems

Hammarskjold pointed out that one of the great problems facing the new nations of the world is the lack of trained personnel. He said that Pearson's plan would allow for international civil servants to go into the underdeveloped countries and help carry out development programs.

He said that the greatest contribution industrial countries could make would be to "put at the disposal of the less developed countries their own human resources."

He declared too much attention was devoted to giving capital for economic development to the poorer countries when what was really needed was "skills."

Hammarskjold added. "Fundamentally, man is the key to our problems, not money."

Rhonda Fleming Files For Divorce

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — Rhonda Fleming Wednesday filed for divorce from Dr. Lewis V. Morhill.

She charged incompatability. Her attorney, Luis Garcia Rojas, said a settlement has been reached and the property will be equally divided. The divorce is not contested.

Morrill, a Beverly Hills, Calif., physician, married the red-haired actress at Kenab, Utah, in 1952.

Judge Ignacio Martinez Aguayo said the divorce probably would be granted by Thursday.

Over Falls

Sheriff James Benham identified him as Melvin Hulbert, 32

Benham said Hulbert fell off the skies about a quarter of a mile above the falls and was quickly sucked away by the river, now in full flow.

Boy, Struck With .45 Bullet, Said 'Holding His Own'

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) —A nine-year old boy, struck at point-blank range with a .45 caliber bullet, was reported holding his own at Memorial Hospital but his condition remained critical.

The boy is Michael O'Connell, son of Air Force Capt. and Mrs. Harold J. O'Connell.

He was felled when he walked into the line of fire of a pistol held by his brother, Stephen, 7, police reported.

Locke Is Speaker At Holiday Dinner For Roca Residents

Nearly fifty past and present residents of the Roca community celebrated homecoming on Memorial Day with a dinner and program at the Roca Methodist Church.

Walter Locke, editor of the Dayton (Ohio) Daily News for 25 years and former associate editor of the Lincoln Journal, was the principal speaker.

He recalled boyhood incidents and recounted the achievements of his schoolmates.

Dr. Lester Little, former principal of the village school and now a resident of Teaneck, N.J.; Mrs. O. B. Benson of Fairburn, Ohio; Mrs. Mabel Boger of Burlington, Colo.; Roy Harrop of Omaha; Mrs. Creta W. Filley of Lincoln; Charlie Keel and George Chiles, both of Roca, gave reminiscences of early years.

Mrs. Earl Swiggart led community singing and Miss Joan Hinze sang a solo.

PRESIDENT LEADS PRAYER FOR PEACE

By The Associated Press

President Eisenhower Wednesday led the nation in prayers for enduring peace as Americans around the world paid solemn tribute to those who fought and died for the country's freedom.

Memorial Day observances took many forms — parades, church services, cemetery ceremonies.

President Eisenhower flew back to Washington from his Gettysburg, Pa., farm and went to St. John's Episcopal Church for his prayers.

Man Leads Cops In Wild 95-MPH Manhattan Race

FORT. LEE, N. J. (AP) — A mentally disturbed Baltimorean in a cream-colored expensive automobile panhandled $2 from a hotel guest Wednesday, then he was arrested, escaped from a police station and raced 11 miles through Manhattan and New Jersey before police caught him again.

Joseph Fisher, 38, gave a state trooper this explanation for the wild ride:

"I wanted to get out of New York and then in again."

Fisher nearly made it.

He got out of New York in a mad 95-mile-an hour drive through holiday - deserted Manhattan streets, from an E. 51st St. police station across town and through the Lincoln Tunnel under the Hudson River.

Fell Behind

Then he barrelled along New Jersey highways at the same pace, as one after another police car fell behind his powerful 1956 car.

He was just about to get back into New York via the George Washington Bridge when police forced him to the side and stopped him.

Fisher's car was riddled with 14 police bullets, but he was grinning and unhurt.

Along the way he had sideswiped two cars, passed through three toll booths without stopping and narrowly missed running down five policemen on foot.

Fisher came to the attention of a policeman when the doorman of the swank Sherry - Netherland Hotel in New York City told the cop the driver of the double parked cream - colored car had bummed $2 from someone leaving the hotel.

The policeman found Fisher triple parked in front of the Hotel Pierre nearby, and told him to move on. When Fisher failed to do so, the policeman asked for his car registration and found it had expired 15 days ago.

Taken to the police station, Fisher surrendered his car keys but later dashed out and jumped into the car, using an extra set of keys to start the mad dash to New Jersey.

Police said Fisher, a jobber for his father in the clothing business, said he had been discharged from a mental hospital in Baltimore two weeks ago.

He was taken to a New Jersey hospital under heavy guard for observation.

Port Aurthority police filed charges of atrocious assault and battery by auto, leaving the scene of an accident, and reckless driving against Fisher.

Dag Warns U.S., Reds Against Using Economic Aid As A Weapon

MONTREAL (INS)—U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold urged Wednesday night that economic and technical assistance to underdeveloped countries be channeled through the United Nations rather than on a bilateral basis.

At the same time Hammarskjold in effect warned the U. S. and Russia against using economic aid as a weapon in the cold war.

The globe-trotting U. N. chief, who took advantage of the U. S. Memorial Day holiday to fly to Montreal to receive an honorary degree from McGill University, said that competition between states regarding aid in the long run would be disadvantageous to donating countries.

Hammarskjold said that while bilateral aid gave the assisting country the "advantage to fly its flag," it was a disadvantage when the assistance "leads to a competition with other countries that only too easily takes on strong political overtones."

Hammarskjold stressed that bilateral aid "puts a strain on the relationship between the giving and receiving countries." He added:

"We should not forget that it may be more difficult to live on the dole than to pay it. Few friendships survive a long drawn-out economic dependency of one upon the other.

"Gratitude is a good link only when it can be given and received without an overtone of humiliation."

Hammarskjold pointed out that in U.N. assistance on the other hand all members share responsibility for the aid programs. He added that bilateral and multilateral aid programs should not be "permitted to compete."

The U.N. chief praised the work done by the Colombo plan and the U.S. Point Four program.

He declared that these programs were "pioneer work deserving of the highest praise" which had also "laid the foundation on which all further efforts must build."

The secretary general, who visited Asia and the Middle East last winter, warned that poverty in underdeveloped countries as contrasted to the wealth of the industrial nations could lead to serious international unrest.

Hammarskjold supported the suggestion of Canada's Foreign Minister Lester Pearson that the U.N. create an international professional and technical civil service of experts to work in the Asian and African underdeveloped nations.

He also backed the proposal of French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau for the establishment of a special U.N. agency for world economic development.

Great Problems

Hammarskjold pointed out that one of the great problems facing the new nations of the world is the lack of trained personnel. He said that Pearson's plan would allow for international civil servants to go into the underdeveloped countries and help carry out development programs.

He said that the greatest contribution industrial countries could make would be to "put at the disposal of the less developed countries their own human resources."

He declared too much attention was devoted to giving capital for economic development to the poorer countries when what was really needed was "skills."

Hammarskjold added: "Fundamentally, man is the key to our problems, not money."

Rhonda Fleming Files For Divorce

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — Rhonda Fleming Wednesday filed for divorce from Dr. Lewis V. Morhill.

She charged incompatability. Her attorney, Luis Garcia Rojas, said a settlement has been reached and the property will be equally divided. The divorce is not contested.

Morrill, a Beverly Hills, Calif., physician, married the red-haired actress at Kenab, Utah, in 1952.

Judge Ignacio Martinez Aguayo said the divorce probably would be granted by Thursday.

Over Falls

TWIN FALLS, Idaho (AP) — A Boise man lost his balance while water skiing above Shoshone Falls and plunged to his death over the roaring 212-foot cataract of the Snake River.

Sheriff James Benham identified him as Melvin Hulbert, 32.

Benham said Hulbert fell off the skies about a quarter of a mile above the falls and was quickly sucked away by the river, now in full flow.

Boy, Struck With .45 Bullet, Said 'Holding His Own'

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) —A nine-year old boy, struck at point-blank range with a .45 caliber bullet, was reported holding his own at Memorial Hospital but his condition remained critical.

The boy is Michael O'Connell, son of Air Force Capt. and Mrs. Harold J. O'Connell.

He was felled when he walked into the line of fire of a pistol held by his brother, Stephen, 7, police reported.

Locke Is Speaker At Holiday Dinner For Roca Residents

Nearly fifty past and present residents of the Roca community celebrated homecoming on Memorial Day with a dinner and program at the Roca Methodist Church.

Walter Locke, editor of the Dayton (Ohio) Daily News for 25 years and former associate editor of the Lincoln Journal, was the principal speaker.

He recalled boyhood incidents and recounted the achievements of his schoolmates.

Dr. Lester Little, former principal of the village school and now a resident of Teaneck, N.J.; Mrs. O. B. Benson of Fairburn, Ohio; Mrs. Mabel Boger of Burlington, Colo.; Roy Harrop of Omaha; Mrs. Creta W. Filley of Lincoln; Charlie Keel and George Chiles, both of Roca, gave reminiscences of early years.

Mrs. Earl Swiggart led community singing and Miss Joan Hinze sang a solo.

PRESIDENT LEADS PRAYER FOR PEACE

By The Associated Press

President Eisenhower Wednesday led the nation in prayers for enduring peace as Americans around the world paid solemn tribute to those who fought and died for the country's freedom.

Memorial Day observances took many forms — parades, church services, cemetery ceremonies.

President Eisenhower flew back to Washington from his Gettysburg, Pa., farm and went to St. John's Episcopal Church for his prayers.

Man Leads Cops In Wild 95-MPH Manhattan Race

FORT LEE, N. J. (AP) — A mentally disturbed Baltimorean in a cream-colored expensive automobile panhandled $2 from a hotel guest Wednesday, then he was arrested, escaped from a police station and raced 11 miles through Manhattan and New Jersey before police caught him again.

Joseph Fisher, 38, gave a state trooper this explanation for the wild ride:

"I wanted to get out of New York and then in again."

Fisher nearly made it.

He got out of New York in a mad 95-mile-an hour drive through holiday - deserted Manhattan streets, from an E. 51st St. police station across town and through the Lincoln Tunnel under the Hudson River.

Fell Behind

Then he barrelled along New Jersey highways at the same pace, as one after another police car fell behind his powerful 1956 car.

He was just about to get back into New York via the George Washington Bridge when police forced him to the side and stopped him.

Fisher's car was riddled with 14 police bullets, but he was grinning and unhurt.

Along the way he had sideswiped two cars, passed through three toll booths without stopping and narrowly missed running down five policemen on foot.

Fisher came to the attention of a policeman when the doorman of the swank Sherry - Netherland Hotel in New York City told the cop the driver of the double parked cream - colored car had bummed $2 from someone leaving the hotel.

The policeman found Fisher triple parked in front of the Hotel Pierre nearby, and told him to move on. When Fisher failed to do so, the policeman asked for his car registration and found it had expired 15 days ago.

Taken to the police station, Fisher surrendered his car keys but later dashed out and jumped into the car, using an extra set of keys to start the mad dash to New Jersey.

Police said Fisher, a jobber for his father in the clothing business, said he had been discharged from a mental hospital in Baltimore two weeks ago.

He was taken to a New Jersey hospital under heavy guard for observation.

Port Aurthority police filed charges of atrocious assault and battery by auto, leaving the scene of an accident, and reckless driving against Fisher.
